K. OF P. BANQUET.

Installation of Officers Followed by an Appropriate Celebration.

The members of General Harrison Lodge No. 231, Knights of Pythias, last night supplemented the installation of its newly elected officers by celebrating the opening of its new lodge room in the Old Fellows' new building on White street, and large increase in the membership of the lodge during the past six months.

After the second and third degrees had been conferred District Deputy Grand Chancellor Thomas H. Roberts, of Tanawka, took charge of the lodge and, after appointing its officers for the purpose, proceeded with the installation of the following officers: Chancellor, Charles H. Sampson; Master-at-Arms, W. J. Watkins; Prelate, Z. S. Robbins; Master of Work, George H. B. Truitt; P. P. D. Kirlin; Outer Guard, Oscar Goho; Inner Guard, D. Brooks Kneily.

Upon the close of the ceremony and the regular business of the lodge the members proceeded in a body to the Ferguson House and partook of an excellent banquet. Every seat at the long table elegantly spread in the dining room of the hotel was occupied and the excellence of the following menu was fully attested by the hearty manner in which the courses were disposed of:

- BLUE POINTS. Olives. Chow-chow. WAFERS. Green Turtle. Hollandaise Sauce. St. Julien. Potatoes au Gratin. Ham. Champagne Sauce. Tongue au Gratin. Roast Ribs of Beef. Brown Potatoes. Spring Lamb. Mince Sauce. Turkey, Cranberry Sauce. Roast Duck. Currant. Jelly. Mashed Potatoes, Tomatoes, Corn. Asparagus Tips. Stewed Onions. New Wax Beans. Sweet Potatoes. FRENCH PEAS. Deviled Crabs.

Roman Mince. Raspberry Jelly. Chicken Salad. Hollandaise Sauce. English Plum Pudding. Brandy Sauce. Vanilla Ice Cream. Chocolate Ice Cream. Neapolitan Blanc Mince. Coconut Cake. Chocolate Cake. Bananas. Oranges. Apples. Grapes. Raisins. Assorted Nuts. Neufchatel. Swiss. Ham. Cheese. Tea. Coffee. Chocolate.

After doing full justice to the courses the Pythians and their guests, Rev. James Moore, pastor of the Primitive Methodist church, who is a member of Plymouth, Pa. lodge; Rev. Alfred Heebner, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church; H. L. Willeck, member of Hagerstown, Md. lodge, and District Deputy Harrobin, retired to the parlor, where another pleasant hour was spent in interesting and instructive exchanges of views on Pythianism and fraternal organizations generally, the address by Revs. Moore and Heebner evoking special approval.

The members unanimously agreed in the sentiment that the gathering was the most brilliant and effective that has ever been held in the history of the Order in this town and it will undoubtedly lead to frequent similar gatherings of the lodge in the near future. Before separating the lodge tendered a vote of thanks to Rev. James Moore, Heebner for their presence and co-operation in the celebration, and also to Mr. T. H. Hutchison, of the Ferguson House, for the hospitalities he extended.

The banquet was attended by Councilmen R. D. Reese and F. E. Manigie, Revs. Moore and Heebner, Dr. J. G. Church, Thomas Harrobin, J. A. Moyer, H. L. Whitecock, P. P. D. Kirlin, Paul W. Hoock, Al. Special to EVENING HERALD.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 6, 4:30 p. m.—It was nearly two o'clock this afternoon when the court re-convened after recess and proceeded to a trial of the case of Superintendent Bogart.

Clara Vates, the girl who it is alleged Superintendent Bogart assaulted, was the first witness called to the stand by the Commonwealth and on direct examination swore to about the same story as has been published.

The witness has her story well in hand. She is now under cross-examination and her evidence so far, in part, contradictory. The girl makes a poor impression as a witness.

PENROSE IS THE SENATOR

The Young Philadelphian Will Succeed J. Donald Cameron.

SELECTED ON THE FIRST BALLOT

Penrose Received 133 Votes, While Ex-Postmaster General Wanmaker Received 75—Mr. Wanmaker Announces That the Fight Against Senator Quay Will Continue.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6.—The factional Republican contest for the succession to the seat on the United States senate occupied by J. Donald Cameron, which has kept the people of the state in a fever heat for many weeks, was finally settled last night in the joint party caucus of the Republican members of the legislature who chose State Senator, Edson Penrose, of Philadelphia, as the man upon whom the honor shall be bestowed. Of the 218 Republicans in the legislature 211 were present and voting. Of these votes Penrose received 133; ex-Postmaster General John Wanmaker, 75; Senator Cameron, 11; Congressman John B. Robinson, 1; Superior Court Judge Charles E. Rice, of Wilkesbarre, 1. The legislature will ratify Mr. Penrose's selection on Jan. 10.

The plan had been concocted to Philadelphia from the start and the fight was thus narrowed down to Wanmaker and Penrose. The latter received the support of Senator Quay, and his success has great victory for that leader. Mr. Wanmaker was backed by the faction in which David Martin is the leader, assisted by strong organizations of business men in nearly every county. Much bitterness was exhibited on both sides.

The caucus was held in the hall of the house of representatives. Contrary to the usual custom the newspaper representatives and general public were admitted, the result being that the hall was packed to suffocation.

Senator John C. Grady, who afterwards cast the single vote received by Mr. Cameron, was the caucus chairman. He held the floor in administrative debate and was quick to hammer any attempt to interrupt the proceedings. The Wanmaker man conceded their defeat early in the day, and the meeting was therefore robbed of much of its interest to followers of the former postmaster general. But the Penrose shouters were out in great force, and it was difficult for them to repress the joy they felt. The final announcement of Penrose's victory was greeted with a tremendous shout.

Speaker of the House Henry K. Boyer nominated Mr. Penrose in the senate. In his speech he described him as "a young man without stain or reproach, incapable of a mean or dishonest action; the peer of any young man in the country." Continuing Mr. Boyer said: "I believe Edson Penrose will be one of the foremost men of the country. No young man has ever gone to the senate at Washington with a brighter future, or possessing greater fitness and courage for the position." Half a dozen seconding speeches were made.

Senator Cameron, of Lancaster, nominated Mr. Wanmaker, whom he described as a "God fearing, law abiding citizen, a typical Pennsylvania man of the people, a gentleman who has risen from the humblest walks of life to be the greatest postmaster general of the country ever had. A man who stands today as the greatest merchant in the world."

Edson Penrose is one of the youngest men ever chosen to represent Pennsylvania in the United States senate. He will be 37 years old in November. He has been a member of the Pennsylvania senate since 1888, his ability as an orator and parliamentary having made him a leader of that body. Two years ago Mr. Penrose was Mr. Quay's choice for mayor of Philadelphia. David Martin opposed him, and succeeded in electing Quay senator in his contest for the nomination. This fight resulted in the rupture between Messrs. Martin and Quay, and the factional fight has since continued with increasing bitterness. Mr. Penrose graduated from Harvard with distinguished honors. He read law with the late Wayne MacVeach, and has been a lawyer in Philadelphia since 1883.

While the caucus was deciding the senatorship Senator Quay remained at the Penrose headquarters in a hotel near the capitol, awaiting the news of victory, and Mr. Wanmaker, surrounded by a large gathering of Philadelphia business men, at a rival hotel calmly waited for the announcement of his defeat.

Even while the death knell of his senatorial aspirations was being sounded, Mr. Wanmaker was planning to continue the fight against Senator Quay in the state. At a big mass meeting of his supporters Mr. Wanmaker made a speech, in which he declared his intention of carrying the fight against Senator Quay into every county, and to contest with him the right to name the party candidates for state treasurer and auditor general. Senator Quay's term expires in March, 1896, and according to Mr. Wanmaker's friends, the business men will continue their organization with the object of defeating Mr. Quay should he be a candidate for reelection.

The opening of the legislature yesterday was of minor importance, all interest centering in the senatorial contest. Lieutenant Governor Lyon called the senate to order, and Senator McCarrall was chosen president pro tem. The retiring chief clerk, A. D. Fetterolf, called the house to order, and H. K. Boyer, of Philadelphia, was chosen speaker, receiving 169 votes, against 22 votes for M. J. Lottman, the Democratic nominee. Hon. B. H. H. Huntigton, was elected chief clerk, and A. D. Fetterolf, of Montgomery, resident clerk. Both houses held two sessions, and after the regular order of business adjourned until today.

The Lyon-Dunn Contest.

Judge Heiler and Ehrigsd at on the bench in the Lyon-Dunn Orphans' Court contest yesterday, in room No. 4. Court handed down an order affirming its former order permitting the filing of additional bills of particulars. After a short discussion it was decided to adjourn until Tuesday, January 19. This was necessary because Judge Dunn's counsel is engaged in other work this week. The expenses of the Lyon-Dunn judicial contest is evidently creating some alarm on the part of the Judges, and the intimation is given out that the expenses of the contest must be kept down. Judge Heiler is in consultation with other Judges on the subject, and it is likely that a hearing before a full bench may be had to settle the matter.
