ECHOES OF THE FIGHT.

FIRE Will Avoid Pganism For at Least Two Years.

Carson, Nev., March 18.—Fitzsimmons, the new champion pugilist of the world, took things easy yesterday. In the morning he walked over to the penthouse and took a bath, and for the balance of the day loafed around the house. He looked in excellent shape, and the pounding he received in the ring Wednesday from Corbett did not affect him in the slightest, though it might have been expected. His lower lip cut quite badly, and was dressed liberally with court plaster, but this was the only thing about him that gave any indication of the ordeal he had gone through. One thumb was tied up, and Bob explained that he had hurt it on Corbett's head in the first round, and that it gave him much trouble during the fight.

"There was no time during the fight," he said, "when I was not confident of winning. In the fifth and sixth rounds when they say Corbett had me going, I had no doubt whatever in my mind that I was going to be the winner of the fight. After the seventh I kept getting stronger and fresher all the time, and he was getting weaker. I knew that I could end the fight with a punch or two when I had a good chance to land on him, and I knew I was going to outlast the fight. It cost me a great deal of time and endurance. I knocked him out just as I landed on Sharkey, the only difference being that this time I got credit for what I did. I have shown that I could tire him out if I had not a chance to knock him out, and of course I took that chance."

Regarding his future movements Fitz said: "I have not decided just what I will do, but one thing is certain, and that is that I will not fight any more for at least two years. It has been at least three years since Corbett fought anybody for the championship, and I am not going into any finish contests for two years myself. During that time I may decide to fight again, and I may not. It all depends upon how I feel."

I am getting along in years, and two years more of the present age will bring me not far from 40, and that is rather a mature age for a man to engage in a finish contest. However, I will not say now what I will do, I shall pay no attention to the challenges made by Goddard, Mitchell and Sharkey."

Fitzsimmons will leave Carson for San Francisco tonight, and will give an exhibition in that city tomorrow night.

RELIEF FUNDS RUNNING LOW!

The Station Will be Closed After Tonight Pending Improvements.

A CLERGYMAN'S GIFT AND LETTER

The Distributing Committee Has Issued All the Orders It Cares to Give at Present and Practically None Only Potatoes on Hand.

It cannot be said that the relief work in behalf of the distressed worthy poor of the town has been productive of many fruitful results during the past few days and if there is to be genuine relief extended to these people there certainly must be much more work of a more earnest character than is displayed in many quarters. But as the oasis appears to the weary traveler on the desert, so is the following graceful letter striking the mind of those who are engaged in the noble, but somewhat discouraging work.

It is written by Rev. A. M. Mikulas, the curate of St. George's Lithuanian Roman Catholic church, on South Jardin street, and is published in full that the public may know the excellent spirit entertained by the reverend gentleman.

"To Friends of EVENING HERALD:

"DEAR Sirs: Having been away last week, and having had hard work for four days this week in our church during and after forty hours' devotion, I could not pay sufficient attention to the generous efforts of our citizens for the relief of the suffering and the needy.

From what I have noticed, though, I am sure that the friends of EVENING HERALD will be credited with the very excellent and beneficial work it has done for the relief movement."

Please find enclosed a check for $10, which you will kindly transmit to the treasurer of the relief committee.

"Yours respectfully,

"A. M. MIKULAS."

The generous personal donation comes in excellent time to serve as an incentive to others to display a charitable spirit, as the relief station is now sorely in need of help.

Last night sixty families were given aid there and they reduced the stock and funds in hand so much that the distributing committee was almost tempted last night to close the station and keep the door closed until such time as the donations should assume a more healthy shape, but it was finally decided to open the station again-to-night and dispose of what remains on hand, and then close the doors until further notice. The entire supply of flour has been exhausted and there is practically only a supply of potatoes on hand. The relief extended last night was principally through orders issued on stores and they have multiplied to such an extent that the distributing committee fears it has exhausted the funds in the hands of the treasurer and will issue no more until the general committee meets and a recapitulation can be made.

The general committee will hold a meeting in Conroy's hall at eight o'clock to-night and it is hoped members of all the sub-committees will be in attendance. The committee on entertainment will hold a meeting at the same place just before the general committee meets.

All storekeepers who have been filling orders issued by the distributing committee are requested to send in their bills to-night.
