Germany is displeased with the Dingley bill.

A bank cashier in Illinois turned the tables upon a would-be "band man" by covering him with his pistol.

The days are perceptibly growing shorter.

The last session of the Massachusetts legislature enacted a law that neither the body nor the feathers of Massachusetts song birds shall be used for the purpose of ornamenting hats or bonnets.

The fact that in Chicago alone 300 divorces were granted in a month either indicates a low average of marital fidelity or else that marriages are contracted in a very thoughtless way.

Gov. Hastings keeps on to the end of his term as he is now going the people of Pennsylvania will feel sorry that the constitution prohibits the re-election of the executive.

The appeal of Samuel Thomas, one of the janitors unceremoniously removed by the Democratic members of the School Board, for reinstatement on the plea that an old soldier should not have received such treatment, had the same effect on the majority of the Board as water thrown on a duck's back.

The Herald today publishes the first of a series of letters from our regular Detroit correspondent, giving an epitome of the political field from the pen of one who is in a position to know the movements of the wire-pullers of both political parties.

Thousands are suffering excruciating misery from that plague of the night, itching piles, and say nothing about it through a sense of delicacy.

Prosperity is here. In this Thursday issue, that sterling American newspaper, the New York Sun, tersely sums up the business situation in the following language:

"From all the great agricultural states come reports of tremendous crops. From the same states come reports of an improving financial condition and of large amounts of indebtedness discharged. The farmers of the United States will have money to spend next fall, and consequently trade and manufactures of all kinds will be stimulated. The country merchants will be able to make large purchases, and the city merchants will be able to dispose of large stocks."

"Not only are the big crops in sight, but the work of transporting them has already begun. The railroads are beginning or in a few days will begin to make money."

"It is expected that the tariff bill will be passed this week. Whether it is or not, the long uncertainty about the tariff is over. Business knows under what conditions it must proceed, and it will proceed confidently, in harmony with the encouraging facts and prospects all over the country."

"Prosperity for all is here, not a prosperity of mere paper and hope, but actual, tangible, resting on the indisputable and convincing fact of agricultural prosperity, without which general prosperity in this country cannot to-day exist. The days of croaking are past. There is work to do and money to be made by everybody who is not a loafer or an incompetent. The people of the United States are going to work and to make money. The prophets of disaster will find their occupation gone. The politics of disaster will be made futile by this period of good times which has begun."

A SHORT STORY

In Wilkesbarre Life-Interesting to the Public at Large.

Many a reader of this in Wilkesbarre has seen the large watch sign, that hangs out at 40 North Main street.

"Not only are the big crops in sight, but the work of transporting them has already begun. The railroads are beginning or in a few days will begin to make money."

"It is expected that the tariff bill will be passed this week. Whether it is or not, the long uncertainty about the tariff is over. Business knows under what conditions it must proceed, and it will proceed confidently, in harmony with the encouraging facts and prospects all over the country."

"Prosperity for all is here, not a prosperity of mere paper and hope, but actual, tangible, resting on the indisputable and convincing fact of agricultural prosperity, without which general prosperity in this country cannot to-day exist. The days of croaking are past. There is work to do and money to be made by everybody who is not a loafer or an incompetent. The people of the United States are going to work and to make money. The prophets of disaster will find their occupation gone. The politics of disaster will be made futile by this period of good times which has begun."
