THE LEUTGERT TRIAL.

The Peisones' Little Son Grees Evelyn Having His Father, Chicago, Aug. 21.—The trial of Adolph Leutgert, the manager, for the alleged murder of his wife on May 1 began in earnest yesterday. Two witnesses were examined—Diedrich Becken, brother of Mrs. Leutgert, and Louis Leutgert, the 12-year-old son of the accused. The testimony of Becken tended in the main to show the alleged indifference of Leutgert to the fate of his wife and the alleged distinction to report to the police the matter of her disappearance. The boy had already been examined twice as to his knowledge of his mother's disappearance, and in neither case did he refer to having heard his mother about the house after he had been sent to bed. Yesterday he recounted how he had gone to a circus on the evening of his mother's disappearance. He returned home about 10:30 and found his mother, to whom he described what he had seen at the circus. While engaged in this conversation, he said, his father entered the room and ordered him to bed. Later he said he heard his father descending the rear stairway in the direction of the sausage factory. This portion of his testimony was identical with that given at the preliminary hearings. But yesterday he continued by saying that after he had been asleep for a long time he was suddenly awakened by hearing a rustling of skirts in his bedroom. He called out, "Is that you, mother?" and his mother's appearance, and in neither case did he refer to having heard his mother about the house after he had been sent to bed.

Assistant State's Attorney McEwan asked him why he had not told his mother about it. He said no one had asked him about it.

"I asked you if you had heard your mother after she left her bed in the kitchen," said the attorney for the state.

"I thought you meant if I had seen her again," was the boy's reply.

The defense refused to cross-examine the boy, and the court adjourned for the day.

Representative Griffiths, at Mahanoy City, is an announced candidate and will make an active fight for the nomination. Chairman Elkin will open the Republican state headquarters in Philadelphia in tomorrow afternoon in this connection.

The local politicians are already laying their plans for next year's contest, when a full county ticket, Congressional, Senatorial and Legislative nominations are to be made. Tomorrow is the last day for registration. Every Republican voter voted it to himself and his party to see that his name appears upon the registration books.

There are very few names mentioned in connection with Legislative nomination in this district. However, it is early yet. The free trader Republicans are coming back to their old slogan of "no tariff, no state restraints on the 'rover'." The action of the Democratic state committee at Reading yesterday will hardly have a tendency to draw them down.

The woods are full of Senatorial aspirants on the Republican side of the house. Among those mentioned in this connection are: John D. Mahanoy City; Frank Kintner, Lofcy; John A. McFinnis, Frickville; Joseph McConnell, Ashland; and John D. Kershner and Charles Welby, Tanquet. No Shenandoah aspirant has as yet entered the list. To be successful the Republicans must nominate a popular candidate in the county.

The Republican nominees were in conference at Pottsville this morning. As a result of the recent state delegate election, the Republican leaders are forming new lines, to the advantage of the party. The Wannamaker people are anxious for another opportunity in this county. Their list of names at the top.

William Holtski, a First ward saloon-keeper, was the defendant in a case before Justice May last evening in which he was charged by Paul Toczyloky with selling intoxicating liquors to minors. Among the witnesses who testified were the three children of the plaintiff who were brought home on Sunday afternoon in an intoxicated condition from the effects of drink received at Holtski's home. The youngest of the witnesses is but six years of age. Owing to the absence of one of the principal witnesses the case has been continued. John F. Mahan, Esq., of Pottsville, who represented the defendant, said that the same was executed on the ground that he (Holtski) had not given the drink to the children, but his wife, and that it was unknown to him. Both Toczyloky and Holtski figured in a "second" case before the same Justice in which Holtski says that Toczyloky was in his saloon last Sunday and asked for drinks. Upon being refused he threatened the saloonkeeper and his wife with personal injury. Toczyloky was held in $200 bail for his appearance at court. KILLED BY MOONSHINERS.

Two Officers Dead, Two Seriously Injured and Two Missing. Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 8.—Two deputy United States marshals are dead, two are seriously injured and two more missing as a result of an attack on a posse of officers by a band of moonshiners in Pope county. The dead are J. P. Taylor, of Barry county, and Joe Dodson, of Stone county. The wounded are the Renfro brothers. The names of the missing men are not given, but they are supposed to be deputy sheriffs of Boone county, and of Boone county. Taylor, one of the murdered men, was 50 years of age, and was the youngest man in Barry county. Dodson was a well known deputy, and has been a terror to moonshiners for years. The officers were on a moonshiner raid when the terrible attack occurred. They had apprehended to within 100 yards of an "hick" distillery when they started upon their march. WOMEN WITH LITTLE FEET.

Can have the double satisfaction of putting them into some of the prettiest Oxford Ties we have in the store, and putting money into their pocketbooks at the same time. A number of Black Oxfords that sold for $1.25 and $1.50, sizes 2 to 4, we've cut to 75c a pair to close them out. All widths, medium toes; perfect foot gear. Fine enough for street wear; exceptionally good for house wear.
