Evening Herald

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1897.

THE old saying, "Politics makes quack and follows," is being exemplified daily in this country.

The advocates of a crematory for Slavonia are gathering converts daily. It's a good thing! push it along.

THE Nisham City American has ceased its efforts in behalf of the hospital fund, and is now conducting a bicycle contest.

This town is slow, and so is the man, that doesn't seem a whole fleet of steamships these days. What say you, friend Tiley?

Now that the tariff bill has been reported to the Senate, it is to be hoped the measures will pass that body at an early date.

Tire School Board will meet this evening, and among other things will endeavor to all the swiftness in the corps of teachers.

Two more investigations were ordered yesterday by the Pennsylvania Legislature. Cannot somebody squat, for instance—induce the do nothing body to adjourn?

WEATHER forecast equal to that of my two other papers in Shenandoah, and steadily increasing the Human occupants an enviable position among advertisers and the reading public.

THE Grand Jury has found true bills against Poor Directors Dutrich and Alvensfeld, and they will now be afforded an opportunity to clear themselves of the charges made against them.

THE Potowmack Republican says a local green grocer is "prepared to serve goods by telephone to his customers." The ingenuity of the average Potowmack is proverbial, but it would be a great sight to witness a head of cabbage going over the wire.

THE paving project is assuming shape again; and the indications are North Main street, between Centre and Coal, will be paved this summer. The property owners in that locality would favor the project, and the Council would probably assume its share of the work.

A Chesapeake says: "The first well pulled up in the ground, the first dollar put in the savings bank and the first mile traveled on a journey are all very important things; they make a beginning and thereby a hope, a pledge, an assurance that you are in earnest in what you have undertaken. How many a poor soul, after hesitating outset, is now creeping and crawling his way through the world, who might have held up his head and prospered, if instead of putting off his resolutions of amendment and industry, had he only made a beginning."

JAMES H. GANTY, the minister of Madras, India, the nation, was on Monday removed to the Eastern Penitentiary, where he began to serve his term of life imprisonment. The removal from the gloomy walls of "Old Mayo," where the "life man" sat within shadow of the scaffold for days and days, was without a word, and the trip was made without incident. At the Eastern Penitentiary the transfer was simple. Ganty was given over to the warden by the Sheriff, his suit of brown taken off and the garb put on, which will wear until the sentence of life has been served out.

KINGSTON's weather prognosticator, Prof. Cole, offers this advice to business men and others, as a guide during the month of May: "We warn all business men to stand firm and do not attempt to pay your creditors. For on the 17th of this month we reach the extreme summit of evil planetary influences, and a general attempt to force creditors now would bring on the greatest financial catastrophe this world has ever experienced. With panics in stocks will take place during the next two months. The times are improving slowly—but there is great danger of a relapse. Therefore the above timely warning is given."

SENATOR PENNOCK is amply fulfilling the prediction of his friends, and gaining not only to the estimation of his colleagues but has the confidence of the entire people of the state. His political friends are gratified to know that he will dispense the patronage in the eastern part of the state. To the matter of economy he will get good arguments, but like every other Senator will have to begin with the less important photo. He will be on the Committee on Post Offices, which will give him control of all Pennsylvania post office nominations, and he will have several other less important assignments, the rest of which will be on the Committees on Immigration.

THE ministers of New York are, one might say, mildly angered at Dwight L. Moody, the famous evangelist, who has just announced that he intends holding a series of sunshiny meetings at Carnegie Hall, at which a number of clergymen from England will preach. It is this induction which has excited the local ministers to indignation. They say Mr. Moody's winter revivals caused the dereliction of their congregations and a gradual disintegration in the working forces of their churches. A number of ministers said that they thought some stand should be taken, in regard to the matter, as a censure of the meetings would result in paralyzing all branches of their work. One of the foremost opponents of Mr. Moody's plan of holding summer meetings in Carnegie Hall is Rev. Dr. R. S. Macarthur, of the Calvary Baptist church, which is almost opposite.

When the spring time comes, "gentle Annie," like all other sensible persons, will cleanse the liver and renovate the system with DeWitt's Little Green Pills, famous little pills for the greater stomach all the year round. C. H. Hagenbuch.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

Ex-Senator Coke is critically ill at Waco, Tex.

August Bauer, the composer, is ill in the Bellevue Hospital, New York.

Cesar Wilde is still in prison in England, but will be released on the 1st of this month.

Fish packers and dealers of all the great lakes ports will meet in Chicago Friday to form a pool.

The exhibition of the kinetoscope pictures of the Corbett-Pitmanian prizewinners will be forbidden in Pueblo, Col.

Thirteen well-known physicians in Atlanta, Ga., are to be tried by a medical court on charge of breach of ethics.

Advises received in Paris say that Prince Henry of Orleans had an audience with King Milos of Abyssinia on April 12.

The statue of Professor Gross, the distinguished Philadelphia surgeon erected at Washington, was unveiled this afternoon.

Joseph Thorne, the inventor of the Thorne typesetting and distributing machine, died at Sing Sing, N. Y., yesterday, aged 72.

How to Treat a W.

(From Pacific Health Journal.)

First, get a wife; second, be patient. You may have great trials and perplexities in your business, but do not therefore, carry to your home a cloudy or contracted brow. Your wife may have trials, which, though of less magnitude, may be hard for her to bear. A kind word, a tender look, will do wonders to cheering from her brow all clouds of gloom—so to speak—and always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy by the house. It is the best and sure to be needed sooner or later. Your wife will then know that you really care for her and wish to protect her health. Far be it from Gruber Bros., druggists.

First aid in a Southern Village.

Inville, Tenn., May 5.—Passenger train No. 1, on the Southern railway, was wrecked and several lost last night near Blue Creek, 100 miles from Knoxville. Two people are reported killed and others wounded.
