MINERS' INVESTIGATION.

The Legislative Committee Will be in Shenandoah Friday Morning.

The Legislative Committee which has been appointed to investigate the condition of the miners and laborers of the Anthracite region, and the causes of their condition, will arrive at Mahanoy City this evening at 7:30 o'clock and remain in session there to-morrow morning. This is in accordance with information received by THE HERALD this afternoon from T. L. Eyre, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

Mr. Eyre further states in this connection that the committee will meet at the Fern-sion House, this town, on Friday morning, at nine o'clock, for the purpose of hearing witnesses from Shenandoah. He has deputed Councillor John P. Boehm, of town, to serve the subpoena upon witnesses to appear before the committee.

REVERSAL FOR DIXON AND CUFF

Deprived of Their Judgments and Must Pay Costs.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT RECALLED

Six People were Killed on a Railroad Crossing and the Surviving Members of the Family Recovered Damages.
But Lose Them on Appeal.

By a decision of Judge Smith, of the Superior Court, this week the judgments have been reversed in two of the most interesting cases that have occupied the attention of the people of this country. They are the suits of Michael Cuff and Martin Dixon against the township of Butler, based upon a terrible accident that occurred at a reading railroad crossing about thirteen years ago. The litigation has been pending since, but by Judge Smith's decision are apparently set at rest for all time.

The accident caused great excitement at the time of its occurrence and for a long time after was referred to in warning drivers about approaching railroad crossings, but about six years ago it was forgotten by the majority of the people for the fact of the recital of them in connection with a brief history of the suits will not fail to be interesting.

On the 8th day of August, 1884, a party, who had been attending a funeral at Girard-ville, was driving his horse and carriage, about the middle of the day, to return to their home at Lost Creek. On the outside side of the closed double carriage in the lead were the driver, William Reddy, and Martin Dixon, and inside were Sarah Dixon, and John Dixon, the wife, father, aunt, and infant son, respectively, of Martin Dixon, and Mary Cuff, the wife of Patrick Cuff.

About three-quarters of a mile east of Girardville, the public road, leading from Girardville to Lost Creek, crossed a branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, near the old Connor colliery, now called the Hammond, and the crossing is known as the "Connor Crossing." The carriages were going in an easterly direction towards the crossing, and one hundred and twenty feet west of the crossing there was a large signal board standing between the railroad and the public road, with the words "Look out for the engine and cars" upon it. When about sixty feet from the crossing, some boys who were standing on the breaker trestling over the crossing, called the attention of Reddy and Martin Dixon to a train of coal cars, pushed by an engine, approaching from the west.
Immediately the horses became restive, and the driver, leaving his seat, attempted to hold them, while Martin Dixon, who had been sitting alongside of the driver, took the reins and attempted to hold in controlling them. The horses broke away from the driver, and running along the middle of the road, dashed into the coal train, which was then passing over the crossing. The horses were dragged and the carriage broken to pieces, those inside the carriage were either instantly killed, or so badly injured that they died in a short time. Suits for damages were instituted against the township on the ground that it was the duty of the township to safeguard the public by erecting overhead, or underground crossings at that place. The township dis-claimed such a duty. The cases were tried before Judge Green at Pottsville in April, 1891, and Patrick Cuff secured a judgment for $200.13 and Martin Dixon for $283.81. The township appealed and last December the cases were again before the Superior Court.
Under the decision now rendered by that court Cuff and Dixon lose the judgments awarded them by the jury in the lower court and must pay all costs, which amount to several hundred dollars.

BIG INSURANCE SWINDLE.

Thieving Pittsburg Banker Fainted When Placed Under Arrest.

Pittsburg, April 14.—A colossal attempt at insurance swindling was unearthed yesterday, when C. Linwood Woods, of C. L. Woods & Co., bankers, was arrested in his office in the Park building. The information was made by C. E. Harper chief of the revision department of Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, of New York, charging Woods with procuring policies with intent to defraud. When Woods was confronted by the arresting officer he fainted in a dead faint. On recovering he acknowledged that he was "traced," and was committed to jail in $5,000 bail.
Later he made a full confession, in which he gave the details of his scheme. He says that with a former agent of the Mutual Reserve he entered into a conspiracy to defraud.

His mode of procedure was to insert advertising inserts in the local papers for the purpose of securing subscribers. He would ask the applicants for bond, but kindly waived the bond if the applicant would sign an application for insurance on his life. This was generally secured, and then Woods would get some fire-insurance man to sign a promissory note to the Woods & Co. banking firm, filled out with amounts ranging from $10,000 to $15,000, so that consideration for the insurance policy at death could be obtained to be the debt established by the note. It is not known as yet how the applicants passed the medical examination.

In Woods' desk were found 65 policies, with himself as beneficiary, aggregating $200,000. Some of the policies were issued by the Provident Savings company of New York, the Fidelity of Philadelphia and the Mutual Reserve Fund of New York. In the latter these were policies amounting to $150,000, the other $50,000 being in the first two named.
Woods had policies on the lives of his brother and sister and his fiancée. The other policies were for men over 55 years of age, and Woods stood to realize a goodly sum in the near future.

CHANGING ITS CHANNEL

The Missouri River Threatens Destruction to Valuable Property.

tion to Valuable Property.

Six Thousand People Now Wholly Dependent Upon the Government Relief, Which is Being Expeditionally Distributed by Army Officers.

Omaha, April 14.—The Missouri river is changing its channel past Omaha, and in doing so threatens to destroy property to the value of several million dollars. Monday night the river broke through its banks about a mile above where it left the old channel 20 years ago, and is today running two broad streams across which were two days ago fertile market gardens. These streams run into Florence lake, a relic of a former cutoff. From Florence lake the water is pouring into Cut-off lake, and it now seems only a question of a few hours until East Omaha is moved into Iowa and all the property in line of the flood is swept away.
The government gauge records a rise in the Missouri river of but nine-tenths of a foot in 24 hours. Five miles up the river from the location of the gauge is where the Missouri has broken its banks in two places. The change of the flood accounts for the meager showing of rise on the government gauge.
The first break in the banks occurred a little more than a mile above the original channel, that left Florence lake in the old cutoff, and the water swelling down a stretch of about eight miles has been transformed from fast flowing into a stream of 3,000 feet wide and five feet deep. The market gardens of North Omaha will be swept away, if no further damage results.
The people of that section of the town nearly moved out Monday night, and were busy getting away their effects in boats yesterday.

Cutoff lake is filling up rapidly, and may soon overflow, sweeping down through the upper railroad yards and destroying plants in the north bottom.
Reports from the levee are encouraging, and it is likely the extensive damage now threatened will be averted. Should the river complete the cutoff it has threatened East Omaha, with extensive factory plants, including the great Carver White Lead works, will be moved into Iowa, and the $2, 900,000 bridge of the East Omaha terminal company will be left across a slough, while the thousands of dollars expended by the government in protecting the banks of the river along the great bend will have been wasted on a cutoff lake.

Serious Altercation Resulting From a Game of Marbles.

Special to Evening Herald.

PARK PLACE, April 14.—During recess at the public school here yesterday afternoon a stunning affair followed an altercation between James Biddle and James Boyle, the former aged seven years and the latter aged eight. The boys were playing marbles when Boyle became angered at Biddle, who stopped his marble with his foot. Boyle drew a pocket knife and plunged the blade into Biddle's left shoulder, inflicting an ugly wound, but no serious result is anticipated.

Prof. Williams' Statement.
A short while ago the Philadelphia Press contained a dispatch from Altoona to the effect that Prof. C. W. Williams, who had organized a business college at that place, had skipped out with $4,000 collected from the scholars and that the school had been closed. This was a copy by the county exchanges, and elaborated upon, especially in localities where the Professor is known. Subsequent information shows that the statements were not true. Prof. Williams was in town today and he informed a representative of this paper that there was no truth in the stories, and submitted sufficient evidence to prove his statement. In January last Prof.
Williams disposed of his colleges at Altoona and Shamokin, and that time has not been connected with these institutions. The only college he is managing now is the one at Wilkesbarre, while his brother conducted the one at Mahanoy City. Under these circumstances he naturally feels aggrieved that these reports should have gained circulation.
The Professor is a well and favorably known here. Our business transactions with him have always been of a very pleasant character. We have found him to be just the opposite of anything of a dishonest character. His friends will be pleased to know that their confidence in his integrity was not misplaced.

ber of orders were recently received and it was intended to put the full force of operatives at work to-day.

Telephone Improvements.
George Moore, of Pottsville, general manager for the Pennsylvania Telephone Company, was in town to-day looking after the interests of the system. In reference to the rumor that the company proposed to establish a regular pay station in town Mr. Moore said the report was premature, but no doubt such a step would be taken if the company could secure sufficient subscribers to warrant it in assuming the expense of office and clerk hire that would be necessary.

AGAINST CONVICT LABOR.
An organization to fight Prison Compensation in Pennsylvania.
Marion, Pa., April 14.—A meeting was held here last night to form an anti-convict labor league. Manufacturers were present representing the iron hollowware, iron novelties, brush and cigar industries. Resolutions were adopted favoring the Michigan garbage now before the legislature, prohibiting the use of power driven machinery in the penitentiaries, prisons and reformatory institutions of the state, and asking the members of the legislature to vote for the measure; and, also, facilitating the passage of a bill by the national congress preventing the shipment of convict made goods out of the state in which they are manufactured.
Communications were read from manufacturers throughout the state, and addresses were made by several prominent labor men.

Plymouth Miners Suffering for Food.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 14.—The closing down of the mines in Plymouth has caused much destitution among the miners and their families residing in that town. Yesterday Mayor Nichols, of Wilkesbarre, visited the garbage dumps on the east side of the Susquehanna river opposite Plymouth, and was surprised to find scores of people picking through the garbage and rubbish, eagerly seeking scraps of victuals, including vegetables, etc., in order to keep them from starving. The mayor will make an appeal to the charitable inclined for immediate relief for the sufferers.

MISSISSIPPI FLOOD VICTIMS.

Plenty of Work for the Officers Dis- tributing Government Relief.

Memphis, April 14.—The river continues to rise south of Vicksburg, and the swift current is throwing the water against the Louisiana levees with enormous force. A telegram from Talgach, La., reported that the levee at Davis Island, in Warren county, Miss., had broken, but the report was premature. The water is washing over the levee at that point, however, and a break may occur at any hour. Many people have left the city to seek the most valuable effects and stock. Several spots have developed in the southern levee system. The backwater in the flooded Mississippi delta is now about stationary. The river at Memphis continues to fall slowly.

At Helena the river is declining at the rate of two-tenths of a foot daily.
The refugees are flocking into Helena by every boat. Lieutenants A. S.
Howan and M. Crowley and Captain Graham D. Fitch, U. S. A., arrived at Helena yesterday on the steamer Itasca. A conference between the officers and local relief committee was held. The population of the overflowed territory was put down at approximately 9,000. Of these from 2,000 to 2,500 are now in Helena and scattered along the foothills to a distance of 15 miles. There are 1,800 refugees at Old Town Ridge. The relief committee reported that 4,000 people were dependent upon aid, and $3,000 weekly was the sum decided upon to take care of these people. Lieutenants Howan and Crowley left Helena last evening for Greenville and the White river, to investigate the situation there.
