The flood situation in Madison parish is dally growing worse, owing to the unexpected spread of water from Biggs crevasse. This yesterday overflowed the plantation of the Ashley Land company at Omaga, 30 above this city, and 38 miles north of Biggs crovasse. The company's man-ager telegraphed to Vicksburg for a stramer to bring out stock, and the Ruth left at 4 a. m.

Three thousand people were Issued rations at Vicksburg yesterday, and this total will be considerably increased, it is believed. The situation prezents many difficulties. Some planters are ready and anxious to supply the wants of their tenants. Others, who wants of their tenants. Others, who see no prospect of making a crop, being on low land, are either unable or unwilling to do so. Many negroes, who could get supplies to be paid for when a crop is made, prefer to get free rations. To weed out the undeserving is a task of great difficulty, but it is being done approximately. The people of Vicksburg have contributed and are contributing most liberally to feed the hungry. Tents for 2,000 persons were received at Vicksburg yesterday, and arrangements were made today to great them. They will relieve a state of unhealthful overcrowding.
