MAHANOV CITY, Dec. 14.—Two girls ranging from 14 to 16 years of age, and named Patterson and Shoemaker, while crossing the mountain on their way home to New Roston yesterday afternoon, were startled by the sudden appearance on their path of a man who carried a revolver in his hands. The girls screamed and ran, making their escape through the bushes at the sides of the path. They say the man was a Pole and behaved in a manner that indicated an assault. Several men went to the place, but failed to find the

The Chief of Police entered John Matnella's saloon and made an investigation. A follow giving the name of Harry E. Doyle, of Shenandoah, arrived in town and entered the above saloon, ordered a drink and then refused to pay for the same. The fellow then cried for police protection and related how he had been beaten and relieved of $1.85 in cash and a large revolver. After hearing both sides of the story, Officer Gallagher decided to put all connected with the affair under arrest. Before he could secure a warrant, however, Doyle learning that his name was to be placed upon the document, made for his drink. Here Doyle drew a large revolver and threatened to use the same. He was set upon and badly used up, after which he was followed by a shower of beer glasses. He was ejected into the middle of
