MRS. LYMAN J. GAGE.
 The Charming Wife of the Next Secretary of the Treasury.

Mrs. Lyman J. Gage is a charming, gray-haired matron, whose name is much more familiar to people outside her own large circle of friends than are her husband's. Until the probability of her husband's acceptance of the national treasury portfolio at last convinced her the public might be interested, her likeness never has appeared in a newspaper.

Under a mass of beautiful gray hair, her face, like her husband's, is as devoid of wrinkles and marks of worry as a young man's of 30 with the same bright prospects might be expected to be. Before her marriage 11 years ago to Mr. Gage she and her daughter, who is now Mrs. E. F. Pierce of Barry avenue, Lake View, had spent much of their time traveling, and with the additional culture that comes from wide reading, Mrs. Gage is a delightful conversationalist. Mrs. Gage formerly was Miss Cornelia Washburn of Albany.

In a quiet way Mr. and Mrs. Gage are noted as entertainers. An invitation to a dinner or a visit party, or to the two women—a popular form of entertainment at the Gage residence—is a coveted social boon and one which the large circle of friends of both frequently enjoy. What is Mr. Gage's greatest evening amusement, and the game is just as popular with his wife. Both are frequently seen at the theater.

Mrs. Gage is not a member of any club, nor is she particularly interested in the new woman. She and her husband are members and regular attendants at the Central church, with which they allied themselves under the pastorate of Professor Swing. Both are lovers of good music, but neither has ever learned to play.

When the next secretary of the treasury caught the bicycle fever last summer, he carried his new machine along with him to Saratoga, where he learned to ride with-out fear of having his falls depicted by newspaper artists. Previously he had driven a great deal with his wife after banking hours, and when, on the return to Chicago after his summer vacation, Mrs. Gage was compelled to follow her husband's bike in a brougham, she decided that she had outgrown the bicycle fever also. It was too late in the season to learn then, however, and so Mrs. Gage postponed the first lesson till next spring.—Chicago Tribune.

Pennsylvania Legislature Adjourns.
 Harrisburg, Feb. 5.—The first steps toward the erection of a new capitol were taken yesterday in the house. Richard J. Baldwin, of Delaware, started the movement with a concurrent resolution "that the governor be authorized and requested to select architects to make preliminary plans for the erection of a new state house, such plans to be accompanied with an approximate estimate of the cost." The resolution carried, and the governor will at once arrange to carry it out. Both house and senate adjourned to meet next Monday evening at the Grace Methodist Episcopal church.

To Limit Convict Labor.
 Harrisburg, Feb. 5.—In the legislature yesterday Mr. Bushington, of Allegheny, introduced a bill limiting to 5 per cent the annual inmates of penal institutions within the state to be employed in the manufacture of goods, and prohibiting the use of machines in the manufacture of such goods.

TRAMPS JAILED.
 Charged With Robbing a House on Cherry Street.

Between the hours of five and six o'clock this morning the house of Edward J. Brennan, West Cherry street, was robbed of two overcoats and underwear, a hat and a gold ring. Thomas Brennan and Patrick Cooney, members of the family, went to a slanty on the rock bank of the West Shenandoah colliery, where tramps frequently assemble, and there found three tramps. It was learned that one of the tramps had torn the sleeve from Cooney's coat and was wearing the body as a vest. Constable Dando was given a warrant and made a raid on the slanty with Policeman Goodman, James McElroy, Harry Deuling and Joseph Ulrich. Three dirty, vicious looking specimens of the brute of the night, were taken into custody and arraigned before Justice Carlin. Deuling, who was wearing the improvised vest, said he found Cooney's coat hanging on a nail in the slanty on the rock bank. Deuling and McElroy were quite talkative and tried to make arguments showing they were innocent. They said they had nothing to do with the robbery, and that they were only in the slanty to get a drink. Justice Carlin committed the trio to jail for trial. As McElroy left with the officers he declared he would return to Shenandoah in the near future and prove his innocence to the people of the town.

Mr. Burke's Denial.
 SEATE OF PENNSYLVANIA,
 SOCIETY OF SECURITIES.
 Personally appeared before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for the said county, Edward Burke, Democratic member of the office of Receiver of Taxes in the town of Shenandoah, who being duly sworn according to law, doth depose and say that the story now being circulated by his opponents and political and personal enemies to the effect that he had sold Edward Burke, distressed and sold to a creditor a check or article of household furniture belonging to a delinquent taxpayer, is wholly false and unfounded. And further the said Edward Burke deposes on oath that in the performance of his duties as collector of taxes for the borough of Shenandoah, he has never distrained and sold any article of household or other furniture belonging to any citizen or taxpayer of the borough or other person; and he verily believes that the said story is being circulated for the purpose of injuring him as a candidate, and that those who are responsible for it know it to be false and unfounded.

Obliged to Rob Their Neighbors.
 Williamsboro, Pa., Feb. 5.—After weeks of unaccounted search the authorities now believe they are in a fair way to discover the thieves who have committed the large number of robberies in this city during the past three months. Alfred Watson and two other young men named Beck and Watson, were arrested and committed to jail to await trial. They are the sons of respectable parents, and their arrests have created considerable surprise. Watson is alleged to have been the ring-leader, and has made a confession.

Hanna Will Not be Apointed.
 Columbia, O., Feb. 5.—The friends of M. A. Hanna here believe he will not be appointed by Governor Bushnell to the senate to succeed Senator Sherman. It is reported that Governor Bushnell has decided to appoint Lieutenant Governor Asa W. Jones, of Youngstown, and that this action is in accordance with the wishes of the Foraker leaders. The agreement is said to be that General Jones will not be a candidate for election to the full term. This will give opportunity for a battle between Governor Hanna and Chairman Hanna for election to the full term.

Getting Ready for the Big Fight.
 Carson City, Nev., Feb. 5.—The dispatch from San Francisco announcing that United States Judge McCreary and others had declared that the federal government had no right to interfere and prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in Nevada has caused great rejoicing here. Nothing now stands between Carson and the great pugilist event that will bring thousands of visitors and thousands of dollars to the city. Virginia City is putting in a strong bid for the fight, offering $10,000 cash, but the fighters will not consent to fight at such a great elevation. The bill introduced by Senator Mills to reduce the rate of admission will probably never be called up. Orders for quarters in the hotels are coming in from all parts of the country.

Alleged Members of a Swindling Syndicate
 Williamsboro, Pa., Feb. 5.—A. L. Spenser and Thomas Aubrey were placed on trial in court yesterday, charged with conspiracy. G. W. Coons, of Audenried, is the prosecutor. The defendants are alleged to be agents of the syndicate organized in New York some months ago and which operated at various points throughout the United States. This syndicate, it is alleged, floated bonds and stocks to the extent of $2,000,000, and had only a few hundred dollars behind it. The chief attorney, in his address to the jury, said the defendants defrauded the plaintiff out of $10,000. After the examination of a number of witnesses the case went over until today.
