COLUMBUS CONVENTION.

Differing Opinions Regarding the Pittsburg Compromise.

THE ILLINOIS DELEGATES OBJECT

Practically Ignored by the Proposed Compromise Agreement.

Columbus, O., Sept. 2.—The Interstate miners' convention adjourned last evening until today without having taken a vote on the question of accepting or rejecting the proposed settlement of the strike.

The prospects for the acceptance of the settlement are somewhat doubtful. In fact, a canvass of the situation shows that a majority of the votes, unless some change should be brought about, will be cast against it. The greater part of the afternoon session was spent in listening to the speech of National President Ratchford and State Presidents Parks of Ohio, Knight of Indiana, Carson of Illinois and Dolan of Pittsburgh. All of these officials, with the exception of Mr. Carson, argued in favor of the acceptance of the Pittsburg operators' proposition. They told the delegates very plainly that if the proposition was rejected the strike would fall utterly, as all resources had been exhausted. They advised that, inasmuch as the strike had been precipitated in the Pittsburg district, it was very proper that it should be settled there.

President Carson, of Illinois, told the delegates just as plainly why he could not support the proposition for a settlement. He said the Illinois miners were practically ignored by the operators' terms, and that would eventually force a reduction again in the other states.

The most important action yesterday was in determining the basis of representation. Some of the delegates wanted a rule that no delegate should be allowed to cast more than six votes. This, if adopted, it is claimed, would have settled the question of the acceptance of the strike settlement very quickly. It was the sentiment of the convention that representation should be fixed so that all miners should have a voice in the settlement. Accordingly, it was decided that one vote should be cast for every 100 miners represented. This makes the vote to be cast each state about as follows: Western Pennsylvania, 320; Ohio, 280; West Virginia, 110; Indiana, 80; Illinois, 200.

The Illinois delegates will be cast against the acceptance of the operators' proposition, will about offset the vote of western Pennsylvania (Pittsburg district). The vote of Ohio is about equally divided on the proposition, and also the West Virginia vote.

The Illinois delegates are being instructed to vote in favor of the operators' proposition until a general settlement will be effected by it. In view of the position of the Illinois miners they do not see their way clear to vote to accept the proposition. It is felt that the acceptance of the Pittsburg district will not be unanimous in favor of accepting the settlement, as some of the delegates have stated openly they would not vote for it.

The convention is one of the largest delegate gatherings the miners have ever had, there being 180 delegates on the ground, and more are expected.

"Duke and Duchess of Rio Grande," Norristown, Pa., Sept. 2.—The "Duke and Duchess of Rio Grande," who are under arrest in London on the charge of defrauding stockholders, are believed to be the two persons who came to this city on Aug. 29, 1896, and were married before Justice of the Peace Lenhardt. They came here from Philadelphia, where they had been stopping for some time. The woman was a tall and shapely blonde, and claimed to be of French descent. After the ceremony the couple left the city. The marriage certificate gave the bridegroom's name as Edgar Serge de Niel, of Nice, France, and his age as 36 years. His occupation was given as commander in the French navy. The bride's name was Miss Charles Conger, aged 25 years, and residence, Philadelphia.

OVER A DOZEN KILLED

By a Head-On Collision on the Santa Fe Railroad.

HON. WILLIAM J. BRYAN ESCAPED

The Presidential Candidate Was a Passenger on One of the Trains and Labored Zealously to Succor the Wounded—Locomotives Exploded.

Emporia, Kan., Sept. 2.—One of the worst wrecks in the history of the Santa Fe railroad occurred three miles east of here at 7:30 o'clock last night. Twelve or fifteen persons were killed, and a many more badly hurt. The fast mail train going east and the Mexico and California express, west-bound, collided head on. The Mexico and California express was pulled by two locomotives, and when they struck the boilers of all three engines exploded, blowing a hole in the ground so deep that the smoking car of the westbound train went in on top of the three engines and two mail cars, and balanced there without turning over. The passengers in the smoking car escaped through the windows.

The front end of this car was enveloped in a volume of stifling smoke and steam, rushing up from the wreck below, and the rear door was jammed tight in the wreck of the car behind. The wreck caught fire from the engines, and the cars in the hole and the smoking cars were quickly burned to ashes. In the burning of the smoking car several men fell through the rift in the wreck below, and it is impossible to tell whether they escaped or were burned to death.

The westbound train carried seven or eight coaches, and its passengers included many ex-couriers who had been to hear Hon. William J. Bryan speak at the county fair at Burlingame. Mr. Bryan himself was on the train, but was riding in the rear Pullman. He states that nothing but a heavy jolt was experienced by the passengers in his coach.

Mr. Bryan was one of the most energetic men in the crowd of rescuers. He helped to carry out the dead and wounded, and gave the greatest attention to their care. One poor fellow, who was badly maimed, called to Mr. Bryan and said, "I want to hear you today. I am dying now, and I want to shake your hand and say God bless you. If you possibly can, Mr. Bryan, get me a drink of water."

Mr. Bryan went into the fast mail car, one end of which was burning, and came out with the drink of water, which he gave to the suffering passenger. He brought out cushions for others of the injured, and was everywhere present to minister to the wants of the suffering.

It is feared that nearly all of the seven mail cars perished in the disaster, but so far only the suffering passengers have been taken from the wreck.

The known dead are: Jim Brennan, engineer, Topeka; Nate Hollister, fireman, Topeka; J. F. Souders, Kansas City, express messenger, body almost consumed by fire; William Frybair, engineer, H. A. DeWitt, clerk, Kansas City; John Gonzalez, train west-bound; George Brag, Topeka, unknown tramp.

Among the most seriously injured are: Claude Holliday, Lawrence, express messenger, both legs broken; D. E. Erler, Kansas City, express messenger, legs broken, will die; John Dagan, Topeka, face smashed; J. T. Butler, county attorney of Chase county, hip broken, may die; William F. Jones, Kansas City, leg and both arms broken; Phil Schur, Kansas City, leg crushed; William Patrick, Kansas City, leg and arm broken.

Ben Walters, of St. Joseph, Mo., a fireman on the westbound train, is missing.

The engineer of the westbound train had received orders to meet the fast mail train at Emporia, Kansas, making a last time. These two are the fastest trains on the Santa Fe system, and the westbound train must have been running at a speed of at least 40 miles an hour. The westbound express was going around a slight curve when the collision occurred.

Of the seven or eight cars making up the mail, baggage and express and smoking cars were destroyed. The coach following the smoker was badly splintered.

There were not more than a dozen passengers on the fast mail, and all in one coach, and while none of them was seriously injured their shaking up was terrible. Every seat in the coach was torn from the floor, and many floor planks came up with the seats.

One man, John Swower, was thrown over three seats and then to a window, but escaped with only scratches and bruises. The other cars of the fast mail train, baggage and express, were totally wrecked.
