The Talk of Capital Removal. The proposed removal of the capital from Harrisburg to Pittsburg hashad the effect of stirring up the stuggish current of Harrisburg life as it has never been stireed up before. A paid fire department is a certainty. Not only has the volunteer fire department been notoriously inefficlent, but the supply of hose has never been adequate to the demands of the city. Chiof Gavarich, of the fire department, can give testimony to this fact. sition to remove the capital would never have an instant's standing if the advance mont of Harrisburg in municipal ranks had been hift in the hands of such men as the chief magistrate and the chief of the fire department. Lieutenant Governor Walter Lyon fe He said to a reporter: "If the state capitol were located in Philadelphia it would be conveniently reached by many more peo-ple than it is at present, and for that reason I believe that if put to a vote of the people it would carry." A great deal of adverse comment upon Harrisburg as a state capital has been largely due to the fact that members of the locislature and state officials have been regarded during the past twenty years as "outside barbarians" who are tolerated simply because of the revenue that they bring to the city. There is not a liberal instinct or a social qualification to recommend Harrisburg to anybody in the commonwealth as a state capital. Har-risburg apparently regards state officials, children.
