ALMSHOUSE SENSATION.

Charges Made Against Poor Directors Dietrich and Ahrensfield.

Special to EVENING HERALD. POTTSVILLE, Mar. 6.—The report of the Grand Jury, sitting at this time of court, caused a sensation when presented to court this morning. Quite a stir was occasioned in political circles yesterday when several county officials were summoned before the Grand Jury. These witnesses include Steward Reese, ex-Steward Hartman and Steward-elect Reed and a whole lot of other officials and ex-officials of the county home. Ex-Poor Director Day and the present Poor Directors were also summoned. August Wachter, Burgess Walker, C. F. Seitzer, the harness manufacturer, G. A. Doerflinger and L. W. Weisinger, were among the number who were notified to come. The witnesses called were loath to say anything as to why they were examined. One of the officials at the almshouse, however, was questioned by the Grand Jury as to whether he had paid any money for his appointment, and this caused the report to become current that charges of bribery had been made against the almshouse officials. No one seems to know who brought the charges, although it is intimated that a Pottsville lawyer is the party who brought the matter to the attention of the Grand Jury. The report was handed to Judge Bechtel and in the Grand Jury asked the court to instruct the District Attorney to bring prosecutions against Directors of the Poor Neri Dietrich and F. H. Ahrensfield. Judge Bechtel thanked the jury for its work and promised that he would give the matter immediate attention.

It is charged that the Directors named purchased goods at the county's expense and appropriated them to their own use; that they took money in sums ranging from $125 and upwards from people who received appointments from them at the almshouse; that Dietrich has solicited money since the appointments were made; that he had his private carriage repaired at the county's expense and also purchased a bull calf for the county at a cost of $30 and sold it to his son for $15. It appears from the indications which have thus far appeared upon the surface that there is more grumbling after Dietrich than Ahrensfield. Director of the Poor Middleton's name is not mentioned in connection with the matter.

A Surprise Party. The M. E. parsonage was the scene of a pleasant gathering last evening. The arrangements for tendering a surprise party to Rev. Brewer, president of the Columbia Brewing Company, of town, returned yesterday from Chicago, where he spent two weeks looking after the affairs of the Brewer & Hoffman Brewing Company, of that city, in which he is largely interested. The brewery is one of the largest in the West. Mr. Brewer and Mr. McDonald, the financial owners of the plant, assumed the management of the business on January 1st, last, which necessitated the resignation of the treasurer of the company, visiting Chicago for a time to get the details of the business in working shape. Mr. Brewer is a man of wonderful energy and great industry.

THE CABINET CONFIRMED

But There Was Some Objection to Secretary Bliss.

BECAUSE HE IS NOT A LAWYER.

There Were Some Mutterings, Too, Against Secretary Gage, Because of His Views on Silver, But There Was No Formal Protest in the Senate Meeting.

Washington, March 6.—The president's cabinet appointments were all confirmed by the senate yesterday and without opposition. There was for a time a threat of opposition to Mr. Gage as secretary of the treasury, because of his views on the silver question and because he is a banker, but there was more of this among senators in the cloak rooms than in the senate. The senate went into executive session promptly upon the receipt of the nominations, and as soon as the announcement was made of the appointment of Senator Sherman, whose name headed the list, he was confirmed. It is in the practice to refer all nominations to committee, but it was the desire of Mr. Sherman's friends to stigmatize their regard for him by immediate action. No opposition was made and the nomination went through without comment.

There was more form than reality in the reference of the other nominations to committee. Not one of the committees had a formal meeting, they being polled on the floor of the senate in every instance. No objection was made in the committee to confirmation. The senate was recessed while the polling was in progress, and only a little more than half an hour's time was spent in discussing the nominations. Most of this time was devoted to the appointment as secretary of the interior, which called for attention from Senators Teller and Stewart, who stated that while they had no intention to make any effort to balk the president in his selection of his cabinet ministers, they would insist upon the point that the inadvisability of selecting a man who was not a lawyer for a position which requires the exercise of so much legal ability as does the place at the head of the interior department.

Mr. Teller said that Mr. Bliss was an estimable man, but that he would have filled other positions with credit, but because he was not a lawyer he did not consider him qualified in all respects for the place at the head of the interior department. This, he said, was a question which would be decided by the senate, as cases were decided involving greater property rights in the course of a year, by the secretary of the interior, than were decided by the United States supreme court. They involved the great coal and oil questions, and Mr. Bliss was not a lawyer, but a banker and a business man. Naturally he knew nothing of the many legal questions which were to come before him as secretary of the interior.

Senator Hearst, Massachusetts, presented a high tribute to Mr. Bliss. He pointed out that many of the questions decided by the secretary were prepared by law clerks, and argued that, no matter how good a lawyer a man might be, he could not investigate all the matters that came before him at the head of a department of this government. For that reason a law fever had been provided to assist the secretary in his work. He said that the business ability of Mr. Bliss was unquestioned.

Senators Lodge and Chandler followed in much the same strain, calling attention to the fact that Zachary Taylor had made an acceptable secretary of this department, notwithstanding he was not a lawyer, and Mr. Lodge suggested that possibly there was some feeling that this office should go to the west.

Senators Teller and Stewart both declared they entertained no feeling on the score of the location of the man's residence would not count with them provided he was familiar with the questions which would require his attention. They instanced Senators Platt, of Connecticut, and Chandler, of New Hampshire, as eastern men who could fill the place acceptably to the west. Senator Stewart added that with a man like Mr. Bliss at the head of the interior department he would not feel easy until he heard the most competent men had been chosen for the office of assistant secretary and of attorney general for the interior department.

The reference to Mr. Gage were mainly on account of what was termed his gold standard views, and it was intimated that as secretary of the treasury he would support the gold standard, knowing the promise of the administration to promote bimetallicism. One objection would have been sufficient to send any of the nominations over a day, but the senators who had made their points against Mr. Bliss said they had no desire in any way to hamper the president in the selection of his confidential advisers. Hence they expressed content themselves with pointing out the defect in one of the selections. When the list had been confirmed in the order of appointment the senate adjourned until Monday.

Secretary Gage took the oath of office at 11 o'clock today in the secretary's office. Chief Justice Fuller administered it in the presence of the officials of the department and a number of Mr. Gage's personal friends who are now in the city. It is expected that several of the other cabinet officials will be sworn in today, through Premier Sherman has decided not to take control of his department until Monday. Meantime Secretary Olney remains at the head of the department.

Several of the more eminent officials spent part of yesterday with their predecessors, going over the work of the departments. Mr. Bliss spent several hours at the interior department with Secretary Francis and Postmaster General Wilson explained matters to Mr. Gage, calling the latter's attention especially to the postmaster's changes, and to cases like that at Caldwell, Kan., where a postoffice inspector is now in charge, owing to failure to confirm a nomination.

Mr. James Wilson, the new secretary of agriculture, has met Mr. Morton, whom he succeeds, before noon, but the two threw over their heads again yesterday. They went over the duties of the head of the department routine work for an hour or more, and a number of assistants were introduced to the new head.

FINANCE AND TRADE. The Commercial Exchange's Predictions Regarding the Future. New York, March 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: The slow and gradual improvement of business for some time has continued for the past week and without material check. There is a better demand for sheet products on the whole, with continuance of speculative buying in some, notably in wool, because of expected duties.

Reports of probable needs abroad have helped speculation in wheat somewhat, but it has risen about three cents, though the price is still lower than two weeks ago. Corn is a cent stronger, about the price of two weeks ago. While many of the mills have stopped production of cotton goods for a time, the general outlook is on the whole unchanged, while print cloths are a shade lower. The mills accumulated stocks far in excess of the actual demand during most of dullness, and their output restriction at this time is merely paying a debt. This demand for wool has diminished, though only a little, and sales are quite a third more than the full consumption of all mills, if all were at work.

Failures show but slight increase over those of 1895 or 1896, and but slight decline, and the promise of a new tariff the week have been 246 in the United States, against 285 for the corresponding week last year, and 59 in Canada, against 118 last year. Bradstreet's review says: The new administration, the certainty of an extra session of congress within a fortnight, and the promise of a new tariff at an early day have done much to stimulate a better feeling in trade circles and increase confidence in the near approach of an improvement in business.

Well Known Baseball Star. Baltimore, March 5.—David L. Fouts, the great pitcher and right fielder, died yesterday at his home of asthma. Fouts managed the Brooklyn team last season. His best work was done under "Catskill" when, while holding down the pitcher's spot, he covered himself with glory. It was to get Fouts that St. Louis bought out the Bay City, Mich., team, stock, franchise and all.

WEEDING OUT THE IMPOSTERS!

Reports of the General and Distributing Committees—Over Five Hundred People Relieved—P. J. Ferguson Donates $50 and the Use of His Theatre.

The movement for the relief of the poor of the borough took quite a boom yesterday and if it can be maintained there will be no need of any desiring family doing without the necessities of life. The teachers of the public schools and their pupils did noble work yesterday. The packages carried to the school rooms yesterday found a grand source of relief and embraced the very articles that the relief committee needed to meet the demands upon it. Potatoes, bread, coffee, tea, sugar, canned goods, salt, crackers, etc., were supplied in abundance and the committee fully able to meet all claims, with the exception of applications for clothing and footwear, and such relief has been suspended until next Monday. Several wagon loads of articles were hauled from the public schools yesterday afternoon and several more to-day. It was impossible to secure a sufficient number of volunteer teams to do all the hauling yesterday.

The general relief committee held a meeting in the Council chamber last night and perfected plans by which the cash fund will be considerably increased. Among the gentlemen who attended the meeting were John L. Hassler, T. J. Broughall, Chief Burgess, John, Christian Schmidt, Fred. Keithan, John J. Bobbin, Misses Owens, Michael Graham, Henry Lynkawick, Rev. T. M. Morrison, Richard Horrell, Charles Haskins, P. D. Holman, P. J. Ferguson, P. J. Gaughan and Ed. Hasler.

When reports of committees were called for, Mr. Haskins stated that he had issued fifteen orders for relief of families in the First ward. Chief Burgess Taber stated that $29.30 had been collected in the lower section of the Second ward. Messrs. T. F. Miller and Thomas Lee have been appointed to solicit contributions in the upper section of the ward. Messrs. Keithan and Bobbin reported collection of $42.75 in the upper section of the Third ward. Contributions of clothing and other articles were also received. Mr. J. O'Neill has been added to the committee to make collections in the lower part of the ward. Mr. Gaughan reported collections of the amount of about $30. Mr. J. Schmidt and Hasler reported that they collected $40.70 and a number of donations in the form of provisions.

Mr. J. Ferguson arose and stated that he had made no cash contribution to the fund, but wished to do so and, upon being informed that the committee was prepared to receive favors of that kind at any time, stepped forward and handed Secretary Broughall $50 in cash. The committee gave Mr. Ferguson a receipt in the form of a round of applause. Mr. Ferguson also stated that he would give the free use of his theatre for a series of three entertainments for the benefit of the relief fund and suggested that a committee be appointed to arrange the details for them. The following committee was appointed for the purpose: Messrs. P. D. Holman, Michael Graham, Chief Burgess Taber, Misses Owens, and F. L. Stempson. It is proposed to ask the Gymnasium Club to give the first entertainment. The second will probably be given by chorists, mandolin clubs, glee clubs and vocal soloists of town, and is proposed to have juvenile talent give the third. It is also intended to ask the Grand Band to play at one entertainment, the Lithuanian Band at the other, and then ask both bands to play jointly at the third entertainment. The following committee in which great interest would be manifested, it is also proposed to accept the offer of the Cleary orchestra and it will probably be asked to furnish the overtures for the entertainments.

Rev. Morrison made a few remarks on mission work and gave an interesting and accurate recital on the schemes contrived by impostors to work upon the sympathies of the relief committee. He has a list of 20 impostors. Rev. Morrison says that it was necessary to allow those people to nibble at the generosity of the committee. It is the best way in which to locate the people who are really deserving. No impostor gets in his or her work on the committee twice. They try it, but meet with the cold shoulder. Then they resort to abuse and threats, but gain nothing by it. Rev. Morrison has discovered that when the investigating committee call at homes signals of their presence is given to neighbors by rappings on walls and before the committee get away the houses they visit are filled by people who have tales of woe to tell. Investigation has shown that the tales are false.

The general committee adjourned to meet next Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock.

T. J. Broughall, the secretary of the general relief committee, and Christ. Williams this morning notified the accounts of Messrs. Patrick Conry, T. H. Edwards and T. J. Davies, the committee in charge of the relief station. Hereafter this committee will take no more cash contributions. All money will be received and paid out by Christ. Schmidt, the treasurer of the general committee. The audit shows that thus far 509 people have been assisted. The money received by T. H. Edwards aggregated $178.29 and the committee expended $196.83, so that there is a balance of $17.34 worth of orders unpaid. Mr. Edwards has made himself personally responsible for the amount. The greater part of this money was expended at the time when the donations of provisions, etc., were scarce.

The Coal Trade. The anthracite trade is on the basis of a 2,000,000 ton output for this month, and there is very little that is new or worthy of comment in connection therewith. The market is not active, for it is not the season of the year when such a turn is likely to be given to affairs; whether the actual prices now being realized are to be taken as the opening list for the year remains to be seen. The price of anthracite for the domestic sales should average $4.00 per ton at the tide-water loading ports, which is a fair price for the commodity and the policy of the producers seems to be leading in that direction.

Decision Affecting Constables Fees. He decided that the general fee bill of 1865, which is a fair price for the commodity and the policy of the producers seems to be leading in that direction.
