BUSINESS MEN IN POLITICS

Some Terse Comment From Presidential Elector William M. Taggart.

William M. Taggart, of Philadelphia, one of the McKinley presidential electors in the into campaign, thus speaks of the Wanamaker boom in Taggarts' Times:

If any intelligent citizen of Philadelphia is in doubt as to the side upon which his sympathies ought to be enlisted in this onaberial fight, let him take a look over the field and make a note of the elements which constitute the opposing forces. And, in the first place, let him give his at-tention to the forces which are fighting under the gohlen standard of Wana-

We built with there is the so called "Business Men's Langus" This is an or-gentization of main, some of whom seem to think they see a change to put money in their predicts by cultivating Wanamaker's friendship and promoting the attainment of bia autiation. It is an aggregation of juniousies, of committee and of appetites. paromotes, or enumers and or appendes: A few days ago, under the lash of Senator Quay's criticism, it gave out an unsigned communication, in which was made the helated explanation that by "business near" was meant farmers, clorks, artisans, Inborers-everybody. That be blowed for a tale! This "leagu That by blowed for a table! This "leagne" is just what everyons understands it to be, a combination of capitalists in the inter-est of one of their number, and, incident-ally-not too incidentally-of themselves. It watchword is "Business men in poli-tics," but Golf help the Philadelphia tax-payor if the particular business men who are engineering this movement subcond in cetting and more inter indices or in outgetting any more into pollites or in get-ting any more out of polities than at pres-DB

Business men in politics, indeed! On, yes, to be sure and how about the stinking, eve destroying water gas of which the city is buying nearly a millions dollars' worth a year from the United Gas Imrovement (7) company? How about the nearly $800,000 which wa are paying annually to the electric light trust and 50 per cant of which is probably profit

What of the street car franchises which have been freely given away, and out of have usen inserv given away, and out of which "Dustross near in politics" have become multi-millionaires? And the au-tomatic telephone matter, and the filtra-tion project, and the water supply scheme with its eminently respectable backers, and the gas works sale? For all these blossings, accomplished or attempted, we have to thank the influence of the "busi-men in politics." Who are now bursting heir buttons trying to boost Wanny into the senate?

Wanamaker himself, the illustrious superintendent of the Bothany Sunday school, who preaches sermons about the impossibility of contemporateously serv-ing God and Mammon, is as weall know, a plous man, while his senatorial boom in its entirety presents an impressive assemblage-Tom Dolan, Chris Magee and Rudy

Blankenburg. Every feature, however, is included in Every feature, however, is included in this great three ring caravan of business, polities and religion, and there is a place upon the program for what is left of the Philadelphia and Plutsburg, combines, Dave Martin is in it, not as chipper as he used to be, nothing like as confident, but in other respects the same old Dave; and isn't be just hoping and hungering for the recenters and constitutings which Wana. revenges and opportunities which Wana-maker's election would-possibly-afford? We don't profess to be able to explain just how it happens that a movement of such a superline character as this. Wanamaker been, with so much religion in it, and such a large amount of unadulterated business, is mixed up with the fortunes of that particular faction which the people most distrust and which successive defeats have almost destroyed, but so it is, and those who like to answer conundrums and convincing speaker, and a fearless, apright man. It is true that he has no bar'l. His supporters have no corruption fund where-with to debauch the legislative virtue, but we believe he can be elected without it. It would be a dishonor to Pennsyl-vania to think otherwise. Could Wanamaker?

Bearings on the New Tariff Bill.

Hearings on the WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Formal work on the new rariff bill will be begun by the ways and means committee this afternoon when the first of the series of sittings which are to extend over twelve days, will be held. Judged by the amount of correspondence which has come to the committee on the subject there is more wide-spread interest in the forthcoming bill than has attached to any other revision of the tariff, and the number of business men who desire to appear before the committee is unusually great. The commit-tee will avoid repetitions by asking every delegation to select a spokesman to present

Chicago Bank Goes Into Liquidation. CHICAGO, Dec. 28 -It is announced that the Atlas bank will go into liquidation and rative from business. The action is not considered as a failure in any sense and as the bank's business was comparitively a small one, it is not anticipated that any flurry in the banking circles of Chicago will result. This bank has been for some time gradually reducing its indebtedness and its habilities, which a few months ago was about $2,800,000, are now but $1,550,000 and are amply covered by good assets.

PARIS, Dec. 28 - General John Meredith

Read died yesterday morning. Mr. Read, diplomatist, was born in Philadelphia on Feb. 21, 1837. He was a graduate of Brown and the Albany law school, studied international law in Europe, was admitted to the bar in Philadelphia, and afterward was adjutant general of New York. He was first United States consul general for France and Algeria in 1860-73 and 1870-72, and acting consul general during the Franco-German war. After the war he was appointed by General de Cossey, minister of war, to form and preside over a commission to examine into the desirability of teaching the English language to the French troops. In November, 1873, he was appointed United States minister resident in Greece, resigning in 1879. He was knighted by King George of Greece in 1881. He was the author of several historie works. "Excuse me," observed the man in spec isoles, "but I am a surgeon, and that is not where the liver is," "Never you mind where his liver is," reterted the other. "If it was in his big toe or his left ear DeWitt's Little Farly Risers would reach it and shake it for him. On that you can bet your gig-lamps." C. H. Hagenbuch.

OYSTER DREDGERS' HARDSHIPS. Dr. Miles' Nervine Triumphs.

Serious Charges Made by Three Men Who Escaped from Them,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 38.—Three young men, giving their names as Andrew Law-son, Henry Ropkee and Henry Rice, and their residences as Philadelphia, applied as the Alexandria, Va., station house for lodging last alght. They were cyster drodgers, and their appearance showed they have a station being and the station house for that they had suffered terrible hardships. One of them said that on Oct. 19 five young men from Philadelphia shipped as dredgers on the oyster vessel Escort, Cap-tain Alfred Summers, of Onancock, Va., and on Oct. 21 sailed down the Chesapeake for the oystor beds.

The men had scanty rations and hard work. Ropkes was the first to get and was, it is said, cruelly treated Harry Hayden, the mate of the vessel, un-til nearly dead. Ropkes showed a hole in his side which he said was caused by kicks. The five who shipped from Philadelphia managed to steal away from the dredger last Wednosday near Monroe creek, and walked to Frederickshurg, Va., where two of the five were obliged to remain on ac-count of their physical condition. Those who arrived last night are badly frozen.

They say Andrew Mundee, a dredger on another vessel commanded by Captain John Summers, a brother of the captain of the Escort, was knocked down and of the Escort, was knocked down and beaten and afterward thrown overboard and drowned.

Despondent Banker's Suicide.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.-Suffering from depression caused by financial reverses, Otto Wasmansdorff, a well known banker of this city, yesterday fired a bullet into his brain and died almost instantly. Wasmansdorff was a member of the Mr private banking firm of Wasmansdorff & Heinnemann, which failed a week ago as a result of the failure of the National Bank of Illinois. The failure of his bank had a crushing effect upon Mr. Wasmansdorff and also seriously affected his wife, who is ill. At the time of the failure the assets of Mr. Wasmansdorff's bank were given at $550,000, and the liabilities at $415,000. Mr. Wasmansdorff has been a banker in this city for more than a quarter of a century. He was about 55 years old.
