AN ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE I

Bloody Use of a Knife Made in the Lockup.

VICTIM TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL

A Large Arm Vein Was Severed and the Would-Be Suicide Almost Died to Death—Found Unconscious in a Large Pool of Blood.

John Karkick, a Polish prisoner in the lockup, made a desperate attempt to commit suicide in his cell early this morning by jabbing himself in the right arm with the large blade of a penknife.

Constable Joe Peters, of Wm. Penn, had arrested Karkick and he was most surprised when he walked into the cell at about eight o'clock this morning and found his prisoner lying unconscious in a great pool of blood on the floor of the cell.

Immediately upon making his discovery Peters summoned Dr. G. M. Hamilton, who found that the man had cut his right fore arm and the wound was sufficiently recovered he was placed in a carriage and taken to the Miners' hospital by Constable Peters.

The facts leading to the arrest are gleaned as follows: Karkick and Alex. Meculla formed a partnership and started a grocery business in one of the Centerville properties on West Centre street.

When first arrested Karkick talked freely about his troubles and showed a receipt for $110 purporting to have been given him by Meculla.
