Shooting Accident.
The first shooting accident of the season occurred yesterday afternoon on one of the Shenandoah Water Company's dams, the victim being Miss Nora Graham, one of the local corps of night school teachers. She in company with another lady friend repaired to this place of pleasure, and had just made an effort to traverse the dam, when she overbalanced herself and fell with her whole weight upon the right wrist. She immediately went home and Dr. S. C. Spradling was summoned. By this time the wrist had swollen so badly that it was impossible to state whether it had been fractured. Today the swelling was somewhat reduced and it is now believed that it is merely a severe strain of the muscles and ligaments. Miss Graham will be confined to her home for a short period.

Among the many quarrels to one of our prominent livery stables of town are two young men, still in their teens, who are both inclined to love one of our town's fair daughters. During a discussion yesterday between the young men, in which several companions encouraged the conversation to such a height as to make both of them allow fight, they started to pummel one another, much to the delight of the spectators. It wound up without any serious results. Now they don't speak as they pass by.

THE SCHEMERS SMOKED OUT!

The "Herald's" Position Sustained by the Stenographic Report.

PREVARICATING 'NEWS' SCRIBBLER

The Files of Their Own Paper Turned Against Them as Evidence That They Published Testimony of One Side of the Bogart Case Only.

With the indulgence of our readers, we are compelled to refer briefly to the school trouble. The Coal street sheet, in a weak and pitiful effort to cover up its own tracks, accuses the HERALD of publishing garbled reports of the Bogart trial. We deny this statement, and our readers will bear us out in the assertion. We gave the testimony of the witnesses for the prosecution, including Mr. and Mrs. Yates and their daughter, as they appeared in court, and as published in the Herald, and as the trial was held.

This testimony appeared in the HERALD on Thursday and Friday, omitting only that which is deemed by all self-respecting publishers as totally unfit for publication and which no father or mother would desire nor permit to be read to their children. The Coal street sheet, true to its base sensational instincts, is revealing in its own satisfaction. That the public appreciate the course of the HERALD in this respect is fully shown by mutilated copies of the above mentioned sheet lying on the streets and the expressions of condemnation by the people of Shenandoah in general because of this base disregard of the proprieties of journalism.

In our reports of the trial we gave as much, if not more space to the prosecution than to the defense, the correctness of which is clearly shown by the fact that it is corroborated by the stenographic report and that appearing in all the Pitkinburg papers, without a single exception. Whatever may be the outcome of the trial, the HERALD has the satisfaction of knowing that it has treated its readers fair in giving them the facts as testified to before court, without anything to satisfy the taste or desires of others.

We are truly sorry we cannot say as much for the Coal street publication. It is only necessary to select one issue, that of Thursday last, to show that they misrepresented the case and put words in the witnesses' mouths which they never uttered. It is stated that Director Ewing corroborated the testimony of Mr. Bailey, and basely misrepresents the accused when it says that "Mr. Bogart denied that he attended the meeting of the Knoxville School Board" and that "he admitted that he had removed the pin from the 'Coca Cola' bottle which had been in his stockings." Their own witnesses testified that he had attended the meeting, and the stenographer's report shows he denied both these charges. This shows conclusively that the Coal street sheet is guilty of misrepresenting facts, and makes its charges against the HERALD as true as their own sins. They publish the statement of Mr. Bailey that the Board demanded Bogart's resignation, in italics, but leave out the testimony of all the Directors in which they testified that the defendant first suggested his resignation; and their further suggestion that "Vater" proposed to be on the Board and wanted to drop the matter, as he saw it in a different light now." Yet they entirely omit, and the sheet has not yet told its readers that the charge of rape, which it has all along contended was true, was struck out by Judge White for insufficient evidence. If these facts it were to publish, it would indicate Messrs. Price and Beddall, the committee investigating the case, which the paper will avoid if possible.

Our readers can readily see who is garbling the testimony, and further comment is unnecessary to prove this.

The indignation of the good people of Shenandoah over the publication of the above scene testimony, in the sheet on Coal street, knows no bounds. The HERALD anticipated this just condemnation by the fathers and mothers of the community when it decided to obliterate it from its report.

We have no reply to make to the display of scoundrelism and self-conceit of the irresponsible who represents in Shenandoah the Mahanoy City paper. From his wild ravings it is evident that our correspondent of yesterday knew what he was talking about when he stated that the two sheets had entered into a secret compact to attack the HERALD in the first place, and to deny in the second place, the publication of the scene testimony, in the sheet on Coal street. What the American's Shenandoah correspondent may say or think cuts a very small figure in this town; a circulation of less than a half hundred papers is hardly deemed worthy of notice, even if we had conceded to his general pretensions, that he apparently knows no bounds. But the fact that he assumes himself to be attacked may be part of the secret compact these two papers have entered into, in order that the person at whom the HERALD's darts were aimed may be shielded from the just criticism he receives at our hands. No, Mr. American correspondent, when it comes to pay our respects to you, it will not be necessary to draw inferences; you and the public will know it. But, apparently, the shoes fit you, judging from your efforts to wear it.

We refer to further comment on this matter, and would prefer our attention to only to show the inconsistency of certain publications, in that they are guilty of that which they so freely charge others with. We leave the whole matter in the hands of the school authorities and the courts; allowing those who delight in "obscure literature" to go to the dogs, and to be left alone and gloat over the downfall of mankind. The HERALD has a higher motive, and will forever bear the baser instincts of human nature.

Charles Fowler, an employe of the News, called at the HERALD office this morning and requested that we publish an affidavit denying, as asserted by a correspondent in these columns, that he said the News would publish a communication signed "Protestant." We refused publication for the reason that Mr. Fowler's denial is immaterial, as he does not, in his affidavit, deny the material points at issue, namely, that the conversation was held and that the two papers entered into the compact as asserted. We informed him, however, that we would publish a statement from him, enclosed in proper language, and he left with the remark that he would prepare a statement and present it for publication this afternoon. Up to the hour of going to press, we have neither seen nor heard from the gentleman.

THAT BACHFLOR BURNED. "Little Eggs" Testifies Before the New York Police Board.

New York, Jan. 12.—The trial of Police Captain Chapman by the police board was continued yesterday, and "Little Eggs," the Algerian musical dancer, was the star witness. Captain Chapman is charged with exceeding his authority by making a midnight raid Dec. 19 on Sherry's ball room, where Herbert B. Sealey, a grandson of P. T. Barnum, was entertaining a score of friends at a stag dinner with a vaudeville accompaniment, which Chapman claimed was indecent. Captain Chapman subpoenaed all the women who danced at the dinner, and all of the dancers. He began his defense last Friday by calling Anna Belle Whitford, who testified that she had been asked to dance naked at the dinner; that she had refused, and told her father, who notified Chapman.

Lettie Moritimer, a vaudeville performer, repeated an incident stated as offered, to which the Sealey party drank. She also told of the liberties the dancers took with her, and of the indecent or suggestive Christmas presents that Minnie Rowwood, another dancer, distributed to the guests. Miss Rowwood, dressed as Tilly, represented "Santa Claus Up to Date," and to her person was pinned signs not altogether proper. Minnie Rowwood's testimony corroborated Mrs. Moritimer's.

Yesterday Captain Chapman went on the stand and told the story of the raid, narrating how he found eight women and four men in the dressing room, the women "very much undressed." Little Eggs, or Ashee Waba, was engaged in broken language how she was seduced to do a little dance and pose on a podium as an Egyptian slave, wearing a broochlet on her ankles, but otherwise naked. She said she would do so, "for the sake of art." She told how the Sealey guests pined her with wine and lifted her and pinched her limbs. The attorney who questioned her could evidently have brought out a more revolting story, for she was an anger witness.

The trial is not yet ended. The district attorney has stated that he will examine the minutes of the trial, and if the evidence justifies such action he will lay the matter before the grand jury.

SCHANZON, Pa., Jan. 12.—Nine miners were rescued from imprisonment and the perils of an extensive cavern in the Pierce Coal company's mine at Archibald yesterday afternoon. A series of falls and crevices had sent the men hurrying to the surface by way of the main shaft carriage, and it was found that nine were missing. The cavern had shut them off from the foot of the shaft. William A. Jones, an old foreman, volunteered to descend and find the men in that peril to his life. After an hour's absence he brought the missing men to the surface. They were below nine hours. The hair of one of them, a Hungarian, had turned white. The company gave $100 to Jones.

CHEERING NEWS FOR CUBANS!

Their Prospects for Ultimate Victory Growing Brighter.

WEYLER'S FALSE STATEMENTS!

His Report That There Are Only Five Hundred Insurgents in the Province of Pinar del Rio Disproved by Latest Developments.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 12.—According to advices received here from Havana, the government does not allow news of the burning of plantations, etc., to be published, but it is stated on reliable authority that if the government allowed the printing of news in Havana provided the plantations would not be liable to make 10,000 hogsheads of sugar, locally from eight miles out of Havana as far as Matanzas, nearly all the sugar cane has been burned.

General Weyler asserts that there are only 500 insurgents in the province of Pinar del Rio, but the Cubans say that he will shortly repeat having made such a statement. There is no doubt that the insurgents have suffered greatly from sickness and other causes, but it is claimed that should the Spanish commander only partly withdraw his troops from the western part of Pinar del Rio the insurgents will again concentrate in large bodies, having only scattered into small groups for the present in order to escape the overwhelmingly large force sent against them.

Only a few weeks ago the captain-general admitted that there were all 3,000 men under arms against the government in Pinar del Rio. But the troops have certainly not brought back with them from the mountains 3,000 machetes, much less 3,000 rifles and the necessary ammunition. The Cubans claim that all such statements are directed from Madrid for the purpose of influencing congressional action at Washington, and there is good reason to believe that such is the case. By apparently showing the pacification of Pinar del Rio the Spaniards undoubtedly hope to prevent any recognition of the belated victory of the Cuban republic.

As a matter of fact, by the death of Masoa, there seems to be little or no change in the situation when compared with what it was a year ago, unless it is that the Cubans have more confidence, more arms and more ammunition than ever before, and that they are carrying the warfare close to the gates of Havana. Such a state of affairs is likely to continue, from all appearances, until the Spaniards are exhausted financially and compelled to agree to all or nearly all the demands of the Cubans. The latter are growing slow but sure waiting game, and they can afford to do so, for it is apparent to every disinterested spectator of the struggle that the policy must win sooner or later.

A great deal, of course, depends upon the peace process, the progress of which will make during the next few weeks or so. But it is not thought likely that Gomez will risk a pitched battle with the Spaniards when he can probably accomplish the end in view without taking any such risks. However, the Cubans expect military news of importance to come, as it is understood that they have been advised by the New York junta that the moment is opportune for a coup of some kind which will be of importance enough to demonstrate that General Weyler is not stating the exact facts when he says that the province of Pinar del Rio is pacified, and that he is now proceeding to accomplish the pacification of the island of Cuba.

The insurgents have been frequently taunted by the Spaniards, and the fact has been much commented upon in the United States that the Spaniards do not possess a single town of any importance. This is susceptible of an easy explanation. It is almost impossible for forces lacking in artillery to capture fortified towns provided with an abundance of artillery and plenty of ammunition for the same. But now the insurgent leaders have been provided with a few field pieces, which, although they may not be of sufficiently large caliber to be used as siege guns, may shortly be utilized in a manner which will astonish the Spaniards, who have hitherto enjoyed considerable immunity owing to having the monopoly of artillery on the island. During recent months things have been made more equal, and the insurgents are not placed at the same disadvantages that they were twelve months ago.

Smith and White Fight to a Draw.

New York, Jan. 12.—The twenty-five round bout between Solly Smith of Los Angeles and Tommy White of Chicago, which took place at the Bohemian Sporting club here last night, resulted in a draw. The boys weighed in at 122 pounds, and they put up one of the fastest contests that has ever been seen in this vicinity. White had the advantage in height, but Solly counteracted this by his wonderful strength and aggressive work. He swung and jabbed with both hands, and it looked as if he would have won twice during the mill when he staggered White with rights across on the jaw. White's cleverness aided him avoiding Smith's viciousness and he frequently stopped the Californian with left hand jabs on the face and neck. The decision of the referee met with the approval of every one of the 800 spectators.

Explosive Dynamite Kills Four.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12.—An explosion in the factory of the Columbia Dynamite company at Shanopha, eighteen miles below this city, demolished the mill and instantly killed two men and two women and badly injured a third man. The dead are: L. B. Fitchney, superintendent of works; Peter McCloskey, an employe; Ross Imman, aged 29; Mattie Imman, aged 14. Walter Crane was badly injured, but may recover. It is thought one of the employes must have jared one of the vessels of which the dynamite is composed. The force of the explosion was felt for twenty-five miles around.
