THE STRIKE SITUATION!

Serious Trouble Feared in the Hazleton Region.

STRIKERS ARE ON THE MARCH.

The Employees of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Company Reject the Company's Offer—No Compulsion to Deal in Company Store.

Special to EVENING HERALD. HAZLETON, Sept. 2, 3 p. m.—The striking miners have adopted the tactics which were followed by the strikers in the western part of the state.

At 11:30 this morning they started at Hazleton and marched north, stopping work at all the washeries enroute and compelling the employees to join them in their march. The crowd is by no means assuring in appearance. Many of them are as rough looking as can be imagined and seem very determined. They are armed with clubs, crowbars, pickhandles and such other miscellaneous weapons as they have been able to reach and carry conveniently.

The strikers marched on to Beaver Brook and stopped all work there. A return march was then made to Yorktown, thence to Silver Brook, where they closed down the works, after which they stopped all work at Springbrook (the old Yorktown colliery).

At this writing the strikers are on the road to Jeannette, and it is believed that they will stop the work there and compel the employees to join the procession. There is only one colliery in operation at Jeannette.

A message just received from along the line of march says that, after effecting a close down at Jeannette, the strikers will march on to Hazleton and stop all colliery work in the city and vicinity.

It is difficult at this time to say what will happen. Thus far there has been no clash between the operators and strikers and, to all appearances, the latter are striving to avoid any. The march of the strikers has been unimpeded and the demand for work to stop has been promptly and quietly complied with at each place visited. The spirit of the marchers appears to be such that the slightest resistance might lead to a conflict.

Some messages report that the marching strikers number 3,500; but conservatives place the number at 1,800, although it is admitted that the number is considerably swelled by additions to the ranks at each place where work is stopped, and by the time the strikers reach Hazleton they will undoubtedly have assumed large proportions.

As they march along the strikers keep up a chorus of shouts and frequently indulge in significant gestures, but in no case thus far has any attempt at violence been made against person or property.

Much uneasiness is manifested over the probable outcome when the marching strikers reach here. It is expected that the demand for a stoppage of work will be promptly complied with, as at the other places visited, but as to whether the strikers will then march quietly homeward, or make a demonstration here, is the question that causes uneasiness.

HAZLETON, Sept. 2.—There is a decided change in the strike situation in this region, so far as the collieries of A. S. Van Winkle are concerned. The employees at Milnesville resumed work this morning. At Coleraine, however, there is not likely to be any resumption, for the reason that the employees rejected Supt. Roderick's proposition. The proposition is practically the same as submitted at Milnesville. The Coleraine employees met yesterday afternoon and rejected the proposition. Another meeting was held last evening.

Yesterday was one of much excitement and expectation. Along with the strike at Coleraine, the employees of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Company received a final answer from the officials as to their grievances and demands forwarded two weeks ago and which have since been under consideration. The investigation was resumed at the appointed hour, with Assistant President Warren, General Superintendent Lawall, Chief Engineer Richards, Superintendent Jones and the Grievance Committee present. The inquiry was conducted on a similar plan to that of Tuesday, and a few witnesses whom it was seen fit to summon were called to testify.

Acting President Warren and Manager Lawall, of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, last evening handed to Alexander McMullen, chairman of the Strikers' Committee, their ultimatum. The company declines to make any concession, excepting to advance laborers from 90 cents to $1 per day. They decline to discuss the company store question or to consider the removal of Superintendent Jones.

The proposition was fully explained to the men in the different languages, at a meeting held last night, and it was unanimously decided to remain on strike until some further concessions were made.

The men regarded the proposition of the officials as decidedly shabby, inasmuch as the wages paid many of them are lower than at some other collieries. From all appearances the men are unanimous in their determination to remain out and among the foreign element the feeling is very bitter, but peace is bound to be preserved. Another large meeting will be held this evening at McKeo's.

An English-speaking miner, who later viewed, said: "The strike was no benefit to us; we lost five days to benefit the foreigners; we would not object to the company store so much if the prices were within reason. For illustration of the enormous profits we are obliged to pay, here are a few examples: When eggs are selling in Hazleton for two dozens for 85 cents, we paid 32 cents per dozen; butter sold by other dealers for 15 cents we paid 25 cents for; tobacco sold in Hazleton for 25 cents we are obliged to pay 34 cents for. These are but a few samples of the prices charged here, but we have no redress. If we do not deal in the store, we are notified about it with a broad intimation that others would be glad to have our places and deal in the store."

The employees at Milnesville, who had been granted an increase of 10 cents per day, did not feel safe from interference by the men at Coleraine, and fearing that the terms submitted would not be satisfactory to them, extracted a promise from the officials that when they return to work this morning and the Coleraine men decide to march to Milnesville to stop them, that they be given ample warning and an opportunity to get out of the works and harm's way. This promise was made as well as a promise to protect them in case they want to remain at work.

LEVI G. M'CAULEY. [Republican nominee for Auditor General.]

MAJOR LEVI G. M'CAULEY.

A Popular Leader and Veteran of the War.

Major McCauley was born in Chester county Sept. 2, 1837, and was educated in the public schools, and at Abington Centre and Wyoming seminaries. He was a practical mechanical engineer prior to the loss of his right arm in the late civil war.

When the war out broke he was the oldest of four brothers who, led by their father, joined a battalion of 300 men, raised by the senator McCauley in Susquehanna county in the latter part of April, 1861. On account of his age Governor Curtin refused to commission the elder McCauley, upon which his son Levi left that battalion and joined a company of men at Wilkes-Barre, which had been recruited by Colonel E. B. Harvey. This company afterwards became Company E of the Seventh Regiment Reserve Volunteer Corps.

Young McCauley went into camp with this company at Camp Wayne, Chester county, as a private soldier. One of the highest tributes ever paid to Major McCauley was shortly after the close of the war. Colonel E. B. Harvey, under whom Major McCauley had served, in a letter to The American Republican, said: "Levi McCauley was one of the best and most trustworthy and reliable men in my regiment. His devotion and fidelity to the cause and to duty secured him early promotion from a private to a captain. At Dravestown he was specially noted for his firmness and determination to succeed as commanding officer, performing duties many others shrank from. At Mechanicsville battle of the seven days fighting around Richmond Captain McCauley was killed by a bullet which fatally directed to guard a forward across Chickahominy, and at the extreme left of the battle line. Twice they repelled a rebel effort to cross the stream. So successful were the operations that the act that General McCauley personally desired to thank McCauley and King for saving the battle that day to our forces at that point."

His Battle Record. "At Gaines Hill battle on the next day, while Captain McCauley's company was decimated, he kept his men in order and steadily to work. "At Charles City cross roads, after the conflict became confused and disorder and disorganization seemed to prevail, I ordered Captain McCauley to support a battery, while other companies gave at bay to a flank party. The rebels charged on the battery. McCauley repelled them. The attack was renewed, and the men taken. McCauley rallied his men, and with others ordered to his aid, he retook the guns after a hand to hand fight over them, and slaughtered the foe. McCauley was shot in the arm. "The victory was his. The guns and ammunition were removed from the field. McCauley had his right arm amputated, and was taken prisoner that night by the rebels. "After his capture by the rebels McCauley was taken to Libby prison, where he was compelled to sit around on the edge of a cot and wait until another prisoner died to make room for him. He was subsequently paroled and sent to David's Island hospital, in New York harbor, where he remained until November, and was then ordered to report for duty at Harrisburg on recruiting service. He rejoined his regiment, notwithstanding his maimed condition, in January, 1863. He was promoted to a captain of his company in the February following, and did duty with his regiment and company until December, 1863, when he was transferred to the Veteran Reserve corps, being finally discharged Jan. 30, 1866, the reason-services no longer required.

A REPUBLICAN WORKER. Ever since the close of the war Major McCauley has been an active Republican worker. He was elected register of wills of Chester county in the fall of 1869; was chairman of the Republican committee of that county for four years, from 1882 to 1886. He was a delegate to the last three state conventions that nominated the governor, and has frequently been a delegate to other state conventions.

FROM THE GOLD FIELD

The Impressions of a Trained Newspaper Man Now at Dawson.

PLENTY OF GOLD IN SIGHT!

"The Man Who Comes Here to Mine Does So at the Expense of Health and Happiness"—Provisions Will be Very Scarce.

San Francisco, Sept. 2.—The Bulletin has received a letter from Charles Haines, dated Dawson City, July 26. Mr. Haines is a well known newspaper writer, and his letter is the first written from this season in as far as the Klondike gold regions are concerned. He says: "The rich diggings have been comparatively idle during the summer, although the output from Eldorado and Bonanza Creeks was famous, and there is plenty of gold in sight. There is every prospect of an immense output of gold from this district next spring. The total output this season is, as near as I can judge, about $7,000,000, but very little ground has been worked, and the dumps will, like some of the tailings of old California placers, pan out thousands of dollars when worked with improved machinery. The placers are the most puzzling and deceiving I have ever seen. Imagine a man working on good 'color' and finding the ground worth only a few dollars per day, and then turning to a waste of mud and moss, with no surface indications, and unearthing a bonanza. That is the situation here and all over Alaska. "The man who comes here to mine does so at the expense of health and happiness, and it is with him a question of making a fortune or chances with death. Four hundred valuable diggings are stretched along creeks, and every digger is a fabulous mine of gold. Yet there are weary men who have gone and returned to Dawson, after searching the great country thereabouts, and never a nugget do they show for their toil. In short, the miner guesses at it, and locates any and everywhere. In 19 cases out of 20 he misses it, and has to wait another year. "Dawson is merely a collection of log huts, saloons and a mass of tents, about 600 in number. When the long nights come and the glass goes down to 65 degrees below zero there will be intense suffering here, and I shudder to think of the results. "Provisions are going to be very scarce, and there is every reason to believe the town will go on short rations during the winter, and that scurvy will be rampant. "Reports of other strikes are constantly received here, and many are authentic, so far as Stewart and Polity rivers are concerned, but nothing like so rich as the Klondike has been reported. Quite a number of people are preparing to leave for Juneau, in case the steamers cannot get through with provisions, and the outlook for a good grub supply is not encouraging."

Disastrous Floods in Japan. Victoria, Sept. 2.—The Empress of China arrived with Oriental advices on Aug. 19. By floods in a prefecture of Japan over 100 houses were destroyed and five or six lives lost in the Nishima district. All bridges on the Oshima railway in Higashi Kubiki district were broken down by floods, and the roads also damaged in many places. Over 40 houses were swept away by water and 24 lives lost in the village of Maehi and 700 houses in the village of Tachikido were submerged. At Maseo the houses flooded numbered 1,000, and the killed and wounded 300, while 600 persons were saved from drowning.

Belit to Two Millions. Oakland, Cal., Sept. 2.—Fred Horton, a young flour miller of Los Angeles, has fallen heir to a fortune of $2,000,000, amassed by his father, Philip Horton, a well known California banker, who whose sudden death three weeks ago has been received by relatives in Oakland through the United States consul at Guaymas. The youth, now 19 years of age, was a child when his parents were divorced. The mother, who subsequently remarried, took the boy with her, and the father left California. He settled in a Mexican town, near Guaymas, and there established a flour mill business.

Grand Army Bean Soup to-night. He lunch to-morrow morning. Meals served at all hours.

A Great Feat. A world renowned aeronautical engineer has been engaged to make a balloon ascension and terrific parachute dive from the clouds at Columbia Park on September 6th (Labor Day) at 3 p. m. This will be the first opportunity of the Shenandoah people to see this death-defying balloonist and his monster air ship, which is 99 feet high and contains 1,800 yards of cloth. When filled it will carry Mons. Roberto to a dizzy height of 5,000 feet, when he will cut his parachute loose and sail safely towards the earth. This will be a feat that will be heartily appreciated by the public of Shenandoah. The Independent Social Club has secured the attraction at an enormous expense and $100 will be forfeited to any charitable institution if the above announcement is not positively carried out at Columbia Park on Sept. 6th.

Notice to Consumers. As this is the season of the year when it is necessary to take precautions against droughts, the public water works are warned against the waste of water in any manner, and especially in the use of pavement, window and carriage cleaning hose. Last of the Season. On Sunday, next, the last cheap extension of the season to Atlantic City via Philadelphia & Reading Railway occurs. As heretofore, the rate for the round trip will be the very low one of $2.50, good for Sept. 5th, only going at 2:10 a. m. At this will be the last one, you should not fail to take it in, as Atlantic at this season is even more delightful than in the hotter months of July and August and traveling is not near so fatiguing. By all means "take it in." 5t
