FITZSIMMONS WINS.

Corbett Receives His Quietus In the Fourteenth Round.

The Battle Lasted Longer Than Either Side Anticipated and Both Men Made a Wonderfully Good Fight.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

CARROLL CITY, Mar. 17.—The meeting at this place today between Robert Fitzsimmons and James J. Corbett was one of the fiercest and gamiest battles ever fought in a prize ring in this, or any other country, and both men displayed clearly that the confidence placed in them by their respective backers was fully warranted.

The fight ended in the fourth round, Fitzsimmons bringing Corbett to his knees with stomach blow and a moment later won the fight with a blow over the heart. The fight:

11:59 a. m.—Here comes Fitz in ring and the crowd cheer loudly. Fitz is in a red-headed and wrapped in Japanese bath robe.

11:59—Here comes Pampaduro Jim, the vast multitude greets him with applause.

Fitz is the first to speak for an opening. Fitz forcing Jim to corner trying Jim ducks cleverly, Jim smiling. Fitz very aggressive and lands a light one on Jim's nose.

First Round—Jim faints and lands left hook on stomach and follows with a left hook on Fitz jaw, then clinch, but no damage done in the head. Jim lands his right on Fitz ribs as the gong sounded.

Second Round—Jim advances to the center faces it for a minute. A clinch. No damage on the breakaway. Fitz short on ribs and left swing more cleverly than Jim very cautious and looking for openings.

Third Round—Corbett starts right in with the hard left hook on the body. Fitz gets away and tries his left and right at Jim's head but does very little damage. Corbett lands another jab on the body and follows with right cut on the ribs. Jim clinches and lands right hand over heart. Fitz makes it up and puts the back of his hand in Jim's face in the clinch. Jim raps his right heavy like a piston rod on Fitz's body. They break and Fitz rushes. Fitz lands left hand on Fitz's face in the clinch. Jim keeps his right working like a pitch rod on Fitz's body. They clinch and Fitz raps it. They break away as the gong sounds. Fitz tries to continue but Jim laughing sticks his right glove in Fitz's face and they go to their corners.

Fourth Round—Jim rushes, lands the left again on body. Fitz is short with his left. Fitz follows it with a stiff left on Jim's stomach, and they clinch. Fitz raps it again and they are busy at Fitz's side and it is a beautiful contest. Corbett is by long odds making the cleverest fight. He is playing systematically with right and left on the body and exchanges of left at the end of round.

Sixth Round—They clinch and Fitz tries to wrestle Jim down. Loud cries of oh, oh, Corbett upsets Fitz. Corbett and Fitz going. Fitz is literally covered with blood, but is fighting. Fitz is down on knees and takes the time limit.

Tenth Round—Fitz pits the blood out of his mouth; tried hard left swing at Jim's head. Jim comes back with stiff left and right on body. Fitz is very much cooler and stronger than Corbett at this stage. Fitz is bleeding rapidly but forces Jim back apparently being the stronger man. They mix it up and honors about even. Fitz catches Jim around the neck and drags him to the ropes when time is called. Jim's blows are lacking in force but is fighting very cautiously.

Fitz has decidedly the better of the round.

Twelfth Round—Jim rushing it. Using left and is countered on the face. Fitz is beat on rushing it and Corbett is keeping away. Fitz gets the worst of it in the rush. This is Fitz's round.

Fourteenth Round—Jim lands, clinched. Jim lands that jab again on Fitz's head. Fitz counters with the terrific right swing on Jim's neck and Jim goes back for a few moments. Fitz lands a terrible left hand jab on Jim's stomach and he goes to his knees with a frightful look of agony on his face. The time-keeper calls the seconds—one-two-three-four-five-six-seven-eight-nine-ten, but Jim comes to his feet. He rushes Fitz and endeavoring to strike him. There is a terrible uproar, but the decision has not been given yet. George Siler decides that Fitzsimmons wins.

The blow that did the business landed over Corbett's heart and he collapsed. The last round lasted just one minute and forty seconds.

MOVEMENTS FOR RELIEF

The Relief Station Will Remain Closed To-night.

THE SCHOOL CHILDREN AT WORK

They Are Soliciting and Distributing Aid to Families—Minister Tickets Now on Sale—More Volunteers Wanted in the Work—A Program Has Been Arranged.

The relief station will not be opened to-night, but will be open to-morrow night, from 6 to 9 o'clock. Thirty-four families were relieved last night and the relief stock is again going down to the low-water mark.

The committee is raising quantities of potatoes and about 500 pounds of flour on hand.

The Junior Club, which is composed of pupils of Miss Hattie E. Hess' class in the new White street school building, have commenced soliciting donations for the relief fund. They supplied thirty-four families with provisions yesterday.

It has been frequently suggested that the movement for the relief of the poor can be more effectively carried on by a general movement, than having help extended from different sources. By the latter system it frequently happens that some people receive duplicate aid when it is not necessary.

People who desire to help the good work along by selling tickets for the entertainment can procure them by applying to members of the committee.

The program for the performance has been arranged and presents many features of a most amusing character. Messrs. T. J. Tompsett, W. H. Jenkins, T. J. Cleary, P. J. Scanlon, A. J. Carroll and G. W. Frost will be the end men and they are priming themselves with jokes of an up-to-date quality that will keep the audience in roars of laughter.

Thus far the sale of tickets for the minstrel performance to be given next Monday evening by the Vaudeville Club at Ferguson's theatre has not progressed as favorably as hoped for, but the indications are that the sales will be large before the night of the performance. Tickets for the performance can be purchased at Kildin's drug store, Ferguson House, Hotel Parsony, Commercial hotel, and also of Chief Burgess, Taber, J. L. Eisner, E. P. Kussman, Fred Keittman, M. J. O'Neill, T. J. Broughall, John W. Weeks, J. J. Bobbin, Portz & Son, Hoska & Brown, P. J. Gaughan, T. E. Miles, Max Levit.

The committee on entertainments will meet at the Council chamber to-morrow night to arrange for the second entertainment to be given for the benefit of the relief fund. It will be in the form of a concert and citizens having any suggestions to make looking to the success of the affair are respectfully requested to make them known to the committee. The concert will be given during the first or second week of April.

NO CELEBRATION.

Ireland's Natal Day Brought Forth No Public Observance.

St. Patrick's Day in Shenandoah brought out no public observance this year, other than creating large groups of idle men to assemble on the street, all the cotteries except Turkey Run, West Shenandoah and Kelley Run being idle. The usual services were held in the Roman Catholic churches. Many people of town went to Hazelton and Freeland to witness the observances of the day there.

The remains of Viola, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hobbs, were interred in the Annunciation cemetery this afternoon. This is the second child within a week.

Kendrick House Free Lunch. Fish cakes to-night.

Among The Brass Founders. George McGee has resigned his position as night operator at Lost Creek, to accept a more lucrative one as mail clerk on the main line of the P. & R. Railway. His successor is Joseph Ferguson, of Mahanoy City.

Irish Bishopric. Rev. John J. McNeil, of Hazelton, is off duty by an attack of the grippe. His position is being filled by M. A. McNeil, of Girardville.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25 cents.

Bought a Livery Stable. The South Main street stables of Smith and Campion, of Mahanoy City, are undergoing extensive improvements. They were recently purchased by the O'Hara Bros, of town, who will have possession of them about April 1st, who have gained a reputation of conducting a first-class livery.

Breen's Mallo Cafe Free Lunch. Clean chowder to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning. Meals at all hours. Free continuous phonograph entertainment. All the latest songs and band marches.

Narrow Escape. A drunken man narrowly escaped being struck by a Lehigh Valley train at the Main street crossing yesterday. He was saved by Daniel Houser, who jerked the man back from the track in the nick of time. "That was pretty close," remarked the drunk as he picked himself up out of the mud.

Bickert's Cafe. Our free lunch to-morrow morning will consist of Boston Baked Beans and pork.

New Lignor Agency. The agency for the celebrated Hamburger Chicago fine liquors in this vicinity, and the exclusive sale of the Hoffman House pure rye whiskies has been accepted by John M. Medalla, 105 South Main street. These goods are of the very finest and need no recommendation.

Take Your Boys to the FAMOUS CLOTHING HOUSE and fit them up with one of their $100 suits of clothes. They are beauties.

CENTRALIA FIRE.

Defective Fine Causes the Destruction of Four Dwellings. Special to EVENING HERALD.

CENTRALIA, Mar. 17.—Shortly after three o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered on West Roy hill, a little outside the borough line. It originated in the property of Michael Tighe and is supposed to have been caused by a defective fine. The fire company of this place responded promptly, but owing to the fact that the ceiling of the fine was on the wrong side and several hundred yards from the nearest fire plug, the company was almost powerless to do anything. The flames spread rapidly and four two-story frame dwellings were destroyed with some of the contents, but most of the latter were saved. The houses burned were owned by Michael Tighe, William Elwell, Thomas Rowan and Mrs. John Haffey. Several other dwellings were damaged by fire and water.

Do You Wear Pants? If you do call on the FAMOUS CLOTHIERS. If they haven't got a pair to fit you they make them for you.

Horse Over Driven. Two young men called at the livery stable of Beauville Houser, at Shepton, on Sunday, to hire a team to drive to town. After arriving in town they made an entire levy of it, and returned home by way of Mahanoy City. The horse has since been overdriven by the long drive and is now in a critical condition. Should the animal die the proprietor will bring a suit of damages against the young men who hail from Shepton.

"Forget Me Not" To-night. This play will be produced at popular prices, 50 and 75 cents, at Ferguson's theatre to-night. Miss Radie will assume the leading role in the bright and sparkling comedy, which role she has successfully played for over 700 times. A feature of the production will be the beautiful dresses worn by the ladies, and the bright and up to date specialties.

Careless stimulate liver, kidneys and bowels. Never slacken, weaken or gripe. 10c

Easter Headgear. Miss Maggie Shank, the North Main street milliner, left yesterday morning for Philadelphia. She has gone there to devote a short period among the largest millinery establishments to become familiar with the latest styles which will adorn the heads of the fair sex in the coming season and also to purchase an up-to-date selection of millinery goods for the Easter trade.

Slight Fire. A slight fire occurred at the residence of M. O'neill, corner of Coal and Jervis streets, this morning, which was caused by one of the children igniting some rubbish under the counter while playing with a match. The little girl immediately called the parents who applied several buckets of water and extinguished the flames, which had already spread very rapidly. Mr. and Mrs. O'neill both had their left hands slightly burned by the conflagration.

When bilious or constive, eat a Cascaret candy cathartic, cure guaranteed, 10c, 25c.

Robe Stealers. Unknown persons making a practice of cutting off and stealing the tail ropes of the street electric lights. One on Oak street and another at the corner of Main and Line streets were cut last night. The company says that if the work is being done by people in need of clothes they need not take the risk of violating the law, but will be supplied with rope by calling at the electric light station.

For Sale. Two horses, age 3 and 6 years, real wagon, 1 double and 2 single carriages, 1 double and 2 single sets of harness, another set of working harness, 1 double and 2 single sleighs. Apply at the HERALD office. 3-17-14.

Daughter of a Master Mason. Miss Loraine Hollis, star in the "Mr. Barrow of New York" Company, playing "Forget Me Not," in Ferguson's theatre this evening, is a daughter of a Master Mason, founder of four lodges of that order in California. Her prices are 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Hurt at Knickerbocker. Andrew Mosenavik, a miner at Knickerbocker colliery, was seriously hurt about the head by a fall of top coal at 6 o'clock this morning. He had just fired a shot and went back to see the effects of the blast when he was knocked down by the fall. He was removed to his home in town, where he lies in a critical condition.

The Wonders of This Century. The FAMOUS CLOTHING HOUSE is only one month old and the people of Schuylkill county already found out that they are the cheapest clothes in this county, and call them THE CHEAP STORE. Ain't this a wonder?

Socialists Organize. A Socialist-Labor Club of Lithuanians has been formed in Seaside's hall and now has a membership of 817. The application for a charter has been forwarded to the National Secretary. Similar organizations are being formed at Mt. Carmel and Minersville.

For example, put a couple of drops of Thomas' Electric Oil on a bit of cotton and place it in the ear. The pain will stop in a few moments. Simple enough, isn't it?

The Audit Frodoeering. Borough Auditors Bamberger, Plippert and McDonald continue to hold nightly sessions and have almost completed their review of the borough books to the point of preparing the annual statement.

Sold by Carbolic Acid. Hazelton, Pa., March 17.—Charles Kohler, an employee of the Hazelton Coffin works, committed suicide yesterday by swallowing carbolic acid. He came home from work and complained to his wife that he could not stand the treatment accorded him by the factory foreman. He then left the room and procured four ounces of carbolic acid, which he swallowed.

WAR SEEMS IMMINENT!

It is Believed in Athens That Greece Will Fight Turkey.

RESENTMENT TOWARD RUSSIA!

Greek Newspapers Strongly Denounce the Attitude of the Czar's Government and the Greek Royal Family Seriously Disappointed.

Athens, March 17.—It is the general belief here that nothing can prevent war, and that the government has its plans fully prepared. The cabinet had a long session yesterday as to the attitude to be taken in face of the co-ercive program of Europe, and it is reported that a decision was reached that active measures are the only solution possible for Greece.

The center of interest is now transferred from the northwestern portions of Greece. It is evident from the haste with which the government has displayed in getting all its available troops off by sea before the commencement of the blockade that there is a strong conviction that they will be needed at once.

With the sea route closed the transportation of troops must be overland, and this would be an exceedingly slow and difficult process, owing to the lack of horses and the very incomplete railway system in the northern portions of Greece. Many of the war correspondents have already arrived at Volo, Larissa and other frontier points.

The Greek officers on the frontier find the utmost difficulty in restraining their men; and the departure of Crown Prince Constantin for the front was deferred until advice was received from the general commander, who fears that his presence would have a dangerously exciting influence upon the troops.

It is reported that Turkish forces on the Macedonian frontier are raising a double line of fortifications, and being constantly reinforced from Salonica.

Since the publication in the semi-official press of the expedition count Muravioff's Cretan policy, which appeared at the moment when it was most calculated to influence the French government, the feeling of the public press of Greece has been one of the fiercest resentment toward Russia. The Greek royal family is also seriously disappointed by the attitude of Russia, and France is believed to have sacrificed her Cretan sympathies upon the altar of the Franco-Russian entente.

Turkey Encouraged by the Powers. London, March 17.—According to a Vienna dispatch to The Times there is some curiosity manifested by Austrian official circles as to whether the program of the powers is to be good in the event of an outbreak of war in Macedonia. The Porte has been encouraged, it is said, by several of the great powers to send large bodies of troops to districts along the Greek frontier, and there is no doubt that, in the event of war, the Turks would be allowed to deal with the Greeks without fear of European intervention.

New Laws for New Jersey. Trenton, March 17.—The house yesterday passed the general taxation bill, the Gibraltar barge bill, and the senate amendments to the bill changing the time of holding elections in Newark and Jersey City from spring to fall. The latter bill now only awaits the governor's signature. The other two bills have yet to be acted on by the senate. Assemblyman Ambruster's race track bill was reported adversely. The equal taxation bill passed provides that all of the 1 1/2 per cent tax on second class railroad property shall go to the municipality in which the property is located. The indication now are that the legislature will adjourn finally on Friday of next week.

The President Reopens a Thoroughfare. Washington, March 17.—President McKinley has issued an order that undoubtedly will increase his popularity among a large portion of the citizens of the district. It is that the road back of the White House and running through the White House grounds be restored to its former function as a public thoroughfare. It is part of the president's grounds, and is subject to his orders. Up to within the last four years it has always been open to the use of the public. During the exception the grounds were given over to the use of the Cleveland children and the gates were closed to the general public.

Methodist Conference at Bethlehem. Bethlehem, Pa., March 17.—The 11th annual session of the Philadelphia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church convened in historic Bethlehem at 9 o'clock this morning, and in attendance, nearly 500 ministers are in attendance. Rev. Bishop John P. Newman, president, and among other official visitors are Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, Rev. J. M. Buckley, editor of The Christian Advocate; George P. Mains, agent of the Methodist Book Concern; A. J. Palmer, missionary secretary; A. S. Hunt, corresponding secretary of the American Bible society, and W. V. Kelley, editor of The Methodist Review.

Sold by Carbolic Acid. Hazelton, Pa., March 17.—Charles Kohler, an employee of the Hazelton Coffin works, committed suicide yesterday by swallowing carbolic acid. He came home from work and complained to his wife that he could not stand the treatment accorded him by the factory foreman. He then left the room and procured four ounces of carbolic acid, which he swallowed.

POLITICAL TALK.

Representative Schriek is pushing Senator Coyle's county solicitor bill through the House.

The political announcement of H. S. Albright appears in another column. Mr. Albright is a candidate for Sheriff, and is making an active fight for the nomination. His friends are sanguine that he will be the successor of Sheriff Scott.

The bill to regulate the civil service in Philadelphia, Allegheny, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties, which was bitterly opposed by Senator Coyle and others, passed the Senate by a vote of 34 to 7 yesterday.

John F. Finney, of the Miners' Journal, who is a candidate for Naval Officer, at the port of Philadelphia, has been endorsed by the members of the Borough Council, School Board, Board of Health and all the borough officials of Mahanoy City. This is truly going into the enemies' country. Among other endorsements he has received that of State Chairman Eskin.

The "State" sent out from Harrisburg, naming certain men for federal appointment, turns out to be a hoax.

President McKinley has officially decided that all postmasters shall serve their full term of four years.

The bill authorizing the election of town assessors in townships and boroughs not divided into wards, and also one principal assessor in boroughs, was defeated in the House.

New Undertaker. T. J. Conkley has opened an undertaking establishment in town with his office located at J. J. Conkley's, 38 North Main street. Night calls at the Ferguson House. 3-17-14
