KILLED ON A RAILROAD.

A Shenandoah Young Man Meets Death in New Jersey.

Philip Lang, aged 21 years, and son of John and Mary J. Lang, of South Bowers street, was killed last night on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad at Belle Mead, New Jersey, which is ten miles from Bound Brook. The parents received a telegram this morning informing them of the accident, but giving no particulars. John and William Lang, brothers of the deceased, left town at noon to go to Belle Mead and claim the remains. The body will be brought here. The deceased left here last fall. He secured employment in the P. & R. R. yards at Philadelphia and subsequently became a brakeman on the road, running between Philadelphia and New York on the Bound Brook division.

The Great Welsh Bros. Performance.
The Reading Times of a recent issue says: "The excellent show of the Welsh Bros. at South and Robeson streets, is drawing full houses every evening, and all are delighted with the performances. The afternoon exhibitions are well patronized by ladies and children. There is but one ring, but always something in it, and for two full hours they give a show that from start to finish is equal to that of higher priced attractions. There are novel and marvellous acts on the program by the Dumbars; Prince Kaminsky does some wonderful contortions, and Harry Delman some clever juggling. A feature greatly enjoyed by the young folks is Kerak's pig circus and the trick milk." The circus will show at Shenandoah June 17, 18 and 19th. They arrived here to-day and gave an afternoon performance. They have been drawing large crowds throughout the region.

A Cruel Mother.
Mrs. Anthony Adamovitz, a Polish woman residing on West Strawberry alley, was arrested at 1:30 o'clock this morning by Policeman Koster for drunkenness. The woman started out on a spree at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and left her nursing child all day and night in the house without attention until neighbors were attracted by its cries. Last week the woman had her husband put under trial for trial at court for beating her. It is said to be an industrious man and says that before his arrest he managed to keep his wife within bounds occasionally by beating her, but now if he attempts to do it she threatens him with a dose of law. It is a striking case of depravity on the part of the woman.

Kendrick House Free Lunch.

Benevolent Performance.
The ladies and gentlemen who took part in the recent production of the cantata "Rebecca" at Robbins' opera house met in the Primitive Methodist church last night and decided to repeat the production in Ferguson's theatre on July 13th for the benefit of John Hall, the young man who was brutally assaulted on the Lehigh Valley railroad several weeks ago and lost his left foot by a train passing over it while he lay unconscious beside the track.

Ice Cream, 30 Cents per Quart.
Strawberry and vanilla, flavors. At Schneider's bakery, 29 East Centre street.

Youthful Scourge.
Last evening a six-year-old son of Mrs. J. F. Motility of Tanager, who was wrecked last night on the Lehigh Valley railroad, was riding on a bicycle on East Centre street with a bicycle, had a very narrow escape from sustaining severe injuries. The boy left the wheel to fall over the hill and passed the Lehigh Valley tracks without mishap. When he reached Bowers street the tire on the wheel punctured by being caught in the Lakeside tracks and the rider was hurled several feet over the top of the bike into the street. He picked himself up and escaped with a few scratches.

PASTOR AS DETECTIVE.

Rev. Frier, of Llewellyn, Can Give Some Hawkshaw Points.

TRACED A THIEF TO THIS TOWN.

He Failed to Catch Him, But Better Still, Recovered His Property and Returned Home Satisfied—How the Preacher Worked Up His Case.

Thomas Jefferson, a well known character of town, has shipped to avoid arrest in a case of robbery which was worked up against him by a minister located at Llewellyn, in this county. Officers have been on the hunt for Jefferson since last Monday, but he successfully eluded them and to-day it was learned that he had left the town.

The case presents some interesting facts. Last Sunday night a buggy was stolen from the stable of Rev. J. D. Frier, the venerable pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Llewellyn. At about the same time a set of harness was stolen from a neighboring stable. Rev. Frier undertook a piece of detective work of his own shaping with good success. He soon learned that a man named Thomas Jefferson, of Shenandoah, had been seen riding on horseback through Minersville during the early part of Sunday night. Taking this as a clue the preacher came to this town and, with the aid of Constable Tallesia Phillips, learned that Jefferson was about to move on a farm in the Catawissa Valley owned by James Patterson of town. After a consultation the preacher decided to visit the farm and he took the constable with him. Upon approaching their destination they learned that a buggy had been secreted in a woods nearby last Monday. They searched the place designed without success, but subsequently learned that the buggy was taken out of the woods on Tuesday and put in the barn on the Patterson farm. Upon visiting the barn they found the buggy with the top missing and also the set of harness. The preacher, but unsatisfied, however, and upon continuing his search located the buggy top in an abandoned house nearby. Rev. Frier and the constable then returned to town and a warrant for Thomas Jefferson's arrest was sworn out. The preacher had already given a tip and kept steady. Rev. Frier has returned to Llewellyn and the buggy and harness have been shipped to town. The missing man is a brother of William and John Jefferson, who were released from the Lehigh Valley jail after a struggle with Policeman Koster. Since the developments in the case Mr. Patterson has decided not to allow the Jeffersons to move on his farm.

STATE TAX ON BEER.

One Cent a Gallon on Both the Domestic and Foreign Article.

HARRISBURG, June 17.—The Senate yesterday passed the Beis bill, placing a tax of one cent a gallon on foreign and domestic beers. They were laid aside to have them printed. The bill was on third reading and precipitated an animated discussion. Some of the opponents contended that the bill is unconstitutional, in so far as it has a bearing on the product manufactured outside of this state.

The bill creating a State Board of Arbitration for the settlement of differences between employers and employes went through finally without any opposition.

The act providing for the physical education of pupils in the state's educational institutions was postponed for the present, because the author of the measure was absent.

In the House the bill amending the Brooks High License act, allowing a tax of one cent per gallon on foreign and domestic beers, was on third reading and passed by a vote of 108 to 70. It requires municipalities before establishing public lighting plants of their own to purchase, through the courts, the property and franchises of existing lighting companies. Extraordinary efforts were exerted in support of the bill, which had been defeated on second reading, but reconsidered and again beaten on third reading only to be once more reconsidered and passed finally yesterday.

The bill to transfer the power of placing electric lights in Philadelphia from City Councils to the Director of Public Works was defeated on final passage in the House.

The Bureau of Mines and Mining bill has passed the House, and is now in the hands of the Governor who will probably sign it. It provides for the creating of a mining department, the appointment of a Commissioner of Mines, at a salary of $4,000 a year, a deputy and a number of clerks.

Harrisburg is to have another newspaper, published by William Joyce, late of the Sentinel, of that place.

It is rumored that the Ashland Local, J. Harry James' paper, has changed hands, and is now controlled by a syndicate of county officials.

The American's bicycle contest received a black eye by the withdrawal of the leaders, William and Morris. It is sometimes cheaper to buy a bicycle than "buck the corner," as these two young men now realize.

The Mt. Carmel News prides itself on having the only typesetting machine in that county.

School Board Meeting.
A special meeting of the School Board has been called for to-morrow evening, at 5:30 o'clock, for general business. It will be held at the High School building.

Aristic Work.
In Holdeman's large show window is displayed a handsome life-size pastel portrait of Clarence, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Burke, of South White street. The painting is executed in a handsome oval gilt frame, 42x50 inches, and is the work of Billinger, the photographers, and reflects great credit on the artist. The child won a prize in the Philadelphia Press baby show several months ago.

Greatest Mine in North America.
Denver, June 17.—The new tunnel in the Tomboy mine, near Tallahassee, Colo., has cut the great ore chert in that property to a depth of 420 feet below the old workings. The upper workings have shown a continuous body of free milling over 2,000 feet long and 9 to 14 feet wide. A controlling interest in the mine was recently sold to the Hollands, Governor Adams, one of the owners, says the new development makes it not only the greatest mine in Colorado, but the greatest in North America.

Alleged Involuntaries on Trial.
Reading, Pa., June 17.—Last yesterday afternoon Dr. Percy L. Archer, of New York, his mother, Mrs. Samuel Snyder, and his stepfather were placed on trial here to answer the charge of burning the house and barn on the Snyder property at Feast, in this county. At the time of the arrests, several weeks ago, there was great excitement, owing to the prominence of the accused parties. It is alleged that the buildings were burned for the insurance.

Rapid Work on the Tariff.
Washington, June 17.—The senate made rapid progress on the tariff bill yesterday. There were no long speeches, and the debate was of a snappy character, which at times enlivened, but did not delay, the serious work of the bill. Thirteen pages were disposed of, carrying the senate through the agricultural schedule and up to section 11, relating to spirits, wines, etc. During the day the paragraphs of dairy products, farm products, fish, fruit and nuts, meat products and the miscellaneous agricultural products were acted on. Mr. Vest's motion to refer to the free list was rejected, by a vote of 24 to 21. The important paragraph imposing a tax on tea went over at the suggestion of Mr. Allison, who expressed hope that this duty on tea might be dispensed with.

Charged With Robbing a Borough.
Reading, Pa., June 17.—An officer from this city yesterday afternoon arrested John L. Doering, ex-borough treasurer of Hamberg. He is charged with embezzling $500 of the borough's funds. His bondmen had previously paid a deficit of $1,400. Doering was admitted to bail pending a further hearing.

New Occupation For Cornets.
Scranton, Pa., June 17.—William A. Brady announced to some personal friends here last night that he had made an offer for the St. Louis National league baseball franchise, and was daily expecting a reply to his proposition. If the deal went through, he said, he proposed to have Jim Corbett manage the team and play first base.

MINISTER TO SPAIN!

He is General Stewart L. Woodford, of New York.

HAS A BRILLIANT WAR RECORD!

Was Bravest Brigadier General For Gallantry in Action—Is a Warm Friend of Senator Platt, Who Urged Him For a Cabinet Position.

Washington, June 17.—The president yesterday nominated Stewart L. Woodford, of New York, for Minister to Spain.

General Woodford was born in New York on Sept. 3, 1835, and is descended from early settlers of Connecticut. His military career began in the revolution and in the war of 1812. The newly appointed minister entered Columbia college at 15, but spent the sophomore year at Yale, completing his studies at Columbia, and graduating in 1854. He was admitted to the bar in 1857, and entered politics in the first Lincoln campaign, 1860.

Lincoln offered him the judgeship of the territory of Nebraska, but he declined it. Later he became assistant United States district attorney of New York, and prosecuted the cases growing out of the blockade. He resigned to enter the army as a volunteer in company H, One Hundred and Twenty-seventh New York regiment. He was made captain, and served till 1864 in Virginia, South Carolina, and the District of Columbia. He was judge advocate general of the department of the south, provost marshal, general and chief of staff of General Gilmore, and was brevetted brigadier general for gallantry in action.

After the war General Woodford was military governor of the city of Charleston, and later of Savannah. He resigned his commission in 1865, and resumed his law practice. In the fall of 1865 he was nominated for Judge of the common pleas in the city of New York, though he lived in Brooklyn. In 1868 he was elected lieutenant governor on the ticket with Governor Fenton, the youngest lieutenant governor up to that time. He presided over the Grant electoral college of the state in 1872, and defeated W. W. Goodrich for congress the same year.

General Woodford was the unsuccessful candidate for governor against John T. Hoffman, and in 1876 was a candidate in the Republican national convention for vice president, receiving 69 votes.

Mr. Woodford is an old friend of Senator Platt, and the two have been on intimate terms since they were colleagues in congress a score of years ago. The incident in the latter's life when Mr. Woodford refused to support for governor Judge Folger, later secretary of the treasury, saying he would not support a Republican nominated on a "forged telegram," put him at odds with the Republicans of the state for some years, but he finally went back into the fold. Senator Platt vigorously urged him for a cabinet position, trying to have him made secretary of the interior. Mr. Woodford has made a fortune in his law practice, and his Republican friends speak of him as a natural diplomat. There is excellent authority for the statement that Mr. Woodford will accept.

More Bucket Shops Halted.
New York, June 17.—Two big bucket shops were raided yesterday afternoon by details of detectives. Eight police arrests were made on warrants issued after the grand jury had found indictments against one of the establishments.

That of Andrew D. Morrison, at No. 27 Broadway, known as the "King of bucketshops," and the other was known as the Equitable Commission company, operated by Edward L. Stevens, at No. 51 New street. The prisoners are: Andrew P. Morrison, Oscar Miller, Charles Vandever, David C. Leigh, James Brown, Edward B. L. Stevens and Jefferson Coleman. They were all connected with the offices. When the arrests were made the places were crowded with customers, who were panic stricken, but were not molested.

Disorderly Artisans Legislated.
Little Rock, Ark., June 17.—The special session of the legislature adjourned yesterday after having been in continuous session since April 25. In addition to the regular session of 90 days, in the house yesterday was witnessed one of the most riotous scenes ever seen in an Arkansas legislature. A railroad bill was up for hearing, and members jumped on top of desks and yelled like wild men. The speaker and sergeant-at-arms were powerless, and several members threatened to fight, while one dared the speaker to a personal combat on the floor of the house.

Horral Murderer Sentenced to Death.
Baltimore, June 17.—Peter Monahan, aged 61, charged with the murder of his wife Bridget, with an ax, on May 25 last, was yesterday found guilty of murder in the first degree, and was sentenced to death today. For years Monahan had been little less than a voracious liar, lying on the trails of his wife's industry. The evidence showed that he drank to excess and had frequently threatened his wife's life. Because she refused him money to prolong a debauch he literally chopped her head to pieces.

He Ate Too Much.
