STRIKE AT CENTRALIA. It Causes a Suspension in The Building of a Breaker. Special to EVENING HERALD. CENTRALIA, May 24.—The work of tearing down the old Centralia breaker to make room for the new one has been indefinitely suspended on account of a disagreement between the employees and the superintendent in charge. It seems that on Saturday the men were notified to work the full ten hours, but they claimed the right to quit work at the usual hour, 3:30 p. m., and went home. When they came out this morning they were ordered home. Carpenters, masons and laborers, numbering about 150 in all, are idle in consequence of the trouble. The officials say the men cannot resume work until they agree to work a full day on Saturdays.

THE SAULE SCORCHES. And the Editor of It Multiplies His Own Troubles. BITTER ATTACKS ON CLERGYMEN. Revs. Pautienius and Melukas, of the Lithuanian Catholic Churches of Mahanoy City and This Town, Resent Abuse by Bringing Suits For Libel.

The editor of the Saule (The Sun), a Lithuanian paper published at Mahanoy City, has brought additional trouble on his shoulders by attacking people he claims have been instrumental in having him prosecuted in the United States District Court at Philadelphia for making obscene publications. The editor is D. T. Kochowski. His trial on obscene publication charges is fixed for trial at Philadelphia to-morrow. In the latter case the charge interests one of the assistant pastors of St. George's Lithuanian church, of town, and he appears as a prosecutor. The second case is one of libel before Justice May at Mahanoy City and was heard on Saturday evening. The complaint was made by Rev. Pautienius, of the Mahanoy City Lithuanian Catholic church, and Rev. Melukas, of Shenandoah. It appears that in the issue of the Saule of the 18th inst. there appeared an article which is translated as follows: "Prosecutor Sunkala has for witnesses, among the foes of Saule, Rev. Pautienius, Rev. Melukas and others. Sunkala is only one prosecutor." The Sunkala referred to is the prosecutor in the case against the editor in Philadelphia. In addition to the above quoted translation the article contains the people the editor aims at as "enemies of the church," "Judas," etc., and speaks of the readers of the Saule as "unhappy people, ye Lithuanians, who permit such persons to rule who are enemies of the Lithuanian nation." Of course the clergy connected with the respective churches take exception to this scathing language and bring it as an attempt to disrupt the congregations, as well as lessen the influences and relations existing between the pastors and congregations. The editor of the Saule waived a hearing and entered $1,000 bail. The case has aroused great interest among the Lithuanian people of both towns and the result of the case will be anxiously awaited.

WORKMEN BURIED ALIVE. One Man Killed and Several Seriously Injured by Cavellias. New Castle, Pa., May 24.—The big Rosena furnace in this city, owned by Senator H. H. Hanna and ex-Senator Cameron, let go yesterday, and a great volume of coke, iron ore and coal came crashing through the roof of the casting house, burying 20 men under the debris. Manager Reis was taken out with the skin hanging in shreds from his head and falling sheet iron. His legs were terribly burned and bruised. Half a dozen other men were also injured.

A dozen other men were also injured. About 30 minutes after the accident at the Rosena furnace a cavetin occurred at the big 70 foot out of the New Castle Traction company, that was engaged in making a track to the New Castle park. Michael Curly was buried under 15 feet of sand, gravel, clay and rocks, and was dead when taken out. Peter Horinsky was terribly crushed about the shoulders and hips, while his chest was crushed.

MR. QUINN MOVES. One Well Known Townsman and His Family go to Scranton. Charles J. Quinn, one of the most prominent and popular residents of this town, today moved with his family to Scranton, where Mr. Quinn has established headquarters as manager of the Singer Manufacturing Company's business in the outlying regions of this state. Mr. Quinn takes with him the good will of the people of this town and we believe we echo a unanimous sentiment when we say that, although pleased to note his prospective advancement in his departure from our midst, is deeply regretted. Mr. Quinn is a representative of the men who make themselves peculiarly of great benefit to a community. He has always commanded respect by his wise, conservative and modest methods in both private and public affairs and socially his popularity has been unimpaired. He leaves a record which many more pretensions might envy. During his residence of sixteen years here Mr. Quinn has constantly held the position of manager for the Singer Manufacturing Company and the manner in which he has filled the position is best attested by the confidence his company has reposed in him by making the promotion which requires the removal of the gentleman to Scranton. His fidelity to the interests of his employers and the uprightness and fairness which has characterized his dealings with the company's patrons make his promotion well deserved in the eyes of his friends here. Although always diligently engaged in his private business, yet Mr. Quinn found time occasionally to take a hand in politics. In this sphere his gentlemanly and intelligent characteristics also manifested themselves and it was always his aim to keep politics as far above the reach and influence of the individual known as "the boomer" as it was possible for him to do so personally. This had the effect of giving him great influence in the political circles of this county and he is as widely and favorably known among the Schuylkill Democrats as anyone who has ever taken an interest in their affairs. He has been a power in many of the county conventions and Judge Dunn's nomination and election to the Orphans' Court of this county was in no small measure due to the business like methods Mr. Quinn instituted into the fall campaign of 1895.

Although Mr. Quinn's removal to Scranton appears to be a permanent one, we believe that he will make his home again in Schuylkill county. He was born and has always lived in Schuylkill, and he has said more than once that his heart was with it. This leads to the conclusion that with continued success and an ultimate requirement of sufficient upon which to make the future of himself and family independent of business affairs he will return again and make his home, if not in Shenandoah, somewhere within the bounds of Schuylkill. Meanwhile the Herald joins his many friends in wishing Mr. Quinn and his family continued prosperity and happiness.

The active management of the local agency of the Singer Manufacturing Company, which Mr. Quinn relinquishes, passes into the hands of his brother, P. F. Quinn, who has represented the same company for many years at Branchville and is excellently qualified for the position.

THE WORK OF CONGRESS. Senators Ready For the Great Tariff Debate. OPPOSITION TO LONG SPEECHES! General Sentiment Among Straight Republicans Favors Hurrying the Measure to a Vote—House Will Delay the Senate's Cuban Resolution.

Washington, May 24.—Tomorrow, ten weeks and a day after the beginning of the session, the senate will take up the tariff bill, for the passage of which the session was especially called. The bill was to have been called up today, but the death of Senator Earle, of South Carolina, renders necessary an adjournment for a day. Senator Aldrich will call up the bill, move its consideration and make a speech in its support. The Democratic amendment striking out the internal revenue features of the bill will be introduced by Senator Vest.

After this the course of procedure is somewhat indefinite. The Democrats are not clear as to whether they will permit the immediate taking up of the schedules or will demand an opportunity to make set speeches bearing upon the general policy of the bill. The prevailing opinion among the Democratic leaders is against the policy of general speeches at the beginning of the discussion, but they will not attempt to restrain individual senators who may wish to be heard. There are some Democratic senators who are disposed to discuss the general features of the bill, and who incline to the opinion that the best time for such speeches will be while the debate on the bill is young.

Senator Vest does not expect to make a speech in presenting the motion to strike out the revenue features, but the motion may lead to an immediate debate, and in case exception is taken to it the Missouri senator will be heard from. The silver Republicans and Populists will seek opportunity during the pendency of the bill to present some remarks of a political nature, and some of them may be heard during the week.

The general sentiment among straight Republicans is adverse to the inauguration of any general discussion of the bill or to long speeches on the schedules, but no party policy has yet been decided upon. A caucus has been called for this purpose to be held this afternoon. There will immediately be strong opposition to some of the schedules on the part of Republican senators, and amendments will be firmly pressed. Some of these amendments will be offered to the chairman's schedule, the first of the list, and they will probably be reached during the present week. Other features of the bill which the Republican senators will attack are those affecting the sugar and wool duties and taking hides from the free list.

Senator Aldrich says he will not speak to exceed an hour. He will give, for the first time, the estimates of the Republican members of the finance committee of the amount of revenue the bill will produce, and will explain the committee's plan of action, giving the reasons for some of the more important amendments made.

In reply to a question Mr. Aldrich will be offered to the chairman's schedule, in behalf of the Republican side of the senate, said that when the bill was once taken up he would press consideration to the exclusion of all other business, except conference reports, until it should be finally disposed of.

The conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill probably will be considered some time during the week. The conference committee has practically agreed upon a compromise on the forestry reservation provision which they hope will prove satisfactory to all and sunny civil bills may or not can only be determined when the report is presented to congress.
