

WHAT IS YOUR TRADE? Each Trade or Occupation Has Its Special Disease.

It is well known among medical men that certain diseases are more readily developed in certain occupations than in others. That each occupation has its attendant physical weakness...

The Pyramid Pile Cure is free from cocaine, opium or any mineral poison, absolutely safe, pleasant and painless; sold by druggists at 50 cents per package. If there is any constipation the Pyramid Pills should be used with the pile cure.

AD FOR THE STRICKEN. General Alger Acts Promptly to Relieve Flood Victims.

They Will Ascertain the Needs of the People, and Others Who Will Follow Quickly Will Distribute the Relief. New Orleans May Have a Crisis.

Memphis, April 8.—The supreme test of the levees south of Vicksburg and Arkansas City is approaching. The river at Vicksburg has fallen for some days, on account of the rush of waters from the main channel through the crevasse above into the Yazoo delta.

The Louisiana people keenly realize the gravity of the situation. The destruction wrought in the St. Francis basin and the Yazoo delta may be repeated in the Tenossee basin, which lies in the northeastern Arkansas and extends through the northeastern corner of Louisiana.

The officers selected to make the inquiry are Colonel Haines, of the engineer corps, in charge of river and harbor works in the Baltimore district; Colonel Sanger, inspector general of the department; Captain Galliard, of the engineers; Captain Martin, of the quartermaster's department; Captain Craig, of the signal service; and Captain Clark, of the ordnance department.

The committee said that they needed no blankets or tents, as they were now advised, though reports from outside points on the river might show the necessity for some of these later on.

The six districts into which the Mississippi will be divided for purposes of investigation and distribution are as follows: From Memphis down to Helena, from Helena down to Greenville, from Greenville down to Vicksburg, from Vicksburg to New Orleans, from New Orleans to Cairo, and from Cairo up to New Orleans.

A telegram received here from a committee of citizens of Helena, Ark., states that there are 3,000 sufferers at that place, and that the water is now in every house from Helena to White river.

THE MAN IN UNIFORM. WOES OF A NAVAL OFFICER ON THE BROOKLYN BRIDGE PLATFORM.

Mistaken For Station Master and Reviled Accordingly—Appointed to and Abused by Helpers and Indignant Citizens—Fled at Last From a Baby.

A man in the navy rushed aboard his ship in the Brooklyn navy yard the other day as if something terrible was afoot. The men in the wardroom looked up amazed as he entered and sank down on the leather couch.

"What's the matter, old man?" asked one of the officers. "Why, where are your friends? I thought you got permission to leave the ship to go to the Brooklyn bridge to meet some friends who were coming aboard."

"I did," came a response in a muffled voice. "That's where I've been." "What were your friends?" persisted No. 4.

"I don't know, for I didn't wait for them." "Didn't wait for them?" exclaimed a chap whom they all called Lord Chesterfield. "Why, that was a beastly thing to do."

"I'm sorry I can't," I answered, and I'll be blamed if she didn't let in and say that I was a disgusting thing and asked me what I was paid for.

"I straightened up as high as I could, thinking that if I assumed a military air it would be a protection, but it didn't work. Although standing with heels and knees together, toes out at an angle of 40 degrees, chest out and shoulders thrown back and chin held high in the air, my posture didn't seem to do much good.

"The fellow had his foot there all right, and he thought he had his man, but he could prove nothing. I told him that I could do nothing about it, and that except the occurrence, and I promised him that it should never happen again and reminded him that, although the offense was a heinous one, there was no specific penalty for it."

"I was unable to arrest the offender, and would have to let him go. He thanked me again and again and said he was glad to know that, along with other improvements, the bridge officials had secured such intelligent employees."

"I was about used up by this time and kept wondering why my feet were so sore. Suddenly they began to feel better, and a young, fairly well dressed woman motioned to me from the platform. Not noticing anything unusual, I hastened up to the car and found to my distress that she had a baby about six months old by her arms. She said she had a very heavy basket in the car and, rather suggested by a motion toward the baby, as she drew up to me, that I take that while she went in after the basket. But I didn't catch on and rushed in and grabbed the basket by the handle."

"When I came out with it, she said she thought she'd better take the basket down the steps as it had some things in it that she wouldn't have broken for the world, and finally insisted on my swapping it for that darned brace. What did I do? I dropped the basket at the top of the steps, shook the woman, lady and all, and made tracks for the navy yard."

Mother! THE IDENTICAL NOTE. THE CRETAN CONFLICT.

The Newspapers of Athens, However, Ensure the Popular Demand—Cretan Insurgents Give Notice of a Proposed Attack on a Turkish Fort.

Athens, April 8.—The identical notes of warlike delivered on Tuesday by the representatives of the powers to M. Skouzes, the Greek minister for foreign affairs, have had very little appreciable effect. The newspapers declare that they are really of no practical value in rendering the latter more certain.

The Larissa correspondent of the London Times telegraphs his paper: "After visiting the frontier posts I am convinced that the Greeks are showing plenty of strategic skill in disposing of their army and overcoming difficulties for the frontier. It is now clear that they are relying upon rapid movements in the field, particularly artillery movements. They seem to disregard the moral value of strongly entrenched positions, which the Ottomans may great stress upon."

There were collisions in various parts of Crete yesterday. In every instance the insurgents were the aggressors. They have captured several cannon at Kissamo, which is at the western end of the island. The insurgents in that vicinity have written to the foreign admirals asking notice that they are projecting an attack upon the fort at Kissamo. The Turkish garrison there has asked for assistance.

At Larissa the war feeling grows steadily. All day the troops have waited anxiously for the news as to the decision of the government. The feeling among officers and men is one of extreme tension.

London, April 8.—A dispatch to The Times from Constantinople says it is understood there that the Porte has notified the powers of its willingness to withdraw the Turkish garrison from Crete immediately if the Greeks will previously withdraw and the powers guarantee to ratify the island.

Accident Delays an Execution. Columbus, O., April 8.—Although Governor Bushnell refused yesterday afternoon to commute the sentence of William Haas, the Cincinnati rapist and murderer, the execution did not take place this morning. While a final test of the electrical machinery at the penitentiary was being made the dynamo burned out. The machinery had been tested five times previously, and the dynamo had carried 1,500 to 1,600 volts readily. As no one was in the dynamo room at the time of the accident except the prisoners detailed to take care of the machinery some of the officials suspected the dynamo had been tampered with, but the prisoners indignantly denied the imputation. The governor decided to grant the commuted man a respite until April 27. The death warrant had been read to him.
