Piling Up the Costs.
 From the Mines Journal.
 In the District Attorney's office the deputies and clerks were busy on cases for criminal court. Deputy Bashore called the "Journal" reporter's attention to a return made by one of the borough justices of Shenandoah who was recently ousted. This return was for a petty larceny case whereby the article stolen was a drawing knife valued at only 50 cents. There is an Act of Assembly giving Justices of the peace the power to dispose of such petty cases. This Justice, who is certainly brainy enough to know this law, chose to send it to court. The costs will now be added up to $20 or $30, an outlay of money that could have been avoided if the Justice had not been so anxious to make a few extra dollars.
