capacity of the general staff.

Whatever may be the value of M. Ralli's strictures, they seem for the moment echoed by the voice of the multitude. The Greek populace in many respects resembles the French, and the old cry of "Nous Sommes Trahis" is being raised. It is now the fashion to denounce persons in high places, and newspapers which only the other day were sulosizing King George and M. Delyannis for having placed themselves at the head of a national crusade are now hounding on the people against the constituted authorities. Some are openly attacking the crown prince. Others go so far as to announce that he has been recalled, the wish apparently being father to the thought, Journals which formerly made war are now trying to make revolution. What may be the result of the present storm of oblequy it is difficult to foresee.

Ex-Minister Raill's attitude is the most serious feature in the Greco-Turkish emergency. Ralli openly threatened that unless the military staff was changed be would issue a proclamation to the people. His state-ments acted like oil upon fire, and the popular excitement flared up. Crowds assembled in the streets to discuss them, and wanted to march to the palace to read hem to King George.
