

The Herald is published in Philadelphia, Pa., on Monday, March 8, 1897.

Telephone Connection.

Evening Herald

MONDAY, MARCH 8, 1897.

If nothing intervenes—a fire in the Capitol building or an inaugural ceremony—the members of the Legislature will convene to-day in a full week.

The number of robberies committed in Atlantic recently has occasioned a general demand for night policemen.

Many people appear to be in the possession of the alms-house officials, the head of one or two disappointed place-hunters.

The new county movement is again coming to the front, and the people of Lower Luzerne are just as active as they were two years ago.

Shakespeare seriously, ten dollars a week is pretty good pay for a man who does not "manage" to get the proprietor into trouble—If he gets the ten dollars.

When Democratic politicians come to blows this early in the game over the appointments by the School Board, we may expect a "bloody" war when the mass bloom in June.

It sometimes happens that a "managing editor" leads expensive luxury, in times of peace as well as war. Recent events tend to show that the weekly stipend he receives cuts a very small figure in the expense account.

Sensational Quay called at the White House on Saturday for the first time in seven years and the reception by the President was a most cordial one. This will occasion a cold chill to creep down the backs of the Compline leaders and leaders.

There was a little conversation between an applicant for a position under the School Board and an ex-official of the Peace, about two years ago, that would be interesting reading at this particular time.

The sentence imposed upon Editor Becker, of Grandville, by Judge Savidge on Saturday should be a warning to the "managing editor" and curb his viciousness in attacking the character of every private individual who is so unfortunate (v) as to think different from himself on public questions.

It appears that the appointment of J. W. Maloy as postmaster of Lansford, together with twenty-seven others, failed of final confirmation by the senate. Mr. Maloy's appointment was confirmed in executive session, but it must remain in the senate's jurisdiction until two more executive sessions are held, and there was insufficient time for this previous to the impending adjournment. The fight is now transferred to the Republican camp.

The recent robberies have brought to mind a number of cases of this character that are apparently lost in the archives of the District Attorney's office. It will be remembered that the parties implicated in the Black robbery have not yet been brought to trial, although three terms of court have passed since then. There are other arrests made by the police, the parties arrested not having been brought into court for trial. There is no much announcement offered the police to make arrests when the guilty parties are either shielded by prominent people of the town in the shape of petitions to the District Attorney for clemency, or the individuals are misplaced or lost sight of in that official office. Besides, when offenders of the law see that the way of escape from punishment is so easy, they will continue their depredations and the "blat" cases will be unable to put a stop to the robberies, which have become quite frequent of late. What is more, the very individuals who sign the petitions for clemency, are the first to criticize the police. The only way to put a stop to the robberies is to apply the law to all without discrimination. The District Attorney, however, might furnish a little light on the subject.

Thousands of officials, to satisfy one or two disappointed politicians whose motto is rule or ruin, will now come in for considerable attention at the hands of a suffering public. There have been threats of investigation, and charges and counter-charges on the part of the disappointed place-hunters, at each annual organization of the Board of Poor Directors, but the investigators have up to the present time failed to investigate. What will come out of the present charges remains to be seen, but if they can be sustained by facts, the guilty parties should suffer. At least one of the directors apparently has nothing to fear from the proposed investigation, as the name of Frederick S. G. Middleton is not mentioned in connection with the charges of bribery brought to the attention of the Grand Jury, and by that body to the court. This is gratifying to his numerous friends throughout the county, and especially those in this immediate neighborhood. It is in the nature of a vindication for Mr. Middleton, in view of the imputations contained in a Mahan City paper during the campaign when the Gilbert representative was a candidate.

Notable Charitable Work. Two much praise cannot be given the public school teachers and pupils in their efforts to alleviate the suffering among the worthy poor of Shenandoah. They recognize the wants of those who, through no fault of their own, cannot provide for themselves and families, and immediately adopted practical measures to relieve the suffering. The large quantities of provisions, etc., deposited at the general relief headquarters, as a result of one day's contribution on the part of the school children, shows very plainly how well they performed their part in the charitable movement.

Outside of the benefit derived by those in destitute circumstances, the voluntary donations on the part of the pupils will have a beneficial effect upon the school children themselves. It is an object lesson for them, and still more so in the youthful mind that divine teaching, "Charity to all, malice towards none." The Christian labor they have performed, could with much profit be emulated by those older in years and who are well provided with the good things of this world.

The working people of the anthracite coal region depending principally upon the coal industry for a livelihood, are confronted with a condition, not a luxury. While their working days have been and always will be, their groans, bills continue to accumulate, and any movement tending to alleviate the condition of the deserving poor is in line with the duties of the true Christian. The condition is the first to feel the effects of bad times, and the last to reap the benefits of an improvement in business circles.

Let the noble work of the youth of Shenandoah act as an incentive for those older in years to join in the movement inaugurated by the general relief committee with a greater degree of spirit than has been apparent on the part of those well able to contribute liberally. Shenandoah has always taken great pride in its public schools—second to none in the interior of the state—and that pride is made the stronger by the liberal donations made last week in behalf of the poor. Let all join in the movement, to the end that not a single individual, worthy of assistance, shall suffer for the want of the necessities of life.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Broom Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. Beware.

Confidential Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

Condemned Strangler Dies in Jail. Philadelphia, Pa., March 8.—Nelson Miller, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree, and awaiting to be hanged, died in the county jail of quick consumption. He was 37 years of age, and came to Pennsylvania from North Carolina. He was employed in the construction of a branch of the Lehigh Valley railroad on the mountainside off. One night in October, 1891, a Hungarian woman adjoining Miller's shanty was slain by dynamite, Miller and his wife, Sarah Foster, and three other colored men were arrested, charged with the crime. Miller was tried first and promptly convicted.

NEWS FROM HARRISBURG.

AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS CELEBRATE THEIR FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

BALLINGTON BOOTH'S ATTITUDE.

AMBASSADOR HAY'S HOME.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Victorious.

Physical and Mental Exhaustion Gives Way to Vigorous Activity.

Gray Hair Restored.

Phila. & Reading Ry.

Atlantic City Division.

Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

California.

Florida.

Washington.

Old Point Comfort Tours.

Brom-Koloa.

John F. Cleary.

Alcoholic, Nervous and Bilious Headaches.

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

NEWS FROM HARRISBURG.

AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS CELEBRATE THEIR FIRST ANNIVERSARY.

BALLINGTON BOOTH'S ATTITUDE.

AMBASSADOR HAY'S HOME.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Victorious.

Physical and Mental Exhaustion Gives Way to Vigorous Activity.

Gray Hair Restored.

Phila. & Reading Ry.

Atlantic City Division.

Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

California.

Florida.

Washington.

Old Point Comfort Tours.

Brom-Koloa.

John F. Cleary.

Alcoholic, Nervous and Bilious Headaches.

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?

Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food.

Write Us About Your Case.

Call Borden Eagle Brand Food Condensed Milk.

Par-Tida What is It?