PA CIVIL SUIT.

Steve Gonnansky Claims He Didn't Get All His Money.
A civil suit of Steve Gonnansky against Michael Tribula, the East Centre street merchant, was tried before Justice Shoemaker last night. E. W. Shoemaker, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff and S. G. M. Holloper, Esq., for the defendant. The plaintiff claimed that he left $50 with the defendant for safe keeping and subsequently left a second $50 with him. He produced making his deposits with Tribula to risking his money in banks. Gonnansky produced witnesses who swore they were present when both deposits were made. The plaintiff also alleged that he drew one sum of $50 from Tribula, but when he went to get the other $50 was told that only one sum of that amount had been deposited. Tribula denied positively under oath that he had received more than $50 from the plaintiff and produced his books showing only one entry of $50 in Gonnansky's favor. Justice Shoemaker gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount claimed and costs. Tribula says he will appeal.

Birthday Party.

A birthday party was tendered Artie A. Trezise at the home of relatives, on South West street, last evening. The evening was most enjoyable and the guests were made up of many of the usual gamblers that make up such events, concluding with a series of matches that were executed with the skill of professionals. In the first of them Artie Trezise and Minnie Richards were declared victorious, while the final was between Freddie Brown and Bertha Seaber. During the progress of the evening refreshment refreshments were courteously served and the little folks departed for their homes at a late hour with many expressions of good feeling towards Artie and John Trezise, who will leave for their home in Brooklyn, New York, this week after an extended vacation spent with their grand-mother, Mrs. John G. Davis. Among those who attended the party were Misses Edna Sobur, Bertha Seaber, Minnie Lenhard, Gertrude Powell, Flossie Hoover, Hannah Seaber, Minnie Richards, Jessie Loucky, Emma Morton, Susie Richards, Emily Loucky, Flora Gilman, Susie Williams, Gardfield Jefferson, Walter Capper, Arthur Davis, Fred Brown, George Holvey, John Fetzer, Harrison Powell, Jacob Anspach, Joseph Richards, Louis Hinzinger, Lester Faust, Artie and John Trezise.

It Was Touching.

A touching scene at Mayville park, near Shamokin, yesterday afternoon, was the forfeiting of $100 to the manager of the Brady base ball team by the Lincoln nine, of town. Over aggregation of ball tossers left town yesterday evening resulted in great expectations over the "lead pipe cinch" they thought they had in hand. But, alas! to-day they are in tears. The exact score of the game cannot be ascertained. Mayville park was invaded by an immense audience of rosters yesterday, who yelled until their throats were sore.

STRIKERS PEACEABLE

The Luzerne and Schuylkill Sheriffs on the Scene.

THEIR SERVICES NOT REQUIRED!

Late Dispatches Say That, While No Immediate Demonstration is Looked For, the Men Are in a Very Fevish State.

Special to Evening Herald.

HARRINGTON, Sept. 7, 3 p. m.—The strikers assembled at Meadco this morning preparing for a demonstration, when Sheriff Scott arrived from Potsville with fifty deputies. The Sheriff read the riot act and Organizer Faby, of the Miners' Union, prevailed upon the men to abandon their proposed march and disperses. Meanwhile Sheriff Martin arrived on the Luzerne side of the line with 100 men armed with Winchester rifles and accompanied by the C. & L. police force. After the men dispersed everything assumed a quiet aspect, and has since remained so, although there is a decidedly fevish feeling among the men. Nothing serious is anticipated today.

Sheriff Martin is now here with about 150 deputies and will keep them ready for any emergency. The C. & L. force is also in readiness. A code of signals has been arranged by which the forces will be called out by alarm from steam whistles, should occasion require the step.

All the collieries in the region, except Colorado, Miltenville, Jeddo and Lattimer are in operation.

It is stated that the strikers propose to visit Mores. The reason given for this is that the Dodson Coal Company is supplying orders from this colliery which were shut off by the strike at their Beaver Brook colliery.

Outside the ranks of the strikers, who are at all times hopeful, there is also an unflinching feeling of success, and it is generally admitted that the grievances will be speedily adjusted by the companies who are losing heavily through the present suspension.

The following correspondence passed between the miners' officials and the company officials yesterday:
WILKESBARRE, 10:25 a. m.
THOS. DUFFY, Sec'y:
What do you think of arbitrating all difficulties?
E. H. LAWALL, Assmt.
It is useless for the committee to meet unless you grant the same advances Van Winkle has made.
THOS. DUFFY, Sec'y.
THOS. DUFFY, Sec'y, 1:40 p. m.
If Van Winkle's terms are fair don't you think arbitrators would decide so. If arbitrators decide so there would be an alternative of seeking an arbitrator, we select one and let these two select a third, the arbitrators to be disinterested parties. Is not this a fair proposition?
E. H. LAWALL.

We refuse to arbitrate. If you cannot give the A. S. V. Van Winkle's advances, committee will no longer exist. Answer at once.
THOS. DUFFY, Sec'y.
WILKESBARRE, 3:50 p. m.
Will refer to Mr. Waters your ultimatum with regard to arbitrating, and will advise you as soon as I hear from him.
E. H. LAWALL.

Up to three o'clock this afternoon the ultimatum of the operators had not been learned. Should an answer fall to come the committee will no longer act with the officials, but will leave them to confer with the men.

Michael Sinisko, a Polester, employed in the striping at Hasle Mines, went to work yesterday morning despite the warnings of his friends. Last evening between five and six o'clock three characters lay in wait for him and beat him so shamefully that he had to be removed to the hospital, where it was found that he sustained a possible fracture of the skull, contusion of the jaw and contusion of the ribs. With good care he will recover. His assailants are unknown.

Over three hundred Winchester rifles were shipped to this city last evening and housed at Pardee & Co.'s store for use in case of trouble.

Proclamations have been issued by Sheriff Martin, of Luzerne county; Seltzer, of Carbon, and Scott, of Schuylkill, under the Riot Act of March 31st, 1890.

REVEALED HIS GUILTY SECRET.

And His Execution For Wife Murderer May Result.

Wellsboro, Pa., Sept. 7.—Walter Goodwin was held by the coroner's jury yesterday, charged with the murder of his wife, Etta Goodwin, who was found by the roadside, near Mansfield, and died Sunday without having recovered consciousness. There was a new development in the case yesterday by the arrest of Gertrude Taylor at the home of her father, Charles K. Taylor, on Phoenix Run, Potter county. This is the girl whom Goodwin says he spent the evening with in Wellsboro last Friday. She is only 14 years of age, and has frequently been with Goodwin during the past fortnight.

At first she said she never heard of such a town as Mansfield, but upon being pressed with questions she finally admitted that she went to Mansfield last Thursday night with Goodwin, and sat in the buggy and held the horse while he had an interview with his wife in the home of Mr. Beach. She drove back to the house of her father and spent the day there. On Friday night, when the murder was committed, she said she was with Goodwin. They drove down to Wellsboro, then back past his father's house and to Mansfield, where they arrived about 2:30 o'clock. She again held the horse while he was away about three-quarters of an hour. On the road home, she said, Goodwin told her that he was a free man at last. She said she knew that Mrs. Goodwin had been killed early Saturday morning. This was some five or six hours before the woman's body was discovered at Mansfield, and before any one except those connected with the crime knew she had been murdered. The girl is in jail here.

Gardner's Crime Closed Two Sixties.

He had been partially demented most of the time since his unfortunate connection with the bank scandal. This is the second suicide as a result of the failure of this bank. Bank Examiner Miller, having shot himself while trying to untangle the defaulting cashier's accounts.

Deputy Assaulted by Women.
Sharon, Pa., Sept. 7.—Forty hundred other articles, mowers, reapers, agricultural machinery, coal, coke, locomotives, raw petroleum, and sleepers; we have reduced the duty on lumber (yellow pine and oak), on canned goods, on petroleum, on cotton goods (this last from 30 per cent. to 20 per cent.), and we are heavier than our rivals, having all other American products imported there (5 per cent. ad valorem on plows, machines, and motors of all kinds for agricultural purposes, sewing machines, rosin, wire for reapers, fences, etc.).

The value of mowers and reapers showed from the United States to Argentina, he said, were $31,000, the year ending July 1, 1895, while the shipment of mineral oil, lumber, tools, all kinds of instruments, railroad equipments, etc., also were large. This document he followed up with a more recent statement in which he showed by official statistics that for a period of ten years, 1887 to 1896 inclusive, the trade of the two countries has almost balanced, the shipments from Argentina to the United States being $7,903,788, and those from the United States to Argentina $7,164,905.

President Crill contemplates that the Argentine tariff rates shall be modeled so as to provide a maximum tariff and a minimum tariff, similar to the plan of European countries. The advantages of the minimum rates will then be accorded to the United States if a reciprocity treaty is negotiated which will give equal terms to Argentine goods. Argentina will urge the treaty be negotiated by which the president grant 20 per cent. reduction in the duties on such goods as may be agreed on. However, until Senator Merou receives explicit instructions from his government.

PROPOSED RETALIATION!

Argentine Republic's Objections to the New Tariff Law.

MINISTER MEROU'S STATEMENT!

Argentine's Representative at Washington Gives Statistics to Prove That Under the Old Tariff Trade Between the Two Countries Was Balanced.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Senator M. Garcia Merou, the Argentine minister, has not yet received official notice of the message sent to the Argentine congress by President Tribuna suggesting either reciprocity treaties with the United States or retaliatory tariff legislation if the United States declines to make a treaty, but he is familiar with its purport, as it is in line with negotiations he has conducted for some time with the state department. He is expecting information from his government at an early day.

The present action in Argentina was foreshadowed by Senator Merou in an official note which he sent to Secretary Sherman some time ago. In this note the minister referred to the painful surprise of his government on learning of the practically prohibitory rate of duty which threatened Argentine wool. He also presented a statement on the condition of the trade between the countries, which he said showed that the main articles sent by Argentina to the United States are wool, hides, goat skins and bristles. In 1896 the shipments of wool to the United States were 22,735,851 pounds, valued at $2,639,257. Argentine also furnished 23.9 per cent of all the hides brought into the country, coming next to the United Kingdom, 12 per cent of all goat skins, and 15 per cent of all bristles. The new tariff law, the minister said, fixed practically prohibitive rates on wool and hides.

The wool schedule he represented to be peculiarly burdensome, as the Argentine wools have more shrinkage than Australian wools, thus permitting the latter to have an advantage. Minister Merou then pointed out that Argentina had made heavy tariff concessions to the United States, specifying as follows:

On the free list, besides other articles, mowers, reapers, agricultural machinery, coal, coke, locomotives, raw petroleum, sleepers; we have reduced the duty on lumber (yellow pine and oak), on canned goods, on petroleum, on cotton goods (this last from 30 per cent. to 20 per cent.), and we are heavier than our rivals, having all other American products imported there (5 per cent. ad valorem on plows, machines, and motors of all kinds for agricultural purposes, sewing machines, rosin, wire for reapers, fences, etc.).

The value of mowers and reapers showed from the United States to Argentina, he said, were $31,000, the year ending July 1, 1895, while the shipment of mineral oil, lumber, tools, all kinds of instruments, railroad equipments, etc., also were large. This document he followed up with a more recent statement in which he showed by official statistics that for a period of ten years, 1887 to 1896 inclusive, the trade of the two countries has almost balanced, the shipments from Argentina to the United States being $7,903,788, and those from the United States to Argentina $7,164,905.

President Crill contemplates that the Argentine tariff rates shall be modeled so as to provide a maximum tariff and a minimum tariff, similar to the plan of European countries. The advantages of the minimum rates will then be accorded to the United States if a reciprocity treaty is negotiated which will give equal terms to Argentine goods. Argentina will urge the treaty be negotiated by which the president grant 20 per cent. reduction in the duties on such goods as may be agreed on. However, until Senator Merou receives explicit instructions from his government.

A Murderous Italian.
Scranton, Pa., Sept. 7.—Vito Raymond was shot and killed, and Frank Rusa, who was wounded, by Charles Abbott on the south side yesterday afternoon. Raymond and Abbott and two others, all Italian stone-masons, returning from the Labor Day parade, became engaged in a quarrel. Abbott suddenly whipped out a revolver and shot Raymond three times. When the alderman was firing he fired a shot at the victim's sister-in-law, who emerged from a gate just in front of him. The bullet missed its mark and landed in the abdomen of Rusa, who was in an adjoining yard. Abbott was captured after he had waded the river.

Reports of Unfortunate Unconcerned.
Harrisburg, Sept. 7.—General Frank Reeder, reached here last night from Easton, and positively declined to talk about the story that he has tendered his resignation to Governor Harrison as secretary of the commonwealth. The governor will come to Harrisburg today from his summer home at Bellefonte to preside at a meeting of the Capitol Commission. Deputy Attorney General Ellin, who is also said to contemplate resigning, is still at Indian Hill and will not be here before this evening. His friends claim to know nothing about his contemplated resignation.
