In vetoing this iniquitous legislation, and cutting down the enormous "expense" bills, the Governor has done no more than his plain duty, but at the same time he has rendered the people of Pennsylvania a substantial service for which they will not fail to give him credit.

Plandering the state treasury in the sacred name of charity was one of the new species of corruption which the Governor had to deal with, and it is now a matter of history that he was equal to the occasion.
