EARLY MORNING FIRE.

A Blaze in a Pretzel Bakery Causes Excitement.

Shortly after five o'clock this morning fire broke out in a bake house on the Manley property, on West Centre street, used by Kindt, the pretzel maker. Although the flames spread rapidly and communicated with John P. Carlin's paint house in the adjoining yard, the fire department succeeded in extinguishing them before they did much damage outside the place in which they started. The baker placed his loss at about $70 and the damage to the bake house and surroundings amounted to about $400. One side of Carlin's paint shop was in full blaze when the firemen arrived upon the scene, but they prevented the fire from reaching the paint shop and other inflammable materials. The work of the firemen was greatly appreciated by the residents of the locality, which is very thickly built up with frame dwellings and other buildings. The cause of the fire could not be learned. Nobody was in the place when the fire started. The top of one of the shut-off valves used by the Columbia company was blown off while a line was in service at the fire.

An Interesting Meeting.

The regular meeting of Washington Camp, No. 206, E. O. S. of A., held last evening, was one of much interest and profit to the membership. This is the second oldest camp in town, being instituted about eleven years ago, and has among its membership many of the leading citizens of Shenandoah. Last night's meeting was unusually interesting because of the presence of the Secretary William Ward, of Philadelphia, and prominent members of other camps. The former stopped over here on his way to Lewistown to institute a new camp at that place. He delivered an excellent address to the members, which was followed by others upon topics of special interest at this time. Camp 206 has taken a new lease of life, and henceforth will do some practical work in the upbuilding of the order.

Killed in Cuba.

The relatives of Irwin Lusch, a former Tannock boy, have been informed that he met death while serving in the Cuban army. Irwin fell down about four years ago and his relatives had almost lost trace of him. When last heard of, about a year ago, he was in Chicago and announced his intention of going to Cuba. This father of the young man, Andrew Lusch, died about two months ago.—Tannock Herald.

Decrease in Net Earnings.

The Board of City Trusts, of Philadelphia, held a meeting on Wednesday at which a report of the committee on the Girard estate was submitted. This report shows as much as anything else the condition of the anthracite coal trade. There has been a decrease in the net income from January 1 to May 31, 1897, of $75,814.18 on the estate in the coal region, as compared with the same period of 1896. The annual income from the coal region generally averages about $500,000.

TRACTION TROUBLES.

Passengers Alarmed by an Obstreperous and Violent Man.

THEY FIRST GOT THE RUFFIAN OF THE CAR AND WERE THEN OBLIGED TO OVERPOWER AND BIND HIM—COMMITTED TO THE POTTSVILLE JAIL.

There was an exciting incident on the Shenoykill Traction line, between Big Mine Run and Ashland, last night, during which the passengers on a car were badly scared and the crew of the car were kept hard at work subduing the cause of the trouble, a man named John Steinhilber, a resident of Ashland who bears an unenviable reputation.

When Conductor Flaherty asked for Steinhilber's fare he received a refusal garnished with language that was more forcible than elegant. Persuasions and threats failed and finally the conductor notified Motorman Kleese to stop the car. The work of ejecting the obstreperous passenger commenced. The other passengers made space for the fray and after several long, strong pulls Steinhilber was ejected. As he landed upon the ground he picked up a large stone and hurled it through one of the car windows. Fortunately none of the passengers were struck by it. The conductor and motorman were about to resume the journey when Steinhilber prepared to throw more stones. Steinhilber was threatened, but he responded with defiance and the crew decided to take no risks. Flaherty and Kleese left the car and grappled with the ruffian, notwithstanding he made a move to draw a revolver. A hot struggle ensued and ended by the conductor and motorman getting Steinhilber down upon the ground and tying his hands behind his back, after which they carried him back to the car and took him to Ashland.

Upon arrival at that place Steinhilber was arraigned before Justice Garner on a series of charges. After a hearing he was committed to the Pottsville jail in default of bail. Steinhilber will be represented to the full extent of the law by the railroad company. He is not a stranger to the courts.

WRIGHT ALL RIGHT.

Hard Times Make Rough Roads For an Optician.

After patiently and ineffectually waiting three months for an improvement in the times and a corresponding increase in his practice Mr. Wright, the optician, concluded yesterday to pull up stakes and strike out for pastures new. He proceeded to move his belongings from the office he rented at the corner of Jordan and Lloyd streets, without striking a balance, with the landlord and had made the removal complete before the representative of the latter appeared upon the scene.
