From it we learn that there are 1,131 associations in the state. giving the condition of the Building and that there are 1,131 associations in the state. The borrowing members numbered 79,144, and the non-horrowing, 174,710-a very healthy preportion. The total receipts for the year were $44,505,801. The Department in its investigations found 17 associations insolvent, and they were placed in the hands of romivers. Ten of these were in Allegheny county, and were generally what are called National Building Associations. No building association official now doubts the wisdom of establishing the supervision exercised by this Department, however much be may have objected to it at first. Mr. Gilkeson dowrves much praise for the efficient manner in which he has discharged his duties. The recommendations that he makes to the Legislature should receive careful consideration, and adopted with such amendment as they may think necessary.

Death of General Pleasanton.

Washington, Feb. 18.—General Alfred Pleasanton, one of the most distinguished cavalry officers on the Union side during the late civil war, died year terday, agost 73. His death was calm, and resulted from a system worn out with activity and work. For the past six years he has lived the life of a recluse, surrounded by his books, and enjoying the society of a few friends of his army days. He received a com-fortable pension from congress a few years ago, which enabled him to page the declining years of his life in case and comfort. This pension money was beyond his meager personal wants, and he freely gave to less fortunate and more needy army comrades.
