TROUBLESOME BLAZE.

The Borough Threatened with the Loss of Dumping Grounds.
At about four o'clock yesterday afternoon fire was discovered at the public dumping grounds, which is located on the north side of the public road leading to Yatesville and close to the culvert of the Indian Ridge colliery. The discovery was made by District Superintendent Bradigan, who was driving home from Yatesville. Mr. Bradigan drove to the Indian Ridge breaker and sent a gang of men to extinguish the fire, at the same time sending a messenger to town to notify the fire companies. The Phoenix Fire Company was called upon by the messenger and several of its members went out to the scene with its hose carriage, but had not sufficient hose to reach from the fire plug to the place where the men were carrying water from a pool in buckets.

Councilman Bohm, chairman of the street committee, went out to the grounds and there met Superintendent Bradigan, who stated that Council would have to take some action towards protecting the dumping grounds, or the same would be cancelled. He cited the fact that should the culvert here of the Indian Ridge colliery be set on fire it would not only result in thousands of dollars to the P. & E. C. & L. Company, but would throw many men out of employment. Mr. Bohm said he realized the situation and would make a recommendation at the Council meeting to-night that a watchman be placed at the grounds and the Superintendent said such an arrangement would be satisfactory.

Although the fire was slight and did not damage it was of considerable importance from the fact that it threatened to deprive the borough of public dumping grounds, and that would mean great inconvenience to the people as a whole and expenditure of several thousands of dollars for a plant of some kind to do away with garbage. The present grounds were secured for the purpose with much difficulty and should the loss be cancelled the borough would be subjected to great loss, hence it is necessary that people who find an accommodation in the grounds should try and carry out the conditions of the lease. If the borough could be kept on the site the laws will not doubt be rigidly enforced and the fines imposed will be appropriated to help pay cost of the watchman's employment. The origin of yesterday's fire is unknown, but it was apparently due to the carelessness of somebody.

FIRE IN A MINE.

A Driver Makes a Discovery in Good Time.
At about six o'clock last evening as Thomas Bryan, a driver, was going with a mule along the Skidmore gateway of the Knickerbocker colliery he discovered smoke rising into the air. He made an investigation and found that the trouble was on fire. He hurried into the mine and gave the alarm to several workmen. The fire was confined to the timbers and a trap door through which miners pass in going to and from work. It was not burning long before the discovery was made and was extinguished before much damage was done.

CONVICTED AT SCRANTON.

Two Townsmen Found Guilty on the Postal Charges.

THEY HAVE ASKED FOR A NEW TRIAL

Harry Yarowski and Charles Rubinski Convicted of Using the United States Mails for Fraudulent Purposes. A Great Swindling Scheme Was Charged.

Harry Yarowski and Charles Rubinski, of town, were yesterday convicted before Judge Buffington in the United States District Court, at Scranton, of fraudulent use of the mails. United States District Attorney Samuel Griffith, of Pittsburg, prosecuted the case upon evidence gleaned by Post-office Inspector Hugh J. Gorman after several months of work in several towns in this county and Columbia and Luzerne counties.

The indictment charges that the defendants leased a store room at Bloomsburg, Pa., and used the mails to obtain goods which they never paid for and did not intend to pay for. The defendants did business under the name of John H. Schmidt.

Then William F. Mattison, of Corbish & Co., Washington, N. J., from whom a piano was secured, was called. He testified that the piano was worth $245. It has not been found. Mattison, of New York City, the next witness, testified that his house had sent the defendants $37.05 worth of law books for which payment was not received.

Inspector Gorman says the defendants have been in the business for the last five or six years and have defrauded merchants of Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, Boston and other places of thousands of dollars worth of goods. Their plan of operation, he says, was a deep laid scheme to cover up their tracks and make it difficult to discover them or the goods received by them. They would establish a store under an assumed name, get credit, receive for them, bring the goods from where they bought for reference. They would report to the commercial agencies being worth from $1,000 to $3,700 clear of indebtedness. The goods they ordered they would remove to some out of the way place and dispose of later. What things got too interesting they would make preparations for a Sheriff's sale by removing under cover of night as many goods as possible. Then they would leave and it was almost impossible to find the person under whose name they had conducted business.

In Catawissa the firm was known as Corbett, Herring, at Lykens, Pa., Bernard Wilson; at Berwick, Pa., Harry Miller; at Bloomsburg, John H. Schmidt; at Nanticoke, Charles Sherman, and at Danville, as Bernard Wagner. According to Inspector Gorman the first complaint against them was made in May, 1896, at which time they were operating in Danville under the name of Bernard Wagner, John E. Colket of Williamsport, brought about the investigation. Homes with which he had been connected, and he discovered that they had been shipped to Charles Sherman at Nanticoke on trial to use in the store of Bernard Wagner. Inspector Gorman was then assigned to the case by Gen. Warren P. Edgerton, and the inspector claims to have collected a great mass of evidence against the men. He discovered that the goods were brought from the station to the store at Danville. Inspector Gorman and Mr. Colket decided to shadow the next load of goods which left the store. After a few days, on June 10, it was discovered that a load of goods had accumulated at two stations in Danville and South Berwick, and that the firm wagon had appeared in town with three of the gang. At 2 o'clock operations commenced. The men loaded goods at the Reading depot, drove to the Pennsylvania depot and filled out the load. Harry Yarowski then started towards Catawissa. Two others had left by train. Inspector Gorman and a post-office clerk of Bloomsburg followed in a buggy and Mr. Colket on a bicycle. The route was through Catwissa and southeast to the mountains.

About 6 o'clock the wagon halted at a large box car between two mountains. Yarowski got to the top and got a view of the wagon, which they kept in sight after it resumed its journey. When darkness came Gorman and Colket closed in on them and traveled with them and got further evidence, which they used in the case.

Minors Will Resist Wage Reductions.
Clearfield, Pa., April 1.—The delegates representing the miners to the Haverhill convention of Pennsylvania met in the court house yesterday to take some action upon the proposed reduction in the price of mining coal. Resolutions were unanimously adopted strongly opposing the proposed change of the work system, and demanding of the legislature that they send the proposed mine investigating committee into this district to investigate the condition of the miners. The convention is to communicate with the Maryland and Chesapeake and Ohio miners, and expect delegates from these regions today. The outcome is hard to predict, but the men are determined not to submit to the reduction.

General Lee Not Re-elected.
Washington, April 1.—It is said at the state department that no successor has been selected to take General Lee's place as consul general at Havana; that he has not been called a leave of absence to take effect on April 15, and finally that there has been no change in the status of the consul general. It is also intimated, but not stated so positively as the above, that there is no intention of making any change in the consulate general in the near future.

RAILROAD VICTIM.

A Man Found Dead on the Railroad at Locust Summit.

The dead body of a man was found on the P. & E. railroad at Locust Summit this morning. Both arms were broken and there was a deep cut on the head. At first the remains were unidentified, but a P. & E. policeman subsequently recognized the remains as those of a man who was arrested for illegal car riding about a week ago. This led to inquiry at Mahanoy City, which finally established the man's identity. The victim was Anthony Cannon, about 40 years old, unmarried, of a raving disposition and no fixed residence. He was a brother of Mrs. Michael Souly, of Mahanoy City, and formerly resided at that place and in St. Nicholas. The remains were sent to Shamokin and taken in charge by an undertaker there. They will be taken to Girardville to-morrow for interment.

Editors' Libel Bill Reconsidered.
Harrisburg, April 1.—The house yesterday the example of the senate yesterday and adjourned until Monday night. Just before the adjournment a motion was made to reconsider the libel bill drafted by the Pennsylvania State Editorial association, which was killed last week on second reading. The motion carried by a vote of 54 to 18. The temper of the house seems to be against the measure, and there is hardly a chance of its passage unless a radical change is made in the provisions. A bill to abolish the Philadelphia public buildings commission was introduced by Representative Crothers, of Philadelphia. The measure is similar to that passed four years ago after a bitter struggle and declared unconstitutional by the supreme court.

Rush for the Custom House.
New York, April 1.—Yesterday was a rush for the custom house there when it became known that congress had made the Dingley tariff operative today, and large quantities of goods were with-drawn. The giving up for the day were 2,285,450 lbs. and $458,229.43 on direct imports. The collections, however, were up to the record which was made on March 15 last. The collections of duty were $1,093,754.14, but there have only been two days in the history of the customs service when the collections were larger than those of yesterday. The total collections for the month have been $17,673,633.25, surpassed only by the month of August, 1872, when they were $18,325,000.

Notice of Wage Reduction.
Scranton, Pa., April 1.—The recent shutting down of the big South mills of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company has been followed by the posting at the North mills of a notice of a 12 per cent wage reduction. It is the impression that the closing of the South mills was a part of the program of wage reduction.

Farwell Party.
After the services in the Trinity Reformed church last night several members of the congregation went to the residence of S. W. Yost, on North Jarliss street, and tendered a farewell party to Mr. Yost's mother, Mrs. B. K. Yost and daughter, Mary, who will leave for Dunmore, near Scranton, to-morrow. The gathering was a very enjoyable one.

An Important Meeting.
Washington Camp No. 206, P. O. S. of A., will hold an important meeting this evening, in their hall in the Schmidt building. An important question, affecting each member, will come up for consideration, and in order to have a large attendance a special circular letter has been addressed to the members.

Death of Ex-Congressman Wilson.
Wellsboro, Pa., April 1.—Ex-Judge Stephen F. Wilson died at his home here yesterday of kidney disease, aged 72. He was elected to the state senate in 1852, and to congress in 1864 and 1866. He was additional judge judge of this district from 1871 to 1882, and in 1884 and 1885 was an associate justice of the United States court in New Mexico.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. NEW YORK

UNDER THE NEW TARIFF!

The Dingley Bill is Now in Full Force and Effect.

SO THE HOUSE HAS DECLARED!

But the Senate May Refuse to Enact the Measure With This Final Amendment or the Courts May Declare the Retrospective Law Illegal.

Washington, April 1.—Today the duties imposed by the Dingley tariff bill are in force, and the Wilson law is a thing of the past. If the last amendment attached to the bill before its passage in the house yesterday, fixing today as the day on which its provisions shall go into effect, should be in the bill when it is finally enacted, and should be held to be legal by the courts, the Republican victory was complete. They presented an unbroken front to the opposition. All the rumors that dissatisfaction with particular schedules of the bill might lead some of them to break over the party traces proved absolutely unfounded.

On the other hand, five Democrats, one more than was anticipated, gave the bill the approval of their votes. These five Democrats are interested particularly in the sugar schedule. Three are from Louisiana, and two from Texas. One Populist, Mr. Howard, of Alabama, voted for the bill. Twenty-one other members of what is denominated "the opposition," consisting of Populists, fusionists and silverites, declined to record themselves either for or against the measure.

The vote on the final passage of the bill stood—yeas, 205; nays, 122; present and not voting, 21. A majority of 83. Speaker Jiggs added to the dramatic nature of the climax of this ten days' struggle in the house by directing the clerk to call his name at the end of the roll call, recording his vote for the bill. The events leading up to the final vote were replete with excitement and incident, and not devoid of humor. The galleries were crowded with spectators. Even the executive and diplomatic galleries, which are usually empty even on big days, were well filled. Many prominent personages were present. On the floor every seat was taken.

After the amendment fixing today as the date on which the bill should go into effect had been adopted, against the protests of the Democrats, who contended that it was retroactive and therefore unconstitutional, the last three hours were taken up with speeches, most of which were made for the benefit of the galleries and the constituents of the speakers. John A. Allen, of Mississippi, the wit of the house, explained the members with one of his humorous stories, which tickled the ribs of all present.

The Democrats had yielded the question of a long debate over the Grosvenor amendment in the hope that enough progress might be made with the bill to permit the house to reach the sugar schedule, but only two more pages were read, leaving 140 unconsidered in committee of the whole. The motion to recommit with instructions to amend the bill so as to suspend the duties on articles controlled by treaties, upon which they based their principal hope of breaking through the Republican ranks, failed of its purpose. Every Republican voted against it. There was a great demonstration on the floor of the house and in the galleries when the bill was finally declared passed.

The senate yesterday began voting upon the miscellaneous amendments to the Anglo-American arbitration treaty. There were six roll calls during the session and several votes on which the yeas and nays were not demanded. The first roll call was upon Senator Hoar's amendment. It was adopted by an overwhelming majority, 54 to 12. The amendment provides that "Any difference which, in the judgment of either party, materially affects its honor or its domestic or foreign policy shall not be referred to arbitration under this treaty, except by special agreement, nor shall any question as to the continuance in force of any treaty which has previously been made. It is further explicitly specified and agreed that all agreements entered into and all claims shall be referred to arbitration if signed by the president of the United States and receive the approval of the senate by a two-thirds vote before it becomes binding upon either Great Britain or the United States."

Senator Hansbrough gave notice of a substitute for the entire treaty in the shape of a resolution setting forth that, while the United States accepts the doctrine of arbitration as wise and humane, the present treaty is not deemed by the suspension of the times. Senator Hoar stated his purpose to make a point of order against the substitute when offered, and there is no doubt it will be sustained.

When the senate adjourned at 4 o'clock it was with the understanding that the final vote on the amendments should be taken at 4 o'clock this afternoon, but there is no date fixed for the final vote upon the treaty itself.

Governors at the Grant Memorial.
New York, April 1.—Governor Drake, of Iowa, has accepted the invitation to take part in the Grant memorial parade and ceremonies. This is the 13th governor to accept the invitation, which will send their governors, with their staffs and part of their military forces, to New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky, Maine, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Vermont. It is reported that Governor Briggs will call out the entire National Guard of New Jersey.

An Arkansas Town Laid Waste.
Pine Bluff, Ark., April 1.—A cyclone and hailstorm passed over Grady, 21 miles south of here, yesterday afternoon. It laid waste the entire village, killing four colored women and wounding several others. There was not a building left standing on Hill Place, and the railroad section house was entirely demolished. The town is entirely cut off from telegraphic communication.
