ELECTION OF TEACHERS.

The West Mahanoy Township Election Took Place Yesterday.

The election of teachers of West Mahanoy Township for the next term was held in the West Mahanoy school building yesterday. All the old teachers who had made application were re-elected. The resignations of Misses Sadie Reese, Bridget Larkin and Katie Flanagan were accepted. Their positions will be filled by Miss Buckley, of Raven Run, and Miss Annie Doyle and Winifred McGraw, of Lost Creek. Two extra teachers, Miss Jones, of Lost Creek, and Miss Ella McGuire, of Brownsville, were appointed as assistants to Miss Maggie Dean, of the West Penn school. The school term was changed from ten to nine months.

Charged With Larceny. Enoch Nayalis was before Justice Toomey last night, charged with stealing mining tools belonging to Enoch Warkawicz. It appears that the latter was sent to jail and left his tools in the Maple Hill mines. He served about two months and after his release went to the mines to get the tools, but could not find them. He subsequently traced the tools to the shanty of Nayalis' house. The latter furnished $300 bail for trial at court.

A COAL FAMINE IS IMMINENT!

Strengthening of the Strikers' Lines Along the Rivers.

THE EFFORTS FOR ARBITRATION!

All States Directly Interested in the Strike. With the Exception of Kentucky and Tennessee, Will be Represented in the Conference.

Pittsburg, July 12.—Beyond the strengthening of the miners' lines along the rivers, there was little change in the strike situation yesterday. The ironed contracts which were in force at several mines in the Monongahela valley were swept out of existence, and the strike was made general in the four-day pool. The Chamouille, Apollo, Jack Jones and O'Neill's Fayette City mines, which had been running with a light force of men and minor ironclads, are idle. The men at the Chamouille mine were the last to lay down their tools. The miners along the river are rejoicing over this victory. The only mine reported in operation in the region is the Quibbale, at Webster. It is a stock company, comprising about 75 stockholders, and they are mining their own coal.

The Elyth Coal company has offered the 40 cent rate to their men at the Red Bird mine, but the officials will not allow them to go work at present. A mass meeting was held at Fayette City yesterday afternoon, and plans made to look after the strikers in this and see that no mines resume. The men in the Strickel Hill mines of the Washington Coal company also came out yesterday, making the suspension complete in this district, except at the mine of the New York and Cleveley Gas Coal company, where about 1,200 men are working. No effort has yet been made to get these diggers out, and the miners at other places who have laid down their tools are grumbling at the slowness of Dr. Armit's men in joining the movement.

The greatest interest is now manifested in the scheme to arbitrate the strike between Labor union members and official arbitrators of the several states affected are mobilizing the city. The state of Ohio is the only one which has a regularly appointed board of arbitration. It exists for just such emergency cases. Labor union members and most of the others interested are labor commissioners and industrial statisticians, who are also well able to act in the capacity of arbitrators. The Ohio board is composed of S. N. Owen (chairman) of Columbus, who was formerly chief justice of the supreme court of Ohio, ex-Attorney General John Little of Xenia, and Joseph Bishop of Columbus, formerly president of the Amalgamated association. The Indiana labor commissioners here are L. R. McCormack, ex-president of the Indiana labor union, and W. F. S. Smith of Indianapolis. James M. Clark, industrial statistician of Pennsylvania, arrived from Harrisburg yesterday. The same officials of the state of West Virginia are expected to get here today. The Illinois commissioners are Joseph J. E. Keefe, J. B. Gill and H. R. Coffey, are on their way to Pittsburg and will meet the other commissioners in this city tomorrow. Thus all the states, with the exception of Kentucky and Tennessee, where the strike is on, will be represented in the conference which are to be held here during the next few days.

Invitations have been sent to the coal operators of the Pittsburg district to meet the arbitrators informally and talk over the matter of settling the strike. James Young, representing the M. A. Hanna mining interests, came on from Cleveland yesterday and was in consultation with the arbitrators. One or two of the smaller operators dropped in to look over the situation, but no important conference has yet been held. It is expected by the arbitrators that a representative number of the local operators will be gotten together within the next 24 hours. However, persons who are well acquainted with the warring factions that exist among the coal operators here say they will be hard to get together in this move, although the extreme gravity of the outlook may have the desired effect.

Those in touch with the situation say that the attempt at conciliation will simply reopen the old discussion of President De Armit's position on the necessity of a price differential to compete with the company stores. An operator who did not wish his name to be used said, "I personally think this plan of conciliation will fail. President De Armit will hardly be prevailed upon at this time to abandon the position he has held for years. To effect a settlement it will be necessary for Mr. De Armit to come into conference with us and pledge himself to pay the same price that we are paying for the balance of the lake season, or longer. I do not think he will agree to this. However, if Mr. De Armit agrees to give up the fight, I think a settlement could be reached very speedily."

Peace emissaries called at President De Armit's office yesterday, and it is said he told them that he would be at least a day or two before he could give them a definite answer as to the course of action he proposed to follow. If the operators can be brought into line on the conference idea, there will be no obstacles interposed by the miners. There is a strong indication of a coal famine confronting the country within the next ten days. It is claimed by conservative operators that the marketable supply at present, which is placed at 10,000,000 bushels, would be only able to meet the demands of the market for about a month under ordinary conditions. With the scarcity of coal already prevailing at the lake ports, it is claimed the supply will not last over two weeks at the longest. In anticipation of such a condition of affairs, the coal operators are not very anxious to fill orders, and are holding out for the advance in price that is expected to result. The only source of supply is from the river mines, as the railroads are concentrating for their own use all the coal ready for shipment along their lines. This order was issued last week, and with the exception of permitting the railroad operators filling orders for coaling vessels at the lake ports, no coal is allowed to leave the district. With the supply limited to the Monongahela district, the prospects of famine is declared to be a certainty.

There has been a marked increase in the price of coal within the past few days, and it is claimed that a 10-cent rate per bushel in boat load lots will be made to within the present week. The retail dealers, as well as the operators in general, concede that a famine is imminent, and look for prices to advance beyond the limit reached during the previous general strike of the miners in 1894.

The operators of the 15 mines in Marion county, W. Va., which constitute the Fairmount coal region, on which the result of the great miners' strike rests, gave an advance of 5 cents a ton yesterday to all men. This increase in wages, with the 5 cents given the men last Wednesday, brings the total to 13 cents more on the ton than the Pennsylvania miners are striking for, when the difference of railroad rates and cost of screening are taken into consideration. Notwithstanding this advance, the sympathies of many of the miners in that region are with the strikers, and the organizers may yet succeed in getting the men out.

Death of a Prominent Lawyer.

Harrisburg, July 12.—Louis W. Hall, one of the best known lawyers in the state, died suddenly of heart disease yesterday at his residence in this city. Mr. Hall was a native of Allegheny City, and was admitted to the bar in 1854. He was elected to the senate in 1859 from Cambria, Blair and Clearfield counties, and served as president pro tem in the extra session of 1861 and the sessions of 1862-64-66. He had held the position of solicitor of the Pennsylvania railroad since 1868. A widow and four children survive.

Lightning's Peevish Freak.

Reading, Pa., July 12.—Near Myerstown, during a severe electric storm, Clinton Becker, aged 24 years, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Elshover, was stunned. Overhanging the steps of the house was a wire clothes line, and as the pole at one end of the line was shattered, it is supposed that the bolt struck the pole, then followed the line to its end, and rebounding, struck the unfortunate young man, who was standing underneath it.

An Important Conference.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—An important conference was held here yesterday between Senators Quay and Penrose, and several of the state leaders, including Senators Durbin, Thomas and Andrews and others. It is understood that the state for the Federal offices in Pennsylvania was discussed and will be definitely decided upon. It is expected that L. C. Carter, Jr., of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a nephew of Judge Darr, will be nominated for a German consularship when the list of nominations which has been promised at the White House since Friday is sent to the Senate. Senator J. J. Coyle, of Mahanoy City, who is a candidate for Consul General at Rio de Janeiro, would also like to get his name on this list, and came to Washington last evening to see what the Senators could do for him.

Steady Pacing for the Bicycle.

The sultry and extremely hot weather the past few days is playing havoc with the bicycle contest at the Shennandoah drug store. The voting is increasing daily, a total of 2223 votes being polled yesterday. The race is still being led by Amos Toole with 1076 votes to his credit. Miss Clara Whitlock has a firm hold on second place, with 1348 votes. Her popularity in the contest is increasing and she is giving Toole and his colleagues a great deal to maintain the lead. John Conville, Miss Annie McNameis and Miss Margaret Maltz follow the procession in rotation by 898, 871 and 856 votes, respectively. In all 8400 votes have been cast since the contest began. Those interested in the contest may look forward to an entire change in the positions of the contestants within the next few days. A certain gentleman, who is deeply interested in the contest, remarked yesterday that he would lend his aid and also induce his friends to do all they can in behalf of the lady contestants for the very reason that the male sex could better afford to buy their bicycles.

Remarkable Escape.

Two children, aged 2 and 3 years, had a remarkable escape from death while playing on the Central Railroad at Coudale, near Tamaqua. The engineer of the morning express saw the tots, but too late to stop. Fireman Bayon ran along the trestleboard of the engine, and, leaning forward, pushed them to a place of safety just as the express dashed by.

Coroner's Jury Verdict.

The inquest on the body of Charles Johnson, of Wagon, who was killed Saturday evening, resulted in the following verdict: "That the said Charles Johnson came to his death on Saturday evening, 10th inst., by being struck by an empty coal train pushed by extra P. & R. engine, No. 572 while crossing the tracks at Gilbert."

CANVASS OF THE ALIENS.

The P. & R. Company Will Soon Have Its Work Completed.

MANY EMPLOYES UNNATURALIZED.

Only Forty Per Cent of Men Employed Inside and But Five Per Cent of Outside Workmen at the Mines Have Naturalization Papers.

The work of putting the alien tax law in operation in the collieries of the P. & R. C. & I. Co. continues with persistent industry and the canvass of the collieries in this district will soon be completed. It has thus far brought to light figures that prove quite interesting when taken in comparison with some of the polling lists. According to the figures given by a well known official it appears that not half the men employed inside the P. & R. C. & I. Co. mines of this district are naturalized citizens, and the percentage among men employed in outside labor at the mines is a great deal less. As this has accomplished the canvass shows that about forty per cent of the men employed inside the mines have secured naturalization papers, while five per cent is a fair estimate of the naturalized men who are engaged in outside labor, and these people are not only of the classes which are commonly classed as foreigners in this region, but include many men besides the Poles, the Hungarians, Hungarians and Slavs. A gentleman who has seen one of the lists says that should the production of naturalization papers be insisted upon at the polls on election day some candidates would fall short of a majority of the votes. Not a few are old men who have lived in the country so long and voted so often without being challenged that they have almost forgotten that naturalization is essential to citizenship, and some very amusing incidents have taken place during the canvass. Many of the old residents have put forth claims that their long residence makes them citizens.

The canvass prosecuted by the P. & R. company is a thorough one. All employees are required to give their ages, places of birth and term of residence in this country. If the latter is sufficiently long to admit a claim of citizenship, the naturalization papers are then called for, and if they are not forthcoming the employe is put on record as an alien. Notwithstanding the publicity the law has been given of late there is a large percentage of people who are ignorant of the object of the canvass, and at times some men have not only objected to give information, but have become quite indignant. "What do you want to know that for?" asked one man yesterday, with some feeling. "I must make a record of it," said the foreman who was making a canvass. "Well, I'll ask me neither and I'll let you know next Sunday afternoon," replied the man in a singular manner. He gave the information after the object was more fully explained. In some instances it is very difficult to get satisfactory answers to inquiries as to dates, but as a whole the work has progressed very successfully.

At a meeting held last night the Mahanoy City School Board decided to compel all parties employed by the Board, whether by the day or longer period, to produce their naturalization papers, in accordance with the provisions of the alien tax law. At Kepcheluski's Arcade Cafe. California bean soup to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning.

QUAY AND HASTINGS.

Indications Point to a Double Royal Between the Two.

HARRISBURG, July 13.—The conference between Senators Quay and Penrose and Governor Hastings here last week has given rise to much political gossip. That Governor Hastings will veto the Becker bill, which provides that appointments made by the Mayor of Philadelphia must be confirmed by a three-fifths vote of Select Councils, has been foreseen for some time, and the personal appeal made by Senators Quay and Penrose has evidently not shaken the Governor's determination. As a matter of fact, the Governor has almost flatly refused to consider the plea made by the United States Senators in favor of the measure, which is vigorously opposed by Mayor Warwick, David Martin and the business generally which have been fighting Quay in Philadelphia and state politics for the past five years.

The Governor gave out the following last night in reply to the official announcement of Senator Quay that he is a candidate for re-election to the United States senate: "Senators Quay and Penrose called on me Saturday morning. The purpose of their visit was to induce me to sign the Becker bill, so-called, relative to Philadelphia, and they were very urgent. When I declined to make any promises Senator Quay announced that he would change his mind, and would become an active candidate for United States senator. I was not asked to support him in his candidacy for United States senator."

It is generally known that Hastings has the Senatorial bee buzzing in his list, and hopes to see Attorney General McNameis succeed in the Executive chair and Major McManly nominated for Auditor General. Just before visiting the Governor, Senator Quay gave it out that he would not be a candidate for re-election, and after the interview he "changed his mind" with a bold declaration that he would at once begin a campaign for election of a friendly Legislature in 1898. Signs now point to a mere hinteright that Hastings would for the chairmanship in 1898 or for the senatorship in 1899.

Kendrick House Free Lunch. Pure of pen soup will be served, free, in all patrons to-night.

Obituary.

Mrs. Mary McCarthy, formerly of town and later of Scranton, died at the latter place yesterday. The funeral will take place on Thursday, 15th inst., and interment will be made in the Annunciation cemetery in town. The remains will arrive at the Lehigh Valley depot at 1:40 p. m.

Ellen, wife of John J. Foley, proprietor of the Windsor hotel at Mahanoy City, died last evening, at 6:20 o'clock, from a complication of diseases. She had been ill nine weeks. The deceased was born in Port Carbon. She resided in this town 20 years and moved to Mahanoy City about a year ago. Three children and the husband survive. The notice of the funeral will be given.
