BRUMM ON THE TARIPP.

The the Philadelphia Ledger of the 25d lines, we notice a communication from Hon.

Charles N. Bramm, in which our Compressman corrects the Ledger in some misleading statements it made in an addrorial article bearing on the duties of hides and wool.
Mr. Bramm says the article in question
"buries a great error under a great truth."

The error is made in "assuming that all duties must necessarily raise the price of the article upon which they are levied. This is true when they are levied for revenue only; whereas, when a duty is lavied as a protoctive fariff (which, of course, also produces revenue), the article ence which it is levied Charles N. Brumm, in which our Congressto in the long run reduced in price. That, of course, inclindes the duty as well as the freight on the labor and natural conditions. In speaking of the tariff on wool, while admitting that it would for a short time increase the price to the consumer, Mr. Brumm argues that "if a daty on wool is lovied only sufficient to protect our farmers against finetnations and speculations of the foreign wool grower and dealer, it will coours stability. stimulate the production of wood in this country, and so enlarge the world's product of wool that the price of wool will be reduced to the lawest point of cost of production in the most favored localities, plus only transportation and the healthy protective duty. In other words, it will deprive the foreign producer of his abnormal profite, and Undertaking! make him appropriate them to the payment of the protective duties that we lovy.

'A duty on bides, however, will raise the price of hides and leather and all its products because a duty on bides will not atimulate the production of bides, and therefore will not enlarge the world's product, and not adding to the supply, nor detracting from the demand, the price will be raised to the full extent of the duty.
