THE FIGHT FOR MINES

Mine Leader Ratchford's Confidence in the Result.

IN THE PITTSBURG DISTRICT.

A Thousand Strikers Decide to March on Working Miners and Endeavor to Induce Them to Aid in the Great Struggle.

Columbus, O., July 19.—President Ratchford yesterday summed up the strike situation as follows:

"I think the miners are conducting themselves commendably to the country, and give their officers renewed encouragement and strengthen the belief that victory ultimately will crown their efforts.

"The history of industrial strife has no parallel in the present movement. Deputy marshals, coal and iron police and secret detectives have been at work, but their presence has failed to incite the miners to acts of lawlessness, or even to a resumption of work. Their presence in peaceable communities only a chip on their shoulder gave cause for alarm, and in some instances have caused a resort to violence. But our miners in this instance, profiting by the experience of the past, would rather cause trouble themselves nor allow themselves to become involved in trouble by the action of others.

"Reports from some of the ties to the effect that the coal supply is not short is only intended to discourage the miners. If the coal supply is not short, why are prices advancing? Why is coal worth $1 a ton, and even $1.50, more than it was two weeks ago? Why are the railroad companies not shipping? Why are the shops and factories whose wheels are put in motion by the labor of the miner ceasing to operate? Why are the operators all over the states offering their miners a rate even higher than the one demanded if they will only continue at work?

"I believe the coal supply is not short. Those who have it to sell get fancy prices and those who offer an advance, particularly in West Virginia and portions of Illinois, do it for the purpose of checking and defeating this movement, and miners who do not know this will realize it fully when the battle is over. If such operators have their way.

"We have started into this movement realizing fully the importance of the work before us, and the responsibility resting upon us, and after two weeks of suspension, involving more than 150,000 miners, we are well satisfied with the results. Only those who are best acquainted with the condition of the miners have any idea of the extent of this suspension and its paralyzing effects upon the labor and business of the country. It has not yet reached its full proportion, and the coming week will add 20,000 men to the idle column. The week following will bring greater accessions to our ranks.

"The organized trades of the country are today in closer touch than ever before. Never in the history of labor troubles have they been found so closely allied. Our demands for living wages and the determination of our miners to secure it have brought expressions of sympathy and moral and material support from almost every branch of organized labor, whose efforts in our behalf will endear them to all lovers of fairness and establish for the miners, with their own efforts, a living rate of wages."

A CONFLICT FEARED

Strikers Marching on Mines Where Men Live.

Pittsburg, July 19.—The events of yesterday in the Pittsburgh coal mining district indicate that there is trouble ahead. The strike has been on for two weeks, with no cause for alarm in any quarter, but yesterday the owners of the mines, who are well satisfied with the results, decided to march on Cannonburg, the objective point being the Boone & Allison mine. A few days ago the operators of these mines made a requisition on the sheriff of Washington county for additional deputies. It is supposed that there are at least 200 deputies at each mine, well armed for any friction that may take place. Yesterday the striking miners held meetings, which were attended by men, women and children. The women did not lack in the interest taken. Many of them are braided, and their husbands as cowards. They argued that they might as well fight as starve. The men said the victory could be won providing every coal miner employed in the sections where the lake trade is supplied would join the general movement of idleness.

Plans for binding out the miners at work in the Boone and Allison mines were discussed. Special committees were sent from one meeting to the other in the country. It was learned late last night that the scheme has been in process of formulation for several days. Some of the most conservative of the leaders claim that there will be no bloodshed. They say that when the colliers are seen in a big demonstration in favor of what they term a "live wage" battle for bread, they cannot enter the mines and retain their manhood. The men are known to be in a condition of semi-insanity on the strike question. They have been goaded on by suffering wives, daughters and sweethearts, and appears as if it is the beginning of the end of the strike.

Discouraging news comes to the strikers from West Virginia. The strike agitators were busy in the Flat Top field yesterday, but made but little headway. All the miners in the Thacker coal fields, who on Saturday afternoon voted to quit work this morning, held a mass meeting yesterday and reconsidered matters, and they all returned to work as usual this morning. It is believed the miners at Dingess will also change their action of Saturday and return. The operators at Elkhorn are working diligently among the men, and they have hopes of persuading them to return. If they do, it will then be almost impossible for strike agitators to induce miners in the Flat Top fields to quit work.

Scrofula

Is a deep-seated blood disease which all the mineral mixtures in the world cannot cure.

S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) is a real blood remedy for blood diseases and has no equal.

Mrs. V. T. Buck, of Delaware, Ark., had Scrofula for twenty-five years and most of the time was under the care of the doctors who could not relieve her.

A specialist said he could cure her, but he filled her with arsenic and potash which almost ruined her constitution.

She then took nearly every so-called blood medicine and drank them by the gallon, but they did not cure her trouble.

Some one advised her to try S.S.S. and she very soon found that she had a real blood remedy at last.

She says: "After taking one dozen bottles of S.S.S. I am perfectly well, my skin is clear and healthy and I would not be in my former condition for two thousand dollars."

Instead of drying up the poison in my system, like the potash and arsenic, S.S.S. drove the disease out through the skin, and I was permanently rid of it."

A Real Blood Remedy. S.S.S. never fails to cure Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood Poison, or any disorder of the blood.

THE PAN-AMERICANS

Discuss the Pending Dingley Tariff Measure.

RECIPROCIITY AND FREE TRADE.

Delegates From Brazil Pronounce the New Tariff Bill a Monstrous, White & Costa Rican Malice & Strong Plea For Protection.

Philadelphia, July 19.—The commercial representatives of Mexico, Central and South America, who on Saturday night returned from their 40 days' tour of the industrial centers of the country, assembled yesterday at the Philadelphia Commercial Museums and held a symposium on the subject of reciprocity.

The meeting was of a parliamentary nature, and a number of resolutions were adopted, several of the delegates expressing decided views on the tariff question. A general discussion on the subject followed.

Dr. Gustav Neidermeyer, scientific director of the Museums, presided. By way of introduction he said: "The United States congress in now passing the tariff bill, not only historically and special power is given to the president to lower the tariff quotation 20 per cent for each article which can be included in treaties of reciprocity. The question of reciprocity is the most difficult in the world, and our country is not only a nation of free traders, but also a nation of protectionists."

The most pronounced free trader of the party, Arthur S. H. Hitchings, of Rio de Janeiro, had this to say: "Reciprocity, if it were an easy between nations as between individuals, would undoubtedly be a just definition of fair and friendly trade, but circumstances often, almost always, create difficulties which prevent a practical realization of such a disposition. That friendly countries should be inclined to make it a system of natural, but I do not think it can exist without free trade, and I would be wrong in holding out prospects which would indicate any treaty by which Brazil would find itself to favor one country more than others."

"I believe the exceptional advantage of reciprocity in giving Great Britain a legislative blunder, and time will prove it. They are opposed to the broad and liberal laws which secured to England her extensive foreign trade. With this view I cannot believe that their reciprocity (for such it is) will last for long, and it would be still more difficult to have exceptional laws favoring the many nations on the American continent. The interests of these nations are not alike, nor can their produce and manufactures find an outlet and consumption within their respective or united boundaries. Europe must necessarily be present from both North and South America, and it would be inconsiderate to propose any legislation that would exclude existing equality whereby all nations are treated alike. Such legislation would interfere with production."

"I have heard much of the Monroe doctrine, but surely which nation cannot apply to trade. Let us, gentlemen, forget all petty notions that are not based on sound reasoning, and let us circumscribe our desires within a possible scope. We have seen on our tour that the United States produce machinery, and many of the articles which we import at present from other countries, and we have noticed that these states also import many things similar to what we buy in Europe. I must say, however, that the majority of our manufacturers, although in most ways fitted for our markets, are too high priced, and their work is not of the best. It is our duty, therefore, to reduce in the general scale of prices. You have to appreciate your dollars, which have hitherto been so easily earned; you must make your purchasing power greater, so that cheaper living will follow, and more contentment. But for protection, and inflation of currency, such results cannot be obtained, and it has been my pleasure in the intercourse with your countrymen to find that the majority agree in the belief that protection has concluded its good work; that its performance will be effectively perfunctory."

Mr. Hitchings' views were for the most part seconded by Carlos Lix Klett, an extensive exporter of wool and hides from Argentina Republic, but Mauro Fernandez, former minister of finance of Costa Rica, Central America, made a strong plea in favor of protection. He declared that the question came down to a contest between the necessity of the politician, which was protection, and the aspiration of the scientist, free trade. "The United States is right to protect her industries until she can walk alone," he exclaimed. "For a moment political respects she is still a baby."

The meeting thereupon resolved itself into a debate between the free traders and the protectionists of the party. Louis A. Dillon, of Ecuador, told his hearers that his country imported very much more from the United States than they exported to them, but the business men of his country had found that they could do better with Europe, where they were enabled to secure very much smaller rates of freight. F. Ferraz Perez, special representative of the Mexican government, said that as his country increased its industries it had been at the same time reducing its tariffs. Captain J. Cordeira da Gama, engineer and naval officer of Brazil, made another free trade argument, characterizing the present tariff bill as a monstrously.
