THE LOGAN MONUMENT OF L

Unveiled With Pomp in Chicago's Lake Front Park.

LARGEST EQUESTRIAN STATUE

in the United States Represents the "Black Engle" Rallying the Broken Ranks of the Federal Troops Before Atlanta on July 22, 1864.

Chicago, July 23.—The John A. Logan monument in take Front park was dedicated with much pomp yesterday afternoon. A few minutes past 1 o'clock John A. Lozan third, the 5-year-old grandson of the "Black Eagle," culled the sliken cord which parted the vells concealing the manificent likeness of the great commander as he rallied the broken ranks of the federal troops and led them on to victory before the city of Atlanta, July 22, 1864.

The reviewing stand was filled with notables, including Governora Tanner of Illinoia, Scofield of Wisconsin, Mount

CHICAGO'S LOGAN MONUMENT. of Indiana, Holcombe of Nebraska, with their staffs, Secretary Alger and the judges of the supreme and circuit court. The Losan family—Mrs. John

A. Logan, Major and Mrs. W. F. Tuck-er, Captain and Mrs. John A. Logan, were almost the last to enter the stand. The monument was presented by Henry W. Blodgett, and Governor Tan-ner, in a short speech, accepted it on behalf of the state of Illinois. The orator of the day, George R. Peck, then paid an eloquent tribute to the soldier-statesman, with whom he served as a comrade in arms.

After the exercises at the monumen there was a grand parade and review, over 2,000 men being in line. The sur-vivors of General Logan's old regiment, the Twenty-first Illinois volunteers, led the van, proudly bearing the old regi-mental flag, tattered and torn by 200 Confederate bullets. Then came the grizzled veterans of the G. A. R., with bare heads, in honor of the first and bare heads, in honor of the first and idolined commander in chief. With the voterans marched the ex-Confederates, 200 strong. The pageant on land was supplemented by the finest marine display ever seen on Lake Michigan.

An incident of the paraoe that caused much comment was the disagreeable reception accorded to Governor Tanner, of Blinels, at frequent points along the line of march. In more than a dozen places he was hissed loudly, Cheers were given him, too, and in front of the reviewing stand on Michigan avenue a flattering greeting was given him, but at other places, notably at Jackson boulevard and La Saile street, he was met with a storm of blasses.

An immense throng had gathered to witness, in the Colliseum gardens, the fireworks, which were on a par with the lavish and beautiful displays shown at intervals during the World's fair. At the conclusion of the spectacle the crowd turned to the Collseum, where for over an hour Mrs. Logan, Secretary and Mrs. Alger and Sculptor St. Gaudens received the thousands who press-ed into the building.

dens received the thousands who pressed into the building.

The statue of General Logan, which was designed by St. Geudens, is the largest equestrian statue in America. The figure of General Logan, as it stands on its granite pedestal, is dressed in the uniform of a major general. He sits erect and bareheaded, with his left hand grasping the bridle rein. With his right hand he bears alloft the flag. The endsavor of the sculptor was to repreduce as nearly as possible the scene presented as Logan railled the troops before Atlanta after General McPherson's death. From the base to the top of the horse's withers is 11 feet 5 inches, and to the top of Logan's head is 15 feet 11 inches. The entire expense of erection and unveiling was $80,000, of which the state appropriated $50,000.

Mr. Lincoln Nelson, of Marshfield, Mo., writes: "For six years I have been a sufferer from a scrotulous affection of the glands of my neck, and all efforts of physicians in Washington, D. C., Springfield, Ill., and St. Louis failed to reduce the enlargement. After six months' constant treatment here, my months' constant treatment here, my physician urged me to submit to a re moval of the gland. At this critical moment a friend recommended S.S.S., and laying aside a deep-rooted prejudice against all patent medicines, I began its use. Before I had used one bottle the enlargement began to disappear, and now it is entirely gone, though I am not through with my second bottle yet. Had I only used your S.S.S. long ago, I would have escaped years of misery and saved over $150."

A CLAIM TO KLONDYKE.

A New York Publisher Who Says He Owns the Territory

BY RIGHT OF FIRST DISCOVERY.

W. J. Articll, Who Organized and Sustained an Exploring Exposition in 1800-91, Will Press His Claim to the Rich Section. -

New York, July 13 .- W. J. Arkell, of the Arkell Weekly company, of this city, announced last night that he expected to claim the gold fields in the Klendyke district, by right of discovery, for the estate of E. J. Glave. This s the latest and most interesting plans if the excitement prevailing here over the recent discovery in the far north. Ginve was the explorer who headed the expedition to Alaska in 1890-91, or-ganized by W. J. Arkell, of Leslie's

Weekly. The party consisted of Glave, E. H. Wells, of Cincinnati, historian and photographer; A. B. Schanz, of Indiana Minerai Springs, Ind., astrono-mer and historian; P. B. Pierce and John Dalten, of San Francisco, Thirty Chilkat Indians were also with the

After the return of Glave and his party from the frozen north the explorer was sent by the Century company to Africa to study the slave trade. He lived among the natives for some time, and on limiting his work returned to the coast. When about to sail for the United States Clave contracted a fever, which resulted in his

Before leaving for Africa Glave told Mr. Arkell that he had staked out claims in the Klondyke district, and on his return he intended to go again to Aluska and spend the remainder of his life there, for he believed it to be the richest country in mineral deposits on the face of the globs

Up to that time Mr. Arkell had known nothing of the mineral wealth of Alas-ka, and paid small attention to the scheme. Giave gave the name to the take in the Chilkal valley, near the head of the Yukon. Mr. Arkell said that, as he started and sustained the expedition, he be-lieves he has claim by right of discovary to the Klondyke territory, and if he succeeds in establishing his claim It will be on the theory that in "un-discovered" countries, where maps are filed with the government by the disgives the explorer certain interests that may develop. Mr. Arkell said that he had received telegrams from Schanz and Wells, two members of the first expedition to Ainska, claiming their interests in the event that the gov-ornment should recognize their right or discovery. Mr. Arkell proposes to organize another expedition at once to the terri-tory discovered and explored by Glave and party. This expedition will be headed by Mr. Arkell's brother, Bartlett Arkell, who will be accompanied by his brother-in-low, Harry P. Hall, of Pittsburg, and a number of news

WARNING TO PROSPECTORS. Difficulties of Transportation Again

Pointed Out. San Francisco, July 23.—The Alaska Commercial company's ship Bertha arrived from Unalaska yesterday with 500 tons of concentrates from the Apollo mine at Unga and a bar of buillion from the same source, but brought no gold from the Klondyke region. Captain Hays, of that vessel, speaking of the Klondyke boom, said:

"The fact that the new gold fields re 2,000 miles from St. Michaels, and that the difficulties of transportation are innumerable, cannot be too forcibly impressed upon intending prospectors. The newspapers will be responsible for the loss of many lives and a great deal of suffering and hardship if they do not torrents have ceased running, is very low, and consequently much of the 5,000 tons of supplies now awaiting transportation cannot possibly be conveyed to their destination for some mercial company, are equally frank. One of the firm said; "What we most fear is that the excitsment will cause many people to rush northward without properly considering how they are to live through the winter after they get there. We have now about 5,000 tons of provisions on the Yukon, and we are sending large additional quantities, but we are not able to say whether the supply will be equal to the demand, nor when the supplies will reach their destina-tion with any certainty.

"It is for this reason, principally, that we have declined to carry more than the usual complement of passenger have easily constructed accommodared to utilize the space for supplies to feed those already there and on the
