Wild Scramble for Positions at Harrisburg Commenced.

HARMISBURG, Dec. 22,-The scramble for Booty places in the Legislature is almost entirely ost sight of because of the interest taken in the Senatorial contest. The success taken in the Senatorial contest. The success of many of the applicants depends to a great extent upon who will win in the Sonstorial fight and the position assumed by the applicants in regard to the Senatorial succession. After the holidays we may expect a large influx of these applicants, with their little booms in their inside pockets. The Senate Slate Committee was selected by the Republican caucus at the close of last session, and will make the appointments for the coming term. The positions in the House will be dished out by a Slate Com-muttee to be appointed by the chairman of the Republican House caucus on the night preceding the opening of the sension. Reppresentative Marshall, of Allegheny, will probably preside over the Honse caucus. He is a friend of Senatur Quay, and is being quistly pushed by the "Old Man's" lieutenants for Auditor General Larry T. Eyre, of West Chester, will be sergeant-at-arms of the Senste, while the same position in the Honse will likely be filled by Robert P. Pomeroy, a Lawrence county farmer, with ex-Representative Wyatt, of Schuyikill, as assistant. The latter's friends, however, hope to land him in the position of sergeant at arms and feel confident of success.

confident of ancess. Jers B. Rex. of Huntingdon, will be chief elerk, and A. D. Fetterolf, of Collegeville, resident clerk of the House. It is settled that Henry K. Royer, of Philadelphia, will be speaker, and Harry Huhn, also of Philadelphia, will come back as speaker's clerk. George R. Pyne, of Harrisburg, will be settled as this user.

chers. George R. Fyne, of Harrisburg, will be retained as chief page. Rev. F. W. Staley, pastor of the Lutheran church at Middletown, and an old soldier, will be chaplain of the Senate. Rev. W. H. Sangree, of Harrisburg, will do the praying for the House

There will be little transpiring in political circles here until after the holidays, when the Legislature is convened.

some time while making his collections by two men who evidently intended to attack and rob him should a favorable opportunity present itself. He first noticed them in a whom it he kine that sloon in the First ward, near the P. & R. depot, and saw them watch him while he was in s saloon at the corner of Catherine and Coal streets. They continued on his tracks to the corner of Coul and Main streets and evidently finding that he was not dis-posed to travel dark or unfrequented places, gave up the trail at Main and Lloyd streets, where one went east and the other west. Once are him and he furnishes a description of them, so that they will be marked for the future. It is said that toughs from the neighboring patch have been making a practice of hounding collectors during the weeks following the recent pay day, but thus far there is no report of attacks. Mr. Haak's discourse however, should not during the discovery, however, should put collectors on their guard.

These goods were where it pays best to huy scale valued at $70. These goods were brought to town and a correspondence showed that the baking powder had been shipped to "Bernard Wagner," Danville, Pa., by the Woolson Spice Co., and the scale had been shipped to "J. A. Harring" of Girardville, by the manufacturers at Dayton, Ohio, sauthing Patrick Stack, the motormain. While the woods have been althought to the engage in business in Danville. He defrauded quite a number of creditors. It appears that "Wagner" had executions issued on his store, the goods were sold and "Wagner" skipped with the proceeda." A letter from Dayton, Ohio, says: "We never resovered the price of the computing machine and lest all trace of it and the party who bonght it." Farmer Landig is not held secountable in connection with the case, as it is quite evident that he allowed his barn to be used as a place of storage entirely in good business
