Governor Lowndes at Somerset.

Somerset, Pa., Sept. 10.—President McKinley gave up last evening to a public reception. The crowd at the reception numbered nearly 2,000 people, and last night the Salisbury band serenaded the presidential party. President McKinley appeared on the porch, and in a five minute speech thanked the band and the crowd for the serenade, and then introduced Governor Lloyd Lowndes, of Maryland, who arrived here last evening to spend the night as the guest of Abner McKinley. The governor spoke in a happy vein for ten minutes. In response to calls from the crowd the President and Mrs. McKinley appeared on the porch and were loudly cheered.

Pennsylvania's Capitol Commission.

Harrisburg, Sept. 10.—The proposed capitol will not be erected in time for the meeting of the next legislature as required by the act appropriating $500,000 for a new state house. This was settled yesterday afternoon when the capitol commission, against the vigorous protests of Governor Hastings, rejected all the plans recommended by the board of experts and will ask the architects for new ones. The governor was so displeased with the action of his colleagues that he withdrew from the meeting and declined to further participate in its proceedings. It is expected that the governor's friends assert that he has no alternative.

Another Jump in Wheat.

New York, Sept. 10.—Wheat made a gain of about two cents a bushel yesterday, reaching the highest point since Aug. 22, when it sold at $1.04 1/2. Shorts were active buyers, inspired by sensational cable stories to the effect that Hungary was a large purchaser of Russian wheat to supply home deficiencies. Foreign houses bought futures in the forenoon and later took about 30 loads of actual grain, including a fair business for French ports. December sold from $1 to $1.02, and closed at $1.01 1/2.

SHERIFF MARTIN INTERVIEWED

Declared That He Did Not Order His Deputies to Fire.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 11.—Sheriff Martin was very nervous and scared when he arrived here last night, and was at once taken to a hotel. In an interview he said he first met the marching miners at West Hazleton. He asked them where they were going, and they replied, "We are going to Lattimer to get the men out there." Then the sheriff and 70 deputies, armed with Winchester and revolvers, boarded a trolley car for Lattimer, and marching down the public road headed off the marching column of Poles and Hungarians. According to Martin's story when the strikers reached the line of deputies he ordered them to halt and disperse. One of the Hungarians said in broken English, "Go to hell, you!" Martin then attempted to arrest the man who made the remark, and, as he claims, was fiercely assaulted by the man's friends, when the firing began.

"When you met the men were they on company property or on the public road?"
"They were on the public road."
"Were they marching toward Lattimer?"
"Had they up to that time committed any overt act or acted otherwise than peaceably?"
"No."
"Why, then, did you order the deputies to fire?"
"I did not order the deputies to fire; some of them did that. First came a single shot, and then a volley. I gave no order."
"How many men were killed?"
"There were 12 when I left, and about 40 wounded."
"Were any of your men hurt?"
"One of my deputies was shot through the arm."
Though Sheriff Martin claims to have been brutally assaulted, when seen he did not have a mark on his person to show that he had been roughly handled. All classes of citizens in this city and country unite in condemning Sheriff Martin's hasty action.

The Troops Ordered Out.

Harrisburg, Sept. 11.—Governor Hastings last night received word from the sheriff of Luzerne county that he had suppressed the mob near Hazleton, and asked for military assistance. The sheriff fears that there will be much loss of life if he attempts to cope with the rioters. Colonel C. B. Dougherty, of Wilkesbarre, sent a telegram corroborating the sheriff's story. In response the Third brigade was ordered to the sheriff's relief.

Gone to Hazleton.

Among the townsmen who were called out this morning to join the Third Brigade in the march to Hazleton were Lewis Hopkins, Jr., John Fogie, Stephen Lademann, John Kutz, Patrick Smith and William Williams. John Deaney and Henry Dressler, of Wm. Penn, were also among those called out. Mr. Hopkins received a telegram at eight o'clock this morning to notify the members of the National Guard residing in town and Wm. Penn and within an hour he had them on the journey. Adjutant Mackey's train passed through town this morning at nine o'clock, en route from Ashland to Delano, where orders were given for all the companies in this county to mobilize. He stated that the entire Third Brigade had been called out and that when the mobilization takes place on the route the scene of trouble there would be close to 300 uniformed men on hand. Mr. Wilhelm was of the opinion that there would be no clash between the strikers and the troops. The main point in view in ordering out the whole brigade, he said, was to intimidate. Experience had shown that the appearance of 2,500 or 3,000 uniformed men had that effect at Hazleton for instance, and he believed that the appearance of the troops in the vicinity of Hazleton would have a quieting effect.

A gentleman who came from Hazleton this morning said that the city was in a terrible state of excitement and was running high over the events of yesterday. But a word was required from some leader among the strikers to participate additional disaster. In many places threats were openly made to run down and exterminate Sheriff Martin and his deputies and it was feared during the night that the city would be sacked. Only the most active work upon the part of some cool heads among strikers and the citizens of Hazleton stayed the tide.

British Don't Want Panama Canal.
Washington, Sept. 10.—Secretary of State Sherman stated in an interview yesterday that while he had no official information on the subject, he was convinced that there was no truth in the report that Great Britain had undertaken to complete the Panama canal. "England had no desire to embark in such an undertaking," he said. "She had no such intention. Individual subjects of that country have interested themselves in vast enterprises in all parts of the world, but so far as I know there are no indications that they have gone into the Panama canal scheme."

Fattened For a Million Dollars.
New York, Sept. 10.—James R. Wilford, Elmer Dwight and Jay Dwight, who composed the firm of J. H. Wilford & Co., bankers and brokers, with offices in the city, Buffalo, Washington, Philadelphia and Montreal, yesterday assigned to James L. Starbuck, one of the bookkeepers of the firm, with references for $20,000 to William H. Osterhout. No statement of the condition of the firm is yet obtainable, but it is believed that their liabilities will reach $1,000,000. Jay Dwight is at present traveling in Europe.

Daniel Metzler, of Pottsville, well known contractor, has made an assignment. Supervisors are at work on the proposed trolley road connecting Ashland and Centralia. The Delaware County Medical Society held an interesting session at Chester yesterday. Dauphin county's official registry shows 1,000 less voters in the county than a year ago.

A lot of fakirs were arrested for working with gambling devices at the Berks county fair. John Talada, a prisoner in the lockup at Athens, Bradford county, hanged himself and died. O'Neill Bros., of town, have been awarded the contract to furnish the new school building with desks.

Groff, of Lewisburg, and Robert Dudley, of Philadelphia, have been reappointed by Governor Hastings as members of the State Board of Health.

Clearfield county's Grand Jury recommends that the Court oust the County Commissioners for maintaining a wretched jail, in which men and women are imprisoned together.

A decision of the Supreme Court says that every person who crosses a railroad at grade, "must stop, look and listen," and that if the track is enveloped in smoke must wait until it clears away. Some of the 300 workmen engaged on the National Transit pipe line, near Ploverville, Berks county, have had to abandon their jobs, being unable to obtain board within five miles of their place of work.

The deadlock between the Crilly and O'Donnell factions of Allentown's Sixth Street Baptist church, which resulted in teacher's breaking in the doors of a school house, has been carried into Court on a motion to oust the directors. ALLEGED ADVENTURESS.

A Lithuanian Belle from Shamokin Arrested in Town.
Constable Swift, of Shamokin, came to town yesterday armed with a warrant issued by Justice Carney, of that place, charging Miss Linda Shamokin, a young Lithuanian woman of Shamokin, with false pretence. The complaint was made on oath of Savari Moleksi, a Lithuanian about 25 years of age. The complaint is that Moleksi met the young woman at Shamokin about three weeks ago and it was agreed that they should marry. Moleksi says he gave Linda $50 with which to purchase a wedding trousseau. She spent $10 of the money on a dress and then disappeared. The woman is good looking and said to enjoy the attention of many admirers. It is alleged that she has adopted the same tactics in different parts of this state. New Jersey and New York.

Moleksi traced the woman to this town and Constable Swift located her at the house of John Roshinski, on "the rocks," at the southern end of Main street. When the constable took the woman in custody an unknown man in the house attacked him and attempted to use a hatchet, but the officer escaped and the man was arrested and taken to the Lehigh Valley depot, where he boarded the train for Shamokin.
