A STRUGGLE FOR SHERIFF

Results at the Republican County Convention at Pottsville To-day.

BECHTEL WAS UNANIMOUSLY NAMED

Resolutions Endorsing Brumm For Governor and Pinney For Naval Officer—Three Ballots Taken For Sheriff With Albright Increasing His Lead After the First.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Aug. 16.

The Republican county convention held here today to nominate candidates for Judge, Sheriff, Poor Director and Jury Commissioner, for an off-year, was one of the most exciting and uncertain assemblies held by the G. O. P. for a number of years.

A WOMAN'S CHARGE.

She Accuses a Man of Administering Chloroform Feloniously.

Mrs. Ursula Gustafis, a woman about 30 years of age and whose husband is an inmate of the Miners' hospital, made complaint to Justice Tomney last night, charging one of her neighbors, William Anjakalis, with chloroforming her.

The story of the woman is that she was awakened at a late hour Saturday night by a hand being placed upon her. When she sat up she saw a man leaning beside the bed.

The accused did not deny the charge, but did not make any explanation, in his statement. It is not known why he molested the woman. Her relatives say robbery was the motive.

As soon as the afternoon session of the convention was called to order a motion was made that all resolutions be submitted to the committee on resolutions without debate.

"Jack" Whitehouse, alternate delegate, got the floor and spoke against the motion, claiming it was an attempt to choke off an endorsement of Congressman Brumm for Governor.

A roll call was called for, but after a heated discussion the call was withdrawn to hear the report of the committee on resolutions.

The committee on resolutions reported, substantially, that the Republican party of Shenandoah county heartily affirms its allegiance to the party platform adopted at St. Louis last year. The record of the Republican party was commended and the Cleveland administration condemned.

A minority report was submitted and a motion made to endorse Congressman Brumm as a candidate for Governor.

Hon. Elias Davis offered an endorsement of John F. Pinney for Naval Officer at the Port of Philadelphia.

These offers resulted in heated discussions and Chairman Matten almost lost control of the convention. Finally "Jack" Whitehouse secured the floor and, after he delivered a speech of a conciliatory character, Hon. Elias Davis made a motion that the committee's report and the amendments be adopted, which was done unanimously.

Nominations were then called for and Hon. O. P. Bechtel was unanimously nominated for Judge by acclamation.

SHERIFF.

The following nominations were then made for Sheriff: Heister Albright, Owingburg; G. A. Doerflinger, Pottsville; C. O. Smith, Mahanoy City; S. Roll Boddall, Port Carbon; Clay W. Evans, St. Clair; F. E. Magargle, Shenandoah.

The name of John Roberts, of Shenandoah, was not presented to the convention.

THE FIRST BALLOT.

The result of the first ballot was as follows: Albright, 91; Smith, 98; Boddall, 60; Doerflinger, 56; Evans, 48; Magargle, 23.

Magargle received the full vote of Shenandoah with that of one delegate from Brandonville.

THE SECOND BALLOT.

The second ballot resulted as follows: Albright, 101; Smith, 88; Boddall, 60; Evans, 45; Doerflinger, 51; Magargle, 22.

When the result of this ballot was announced F. E. Magargle's name was dropped from the list of candidates.

THE THIRD BALLOT.

4:30 p. m.—The result of the third ballot has just been completed as follows: Albright, 123; Smith, 88; Boddall, 72; Evans, 45; Doerflinger, 48. Evans was dropped on this ballot.

At this time it looks as if Albright will be the candidate for Sheriff, but it may take two or three ballots to decide the matter.

The vote of the Shenandoah delegates on the third ballot was as follows: Hughes and Anderson, First ward, James, Third ward, Cable, Fourth ward, and Davis and Cale, Fifth ward, voted for Albright, giving him a total of 13 votes. Boehm and Stout, Second ward, voted for Boddall, giving him a total of 19 votes.

PORTS.

The Park Hotel's narrow corridors were jammed with perspiring patriots until 11 o'clock.

Chairman Edwards deserves praise for the manner in which he handled the preliminaries.

Elias Ball and Phil. Coyle occupied the seats in the train going to Pottsville under a flag of truce. Both were Smith men.

The high, intellectual forehead of Prof. Wood, of St. Clair, was conspicuous in the crowd of Evans's shouters.

The Nestor of the Shenandoah press, W. R. Coyle, was conspicuous among the pencil pushers.

Keuben Barto, of Pine Grove, seems to be the permanent representative of his district. If all the Beddalls who were at the convention had a vote S. Roll would have made it on the first ballot. They were all workers, too.

Harry Harper was among the Ashland delegates, as usual.

The pressure for tickets to the floor was tremendous. Centennial Hall is too small for a county convention.

The men who said they could handle delegates were numerous before the convention.

The Daily News was represented by M. J. Lawlor and the Herald by C. T. Stranglin.

Dignified Display.

Several young men of town made a trip to Ringtown yesterday in a covered wagon and upon their return here drove through several streets yelling, singing and behaving generally in a manner that was condemned by all who witnessed the affair. It was regretted by many that the party had not been arrested and given a lesson in public decency.

Wheelman Overcome.

A bicyclist falling from Frankville was overcome by weakness at the Zion's Grove camp meeting yesterday. It was caused by over exertion and the excessive drinking of cold water. When attacked by the weakness he fell down an embankment and received a laceration of the scalp.

Bicyclists Beware.

The bicycle track at the Trotting park has been strewn with tacks by some unknown person. It appears that they were purposely purchased for the deed as many of them are brand new.

THE DUEL IS FOUGHT.

Prince Henri and His Opponent Both Wounded.

THE PRINCE'S WOUNDS SERIOUS!

There is No Fear of a Fatal Result, However—The Count of Turin Receives a Slight Cut on the Right Hand. Italians Jubilant.

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Count of Turin and Prince Henri of Orleans fought a duel with swords at 5 o'clock yesterday morning in the Bois de Marechaux, at Vancreuson. M. Leontieff acted as umpire.

The fighting was most determined, any instant 25 minutes. There were five engagements of which two were at close quarters. Prince Henri received two serious wounds in the right shoulder and the right side of the abdomen. The Count of Turin was wounded in the right hand. Prince Henri was taken to the residence of the Duc de Chartres and received medical attendance.

The condition of Prince Henri is as satisfactory as could be expected. The doctors, after consultation, have expressed the opinion that no important organ was touched, but absolute rest is necessary for recovery.

Owing to rumors at Naples and elsewhere the public had not expected the duel to come off. It was, therefore, quite private. The official account furnished by the seconds recites fully the circumstances leading up to the encounter.

The Count of Turin, considering the letters of Prince Henri of Orleans to The Figaro offensive to the Italian army, wrote to him on July 6 demanding a retraction. This letter could not be answered until Aug. 11, the day of the arrival of Prince Henri in France.

The prince replied to the count's demand by telegram, maintaining the right of a traveler to record his experiences.

The official account then describes the arrangements for the duel, giving the names of the respective seconds, and says that at their first interview they agreed that the encounter was inevitable. By common accord the conditions were settled as follows:

The weapon to be the dueling sword, each combatant to use that of his own country, but the blades to be of equal length, either combatant to be at liberty to maintain the ground he gains, and each to be allowed the space of 15 meters within which to advance or retire; each assault to continue four minutes; the combat to be resumed in the position occupied, and only to terminate on the decision of the four seconds or the advice of the doctor, when one of the adversaries is manifestly in a state of inferiority, the object of the meeting to be entrusted at once to the two parties, lots being drawn at commencement.

This latter feature of the arrangement was due to the formal objection of the seconds of Prince Henri of Orleans to the direction of the encounter by a third party.

In the first assault Prince Henri was hit in the right breast, though the weapon did not penetrate beyond the subcutaneous cellular tissue. On the strength of the report of the doctors the seconds decided that the combat must go on.

The second assault was stopped because the combatants came into close quarters.

In the third assault the Count of Turin was hit in the back of the right hand, but the weapon did not penetrate beyond the subcutaneous cellular tissue.

In the fourth assault the umpire, Major Leontieff, declared that the sword of Prince Henri was bent, and stopped the engagement long enough to furnish the prince with a new weapon.

In the fifth assault the combatants again got into close quarters and were immediately stopped. Prince Henri, in a counter blow, being hit in the right lower region of the abdomen. The doctors on both sides examined the wound, and declared that Prince Henri was endangered by it clearly inferior to his antagonist. Major Leontieff and M. Mourlochon proposed that the combat be stopped, and this was done by common accord.

While his wound was being dressed Prince Henri, raising himself upon the ground, extended his hand to the Count of Turin, saying: "Allow me, Monsieur, to shake hands with you."

The count extended his hand. The details of the duel show that the encounter was very sharp and determined. Immediately on the crossing of swords Prince Henri vigorously pressed his adversary. The Count of Turin retreated to the limit of the ground and then, resuming the offensive, touched his opponent. The third and fourth assaults ended in long engagements within guard.

The Temps says that the wound in the abdomen of Prince Henri is serious, but not alarming. Had the Count of Turin's steel gone half a centimeter deeper the intestines would have been perforated.

After his wound had received a preliminary dressing Prince Henri walked to his carriage unaided.

The Count of Turin, accompanied by his seconds, left Paris for Italy yesterday afternoon. He was not experiencing any special distress from his wound.

Italians Jubilant.

Rome, Aug. 16.—The news of the result of the duel was received here with the greatest enthusiasm. Crowds filled the streets, cheering for the Count of Turin and the army, and calling upon the bands in the royal squares to play the royal hymn. Many of the houses are decorated with flags in honor of the result, and all the newspapers have issued special editions, giving the details of the encounter. Extra guards have been mounted at the French embassy and consulate. Congratulatory telegrams are being showered upon the members of the royal family from all parts of Italy, and many have been received from abroad.
