

Eczema All Her Life.

Mr. E. D. Jenkins, of Lithonia, Ga., says that his daughter, Ida, inherited a severe case of Eczema, which the usual mercury and potassium remedies failed to cure. Year by year she was treated with various medicines, external applications and internal remedies, without result. Her sufferings grew steadily worse, and her condition grew steadily worse. All the so-called blood remedies did not seem to reach the disease at all until S.S.S. was given, when an improvement was at once noticed. The medicine was continued with favorable results, and now she is cured and well, her skin is perfectly clear and pure and she has been saved from what threatened to blight her life forever.

THE FLOOD AT EL PASO.

Headgate of a Canal Breaks and Increases the Danger.

FAMILIES FLEEING FROM HOMES.

Many of the Houses Washed Away by the Rushing Waters and Furniture Carried Off by the Flood—Four Hundred Families Homeless.

El Paso, Tex., May 25.—Yesterday morning the river showed a rise of six inches over Wednesday night, and the water was sweeping down the river at a terrific rate. Early in the morning the headgate of the canal, which is above the levee, began to give way, and 500 men with axes, axes of men and with low boats were put to work to prevent a break at the headgate, while about 1,000 men were stretched along the improved levee at the other side of the city, where the water continued to creep up.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the headgate gave way with a rush, and the river poured into the canal. The first alarm was sounded to warn people in the lower districts, and in an hour it was impossible to make any organized effort to take the water out of the canal, which were soon over the banks of the canal, inundating the territory on both sides.

The people living along the banks of the canal are the poorer laboring classes, and their homes were soon under water. Men and women were wading through the water from their homes, taking their children in their arms. The houses, being in most cases built of adobe, melted away at the touch of the rushing waters, and household furniture, clothing, etc., were floating around in all directions, while men were at work trying to keep the waters from crossing the Santa Fe yards, where they would flood the passenger depot and pour down on the gas and electric light works and manufacturing plants and wholesale houses located just north of the city.

The levee at the foot of El Paso street broke, and in a short time 20 little residences in that locality were flooded. By this time the people for three blocks north of the flood were out, and the streets were thronged with men and women. The water, loaded with the belongings of those fleeing from the rising waters. For nearly three miles across the town and the river front everybody is moving up into the business portion of the city and to the more elevated residential sections.

General Malloy, in charge of Old Fort Bliss, received a telegram from Department Quartermaster Sampson, at San Antonio, authorizing him to allow the homeless to move into the houses at Old Fort Bliss.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the levee on Sixth street was abandoned by the city, as Mayor Magoffin put several hundred men and teams to work throwing up a new levee on Fourth street. The waters cannot reach the fashionable residence portion of the city, which lies north and east of the business center. The river is still rising.

The break yesterday afternoon resulted in leaving at least 400 poor families homeless. One hundred feet of levee on the Mexican side has been washed away, and quite a number of houses are flooded. Men are hard at work trying to save the two street railway bridges. If the river rises ten inches more it will flood the business portion of El Paso.

A dispatch from Santa Fe, N. M., says a rise of eight inches in the Rio Grande is reported from the Colorado line, and it has been raining continually over the Rio Grande watershed, north of this city, all day. The prospects are that a fresh flood, carrying from one to two feet more water than is now flowing, has started toward El Paso. Dispatches report a downpour all day along the Colorado line. This will serve to increase the freshets already flowing in the Rio Grande tributaries. At Chamita the river has reached the highest point known in ten years, and in Espanola valley the current is a quarter of a mile wide.
