A Groundless Scare.
Four miles drawing a wagon full of powder kegs ran away on Monday morning, but the runaways were fore any damage was done. Many red silent prayers of thanksgiving, supposed the powder kegs were a collision or wreck, would have looked for. Collisions will not, side black powder. Some time ran away at Mt. Carmel and the blasting kegs filled with black filled with a large tree, but no explosion.

MAHANOY CITY.

MAHANOY CITY, Dec. 24.—"Tim" Hurst, of Ashland, was a guest of town friends yesterday and entertained them with a flow of bicycle news. Hurst is interested in the syndicate that managed the recent bicycle race in New York city and the same syndicate is arranging to hold a series of similar races in several cities of the country. The first will be held in Wilkesbarre, the home of Rice, who won second money in the New York race, some time in January.

Mrs. Dennis Cummings died this morning at her home in St. Nicholas from general debility. She was 72 years of age and is survived by four sons, John, of this place, Thomas and Dennis, of St. Nicholas, and George Jr., a clerk in the Philadelphia post office. Mrs. Cummings had been a resident of Mahanoy township for over thirty years. The funeral will take place at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning. Interment at Beaver Meadow.

Prof. McCann, of Williams' Business College, yesterday received from his pupils a Christmas gift in the form of a paper weight and an ink stand made of authentic coal.

The employees of the Vulcan and Buck Mountain collieries received their wages today for the first half of December.

J. T. Canfield, W. J. Rowser, and J. F. O'Malley, of Shenandoah, were visitors to town last evening.

Adam Zelinski, a miner employed at the Mahanoy City colliery, received painful injuries of the back and head yesterday by a fall of top coal.

Robert Turner, Chief of Police of Butte City, Montana, is spending the Christmas holidays in town as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Alex. Steiner.

An esteddfod will be held in Kaler's opera house to-morrow, under the auspices of the Welsh Baptist church.

Joseph Kellar and John Busch won three turkeys at the Locust Valley target shooting contest yesterday.

When the remains of Joseph Becker were taken to the P. & B. depot yesterday transportation was denied them on the ground that death was due to typhoid pneumonia and a hermetically sealed casket had not been provided. The remains were sent to Barnesville by hearse and the cortage went by train.
