CRIMINAL COURT.

Several Cases Postponed Yesterday—District to be Senteuced.
Neri Delrich, the Poor Director found guilty of accepting bribes, will be sentenced to-morrow afternoon, when his counsel will ask for a special alibi and the case carried to the higher court. This will keep Delrich out of jail.
District Attorney Bechtel yesterday asked the court to issue a capias for Thomas J. Joyce, who was not present as defendant in the Coyle libel suit. Charles A. Snyder, one of the counsel for Mr. Joyce, said he would present his own affidavit accounting for his client's absence. He also said that an important witness for the prosecution, Hon. E. A. Griffith, had left the county very suddenly. The case was carried over until to-morrow morning. John J. Coyle, the prosecutor, to-day employed William Wilhelm as additional counsel, for reasons well known to those on the inside.
Thomas Clements was found guilty of assault and battery on oath of A. H. Rhoads, of Shenandoah. He was sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $10 and 30 days. Clements was also found guilty on the charge of common nuisance, oath of Rhoads. The costs were divided.
The chair on the bench occupied by the late Judge Weidman, is draped in mourning.
Mat. Korpowicz, of Shenandoah, was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Bechtel for inflicting injuries that killed Thomas Tomalin in December, 1890. The case could not proceed because Dr. J. C. Riddle was detained at the bedside of his son, who was very ill at the Miners' hospital. The case was adjourned again to-day until to-morrow morning in order to give Dr. Riddle a chance to testify. The scene of the trouble was in Walter Snyder's saloon, on East Centre street. Snyder wanted to be paid for drinks. The defendant, it is alleged, picked up a stove lifter and struck Tomalin on the head, causing a fracture of the skull. Korpowicz, it is stated, was a friend of Snyder's, and went to his assistance. The injured man was removed to his home, but he became violently insane. He was subsequently removed to the Miners' hospital, where he died.

A LIBEL SUIT.

Editor of a Local Lithuanian Newspaper is Prosecuted.
V. J. Stogoras, editor of a Lithuanian weekly newspaper published in this town, has been arrested for libel. As the publication was in the Lithuanian language and no translation has yet been made to the English language the specific grounds upon which the charge is made cannot be stated.
The suit was instituted at Mt. Carmel by one Joseph Irish, Justice William Amour, of that place, issuing the warrant. The defendant was arrested last night and furnished $500 bail before Justice Shoenmaker, in town, for his appearance for trial at Sunbury on the 15th inst., the case having been instituted in Northumberland county.
Boy in a Breach.
Stincy Samontas, a Polish boy, seven years old residing near the rocks in this town, went over the hill to a place between Lanigan and Mahanoy City with a crowd of boys yesterday afternoon. While they were engaged in playing Samontas went down into a mine breach to hide. The companions wandered away and left the hiding boy alone. The breach was only about five feet deep, but when Samontas attempted to climb out he found the sides too steep. He remained a prisoner for some time, crying for help, but was heard until William Gadsinki, a miner, passed near the place on his way home to Mahanoy City from work. He reached down and pulled the unfortunate boy out of the hole. The boy was brought to town by Patrick Lawlor, an insurance agent, who happened to pass the place at the time.

Turn in Your Votes.
If you have any stray coupons in your pockets for the bicycle contest at the Shenandoah ring store do not fail to turn them in, as the contest will close on Saturday night, September 11th, at 12 o'clock. The race apparently stands between Miss Clara Whitlock and Brose Toole. As the expiring time of the contest draws nigh the rivalry is turning more intense every day. Up to last night the vote was as follows: Miss Whitlock, 23,002; Brose Toole, 22,963. Thus far 64,543 votes have been cast since the contest opened.

Conspiracy Charged.
Constable F. M. Bertman, of Pottsville, this morning came to town and arrested Andrew and Frank Green, of East Centre street saloon, and Pella Ryackiewicz, street hotel keeper, charging them with conspiracy to defraud the creditors of the Greens. The suit arises from the failure of the Greens several months ago. The accused furnished $500 bail, each, for trial at court.

Obituary.
Josiah Williams, one of the oldest and wealthiest citizens of Lansford, was found dead in bed Tuesday morning. Up for a few years ago he was a mine contractor but lately lived retired. He was one of the first prospectors to go to California during the gold fever and was successful in his quest.
Unfortunate Miner.
Shortly before quitting time yesterday afternoon, Adam Mukewicz met with an accident by a heavy piece of rock falling on his left foot. The member was considerably bruised and is swollen to twice its normal size. Owing to the swelling it cannot be ascertained whether any bones were broken. He is confined to his home on South Market street.

The only wars ever shed over the death of the Wilson law, the most destructive agency the domestic manufacturer has ever had to contend against, are shed by foreign manufacturers and by those in close sympathy with them. The existence of the Wilson law has been a period of happiness and prosperity for the foreigner, and it seems like a cruel thrust to him to be deprived of this large market.—N. Y. Textile Manufacturers' Journal.
The new law means well, however, and in many directions will conserve the public interest. To the fullest possible extent consistent with the collection of adequate revenue for the government, it endeavors to shield American industries from foreign competition at home, and this is a strong point in its favor.—St. Louis (Mo.) Age of Steel.
Foreigners protest against the Dingley bill because, as they say, it will throw thousands of foreign workmen out of employment. But suppose it results in giving employment to thousands of American workmen who are now idle and better wages to thousands of others. Our side is the American side.—Indianapolis (Ind.) Journal.
DIED.
