The decision bears especially upon the right to har parochial school property, burded the same train. He may die. but In its forms it applies to chircle property, for that also is held in fee by the bishop. The decision is exciting a great deal of Newark, N. J., March 2a.—Polleeman interest throughout Pennsylvania, and the John Clark, of the Harrison police dement. There is at present a clause in the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania that would be en to exempt parochial schools from minution. It Is as follows: "The General Assembly may, by general laws, exampt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious wordilp, place of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of a purely public charity." The decision is likely to lead to an early sottlement of the wexed question of taxing church property, at | toft cheekfema in Pransylvania. And this is a question that should be settled definitely be every state in the Union. There is a growing bundency among churches of every depumba tion to an overiorestment in splendly edifices, not only beyond their needs but bayond their means, and this would be shacked to their advantage if all church property were taxed.
