COYLE BILL IS VETOED!

Governor Disapproves the Mahanoy Hospital Appropriation.

NO STATE MONEY FOR JUNKETS.

Old Penn Gets $100,000, Its Hospital $50,000, Medical-Chi $120,000, and Commercial Museum $50,000. Three Sharp Vetoes.

Governor Hastings let these fall yesterday on the appropriation of $10,000 for the American Hospital Association.

When this bill was under consideration in the House, Charles E. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, attacked it as a scheme to get money for an institution which has no existence, except in the form of a conditional promise on paper.

W. F. Stewart, of Philadelphia, reminded the House that a few years ago a member of the Legislature from a western county had served a term in jail for obtaining money for an institution on paper only.

In vetoing the Coyle bill the Governor says the bill of $10,000 is for the maintenance of a hospital in Mahanoy township, Schuylkill county.

The Governor calls attention to the fact that the bill provides that the managers of the institution shall have no money until they have certified under oath they have completely furnished a building for hospital purposes, etc., and equipped the same with necessary surgical implements and that the said furnishing and implements have been paid for by private subscription.

The Governor says the American Hospital Association has no hospital building and no site for the erection of one, and under the circumstances he does not feel justified in signing the bill.

Two bills fell under the veto ax, one to pay for a sample of junkets, the other an investigating committee's expense bill.

The first was the appropriation of $5,000 to pay the expenses of the Legislature at the dedication of the Grant and Washington monuments. It was not itemized.

"This bill appropriates for the purpose indicated in the title the sum of $5,000 in a single item. The General Assembly, pursuant to joint resolution of the two bodies, attended the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the monument at the tomb of General Grant at New York, on April 27, 1897, and like ceremonies at the unveiling of the Washington monument at Philadelphia, on May 15, 1897, and this appropriation is intended to cover the expenses of the members of the Legislature in attending such ceremonies.

"I withhold my approval from this bill because I believe it to be an improper expenditure of the public funds. It is nowhere made the duty of the Legislature to attend public occasions of this kind in their official capacity, however worthy they may be, and therefore the payment of the expenses out of the public treasury cannot be justified.

"The Executive and Judicial Departments of the state were in attendance at the ceremonies, both in New York and in Philadelphia, as was also the National Guard of the state, and all without any expense to the Commonwealth. I see no reason why the Legislative Department should be made an exception.

"In principle the appropriation cannot be defended, and although there may be legislative precedent for it, it is, in my judgment, a precedent that would be more honored in the breach than in the observance.

"The second bill appropriates $950 to pay the expenses of the legislative committee that investigated the cause of the fire that burned the Capitol. The Governor says in applying the guillotine:

"No member of the committee makes any charge for either mileage or expenses, the entire amount being made up of stenographers' fees and the fees of the sergeant-at-arms. The testimony taken amounted to about 200 pages, for which a charge is made for 16 days at $10 a day, and $700 in addition for making six copies. The bill of the Sergeant-at-arms as rendered originally amounted to $300, which included $250 for service in attendance upon committee. The entire bill was cut a two by the General Assembly to $500.

"Under date of July 19, 1897, the chairman of the committee writes me concerning the appropriation, and says, among other things: 'I am of the opinion this bill is yet double what it should be.' The Sergeant-at-arms is provided a salary by law, and I believe his charge for services in attendance upon this committee, under the circumstances, to be unwarranted. The stenographers' bill is extravagant in amount, even as reduced by the General Assembly. For these reasons my approval is withheld.

It can be stated on good authority that the Governor has approved $100,000 of the $200,000 appropriation asked for by the University of Pennsylvania, and $50,000 for the University Hospital, making $150,000 in all. The appropriation of $50,000 to the Philadelphia Museum is approved, but that for Medical-Chirurgical Hospital is cut from $100,000 to $120,000.

The uncertainty concerning the fate of the remaining bills in the Governor's hands will not continue long. Within twelve hours all of the bills will be disposed of including the general appropriation bill, the Simon electric light bill, the mercantile tax bill, the several appropriation bills yet remaining, and the various Legislative committee expense bills.

There was another examination of the general appropriation bill yesterday. State Treasurer Haywood was called in, and later Deputy Attorney General Elkin participated in the conference. Bank Commissioner Gilkeson was at the Executive Mansion, where the Governor did his work to avoid interruption. Later Sergeant-at-Arms Wyatt of the House, was given a hearing to explain his expenses in several of the investigating committee expense bills.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

A Disinterested Boarder Received the Effects of the Shot.

At ten o'clock last night many of the residents along East Centre street were aroused by the firing of three shots from a revolver in rapid succession. The shooting took place at the home of John Shafron, a Hungarian, who conducts a boarding house.

It appears that the boarding housekeeper fired three shots at his brother, none of them taking effect. Two of the bullets entered the walls of the house while the third struck the head of a boarder, named Wasi Sesti, who had been lying asleep in bed in the room in which the shooting took place.

The wounded man was carried to the office of Dr. W. S. Stein, who found the ball in the position he stated. He extracted it, and found that it had struck the skull with considerable force, as the head of the bullet was completely flattened. The doctor has the bullet in his possession, and small particles of bone can be seen clinging to it.

The wounds of the injured man were dressed and he was taken back to his boarding house where he is confined to his bed. He suffers considerably from the shock and loss of blood. No arrests have been made.

UNIFORMITY MEETING!

Conference of the Coal Operators in Pittsburg Ended.

A DRAFT OF THE AGREEMENT!

Cash Payment of Wages, Abolition of Company Stores, 2,000 Pounds a the Ton, Monthly Paydays and Check Weighmen.

Pittsburg, July 29.—The "true uniformity" conference of coal operators of the Pittsburgh district concluded its work last night, after a two days' session of close and persistent work.

The 21 sections of the uniformity agreement were thoroughly discussed and adopted section by section. The best of feeling prevailed throughout the meetings, the only exception being the voting of Colonel Rend at yesterday's session.

The agreement adopted provides for cash payment of wages, 2,000 pounds on the tipple, miners to be credited with the full quantity of coal contained in the mine car, abolition of company stores, semi-monthly pay days, uniform price for pick mining in the thin and thick vein districts, and screens not exceeding 14 inches.

The commission is to be chosen annually, and shall be known by the name of the uniformity commission. It shall be composed of nine members, the thick and thin vein operators having proper representation.

The agreement shall not become effective unless it has been signed by 55 per cent of the operators on or before Jan. 1, 1898. After 90 per cent have signed the agreement if any 15 operators shall be of the opinion that enough have signed to render effective a meeting shall be called in Pittsburg to declare it in force.

The operators, with a few exceptions, want it distinctly understood that the passage of an agreement whereby all operators are to adopt a similar system and to pay the same relative price for mining has nothing to do with the great strike. They wish the miners to disabuse their minds of any such theories.

The operators have also shut out the miners' leaders from taking any part in the conference that may take place through questions arising between the operators and miners by inserting a clause in the agreement stating the commission shall be composed of workmen employed by the subscribers.

Heretofore the miners' officials have represented the miners, but now the miners are to grapple with the questions in dispute alone.

It was decided that present contracts could not be made the basis for arbitration. Many firms have taken contracts for a stipulated period at a fixed price. It is understood that these shall have the right to supply the product to fill these contracts at the rate of mining on which the contracts are based.
