COLLIERIES START AGAIN

Everything Assuming Normal Condition in the Hazleton Region.

MAJORITY OF THE MINES WORKING

Fears of Trouble as Foreshadowed by the Morning Dispatches Were Not Sustained by Developments of the Day—Many Sensational Stories Afloat.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

HAZLETON, Sept. 14, 3 p. m.—There is a decided change in the strike situation at this writing, and to the usual and far-seeing observers must seem evident that by the end of the week the trouble will in most cases have been satisfactorily adjusted, and the only vestige of the shooting that will remain will be the memory of it.

Everything is as quiet as it possibly can be and business has assumed a comparatively normal state. The excitement that has prevailed for several days is on the wane and the friends of the bereaved are becoming more pacified.

Fortunately there were no deaths at the hospital yesterday or to-day, and the condition of the remaining victims is somewhat improved, but the death roll will in all probability be increased by the latter part of the week, as the condition of five of the men is such that they may rally one day and expire the next.

The South Side, which for weeks has been the hub of the wage-strife, is gradually recovering its normal condition. The Lehigh & Wilkesbarre collieries, as well as Beaver Brook colliery, were to resume work to-day, but this program has been changed.

The Auderend mines have been the scene of much mechanical activity owing to the water having attained a depth of a few feet on Saturday because of a lack of steam, and the men refused to furnish supply coal for the boilers until everything was settled.

Nothing, as far as is known, has developed at any of the other South Side collieries now on strike, but the prospects of a favorable settlement have grown brighter during the past few days.

A monster meeting was held last evening at McAdoo and was unanimously decided to remain idle to-day to attend the funerals of some of the colliers. Among these is that of Cameron Piodak, a Polish victim, who was removed from the hospital to the home of his brother in McAdoo on the Sabbath evening after expiring from the effects of his wounds.

The feeling among the foreign element is bitter, and it is likely that more than one will suffer, as they have quietly instituted a boycott among themselves against those who have been heard to sanction last Friday's work. Several of these withdrew their deposits from one of the banks yesterday, and it is said that many of the others will follow very shortly.

A. J. Van Wickie's collieries at Milnesville and Colerain commenced operations to-day. They were idle yesterday in order to give all those who desired to do so an opportunity to attend the funerals of the killed marchers. Perfect harmony now reigns among the men employed at these collieries, and they, as far as can be learned, are anxious to return to work.

Coyler's strippings, at Hazle Mines, which were idle since Saturday, also resumed operations this morning.

Reports received up to noon to-day show that the majority of the collieries in this region resumed operations this morning and have continued operations without any indications of trouble. Everything is approaching a normal stage and the on of excitement appears to be ending.

GOBIN WAS DECEIVED.

He Charges That Faith Was Broken on Funeral Arrangements.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 14.—Hazleton quivers on the edge of a volcano. At this writing troops are marching on the mines of Cox Brothers at Eckley, which nest in a valley about three miles from here. Telegrams to brigade headquarters late yesterday afternoon indicated an alarming condition there.

The first knowledge of disturbance at the Cox collieries reached brigade headquarters in the morning, when General Gobin received a dispatch that 200 miners at Buck Mountains, three miles from Eckley, had gone on strike and began to march on the Eckley mine.

Request was made for a detachment of the military to avert possible conflict, but before the soldiers could be started off to the scene the authorities were reassured by the receipt of a second telegram to the effect that the march had been stopped and no further trouble was feared.

Late in the afternoon a third dispatch changed the situation for the worse. It said that the march had been resumed and carried to the Eckley mines, and that the men there had been forced to quit work, after rough handling by the marching men.

The City Troop of Philadelphia, the crack cavalrymen, were instantly ordered to proceed to Eckley. The news has created consternation throughout the district and the collieries are preparing for trouble.

General Gobin has been deluged with requests for troops, but declares that he will send none to any point unless an outbreak really occurs. This is a measure of precaution to keep the soldiers mobilized.

worried. They accept the lesson offered by the havoc wrought at Gomer Jones' home the other night, and two have asked the brigade commander to place guards around their houses, which will be done. The names of the superintendents are kept secret.

There is a sensational story afloat concerning a conversation overheard on the streets of Hazleton yesterday, but it should be accepted with a reservation. The story goes that a group of miners were standing on a corner when one was heard to remark: "I've got the material, but I don't know how to mix the d— stuff. If I did I'd blow them up to-night."

It is said that the guards were placed about the superintendents' houses as a result of this. Yesterday had been regarded as the turning point of the situation, because of the prohibition issued by General Gobin against the proposed funeral demonstration. A compromise was offered, however, and the tax passed off without disturbance. In the meantime the Cox collieries were being watched with intense anxiety.

It was known that the 2,000 men employed at No. 7 had made a demand for a 10 per cent. increase, which was to be submitted to the operators yesterday, with the alternative of "strike." From 5,000 to 7,000 men are employed at all the collieries, and it was understood that such a movement would bring them all out. Whether or not the proposition was formally submitted could not be learned, because nobody would talk. The men were all at work, but strike talk was rife and a big meeting at Stockton had been scheduled for last night. There was a general impression that nothing decisive would be resolved upon at least before tomorrow.

Another late afternoon report was that the employes of ex-Congressman Leisner's upper Lehigh colliery will go out on a sympathetic strike. As an increase of 10 per cent. was granted on Saturday to the McAdoo men, they have expressed their intention to return to work at once, although they do not expect to remain in more than a day under the pressure that will be brought to bear by the other strikers.

General Gobin said yesterday afternoon that the withdrawal of troops had not been considered for a moment. They will remain in the ground until the sheriff is convinced that he will be fully able to cope with any emergency that may arise. The rumors that martial law had been declared, the general said, had been spread by some vicious person. "There is martial law only so far as that of the courts extends," he said. "We are here solely to assist the sheriff in maintaining peace and order. Men can come and go as they please so long as they behave themselves. If there is the slightest infraction of the peace which the civic authorities are unable to handle, then we will render assistance, but such condition has not yet arisen."

The commander added that neither Sheriff Martin nor any of the deputies would be arrested while the troops are here. "I am under no authority," he said, "and if I am arrested I must take that authority from the deputies. If the deputies are arrested, what resort will remain?"

The first discord between the military and the strikers occurred yesterday, and General Gobin was angry about it. Following his order against the proposed funeral demonstration, he arranged for a conference yesterday morning with the Polish priests who are looking after the cause of the men. He impressed them with the necessity for preventing any show of a military character, and said he would permit no uniformed men to participate except those representing religious societies. Bands of music, side arms, stinks and banners were also prohibited. The priests promised that all this would not be done, and the commander, on the other hand, promised to keep all troops away from the funerals. Somebody stole a march on the general, however, and although the latter revoked the clause excluding music, there were men in line wearing the uniform of the Italian army and others carrying drawn sabers.

Six of the latter stood in front of the church during the ceremonies within. Learning this, the commander promptly dispatched a staff officer and a detail of men to the cemetery, but when they reached there the services were over and the mourners had dispersed.

"The priests gave me their sacred promise that no arms should be carried nor military uniforms worn," said General Gobin. "In moments when a spark might result in the wholesale loss of life and property it seems to me that such things should not be permitted. If I had the slightest idea that their promises would be broken a troop of cavalry would have been there within a few moments." The general added that he would demand an explanation from the clergymen.

There was little change in the program arranged by the miners for the funerals. There were 13 in all, but two proceeded from Harwood direct to the cemetery, without regard to the other, who united in an extensive cortege. Eight of the bodies lay in the shop of Undertaker Rohin in Hazleton, where they were viewed by a great crowd.

WARRANTS ARE ISSUED.

The Taxpayers' Association at Pottsville Institutes Proceedings.

FORMALITY OF ARREST AVOIDED!

County Commissioners Renis and Martin, Controller Severn, Ex-County Commissioner Allen and Ex-Commissioner's Clerk Connell are Named as Defendants in the Writ.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 14.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of County Commissioners Renis and Martin, ex-County Commissioner Allen, County Controller H. R. Severn, and Phil J. Connell, former clerk to the County Commissioners.

The warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace H. B. McGool, of this place, and at the instance of the Taxpayers' Association. The information is made on oath of Messrs. Shortall and Berner, who were engaged for several weeks in examining the books of the county.

The charge upon which the warrants were issued is conspiracy to cheat and defraud the county of Schuylkill and is based upon the alleged deficiency of $10,000 found by the examiners appointed by the Taxpayers' Association.

District Attorney Bechtel to-day placed the warrants in the hands of an officer for service, but the attorneys for the County Commissioners have prevailed upon the Taxpayers' Association to withhold service of the warrants, stating that the accused officials would waive service and appear without the usual formality of being placed under arrest.

HOMEICIDE CASE POSTPONED.

The Shenandoah homicide case in which one Karpovitch is charged with the murder of Thomas Tomalonia was up before Judge Bechtel again to-day, but postponed to the November term of court on account of the absence of important witnesses.

TO BE TRIED TO-MORROW.

The O'Neill, Dee and other cases arising out of the West Mahanoy School District troubles have been set down for trial to-morrow.

VAN VALKENBURG TRIAL.

The Case was Called Yesterday With Many Witnesses Present.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 14.—The case of E. A. Van Valkenburg, charged with conspiracy to bribe Representative Wise of Schuylkill county, to vote for John Wammanaker for United States Senator, was called before court late yesterday afternoon, when it was discovered that the original indictment was missing from the district attorney's court papers.

Van Valkenburg's counsel offered to furnish a copy, and it was decided by the court to finally dispose of the matter to-day. It was intended to proceed with the case this morning, but a delay was caused last night on account of some of the counsel being engaged in the Cass township case. At noon the case was taken up by Judge Savage and there was quite an argument on a question arising over the bill of particulars. The court ordered that the prosecution present the bill at two o'clock this afternoon.

At 2 p. m. the case was called up again. An important witness in the case is a brother of Van Valkenburg, the defendant. A physician took the stand and swore that the witness was seriously ill at the Merchants' hotel, Pottsville, and not able to attend court. The case was then postponed until Thursday morning, next.

Van Valkenburg was in court and attracted much attention from the large crowd present. Representative Wise was also here, and yesterday afternoon General Frank Lester, ex-Secretary of the Commonwealth, came up, as did M. C. Luckensiek, on a train from Philadelphia. The two latter are under bail, as is Detective J. M. Tillard, to answer charges of conspiracy to defame John Wammanaker in the alleged bribery case that constitutes the basis of the trial here.

The prosecution is represented by District Attorney Edward W. Bechtel, assisted by ex-Attorney General Palmer, ex-District Attorney W. John Whitehouse and John T. Lenahan. The counsel for the defense include Harry A. Mackay, Charles H. Berger, of Harrisburg; John F. Whalen and R. H. Koch, of Pottsville.

The following are among the witnesses present for the prosecution: Charles A. Gibson, E. D. McGowan, R. M. O'Brien, L. S. Shoemaker, Henry Frey, of Scranton; M. C. Mackey, Weaver, Pa.; B. H. Moore, J. D. Morgan, G. W. B. Hicks, Philadelphia; Charles L. Leah, Fort Washington, Pa.; T. M. Powell, Hazleton; George R. Lyne, Harrisburg; J. C. Campbell, Derry Station; Thomas Herbert, Altoona; J. P. Halcom, Pittston; E. L. Bally, Thomas McGilnes, Pottsville; Daniel McSwenney, New York; J. M. Tillard, P. L. Frazer and H. H. Hick, Hazleton; C. E. Coleman, Hazleton; W. B. Grubb and James Thomas, Bangor, Pa.

At the Hymenial Altar.

At nine o'clock this morning Miss Mary Sweeney and Joseph Burke, both well known young people of Lost Creek, were united in marriage, in St. Mary Magdalene church. The groom was attended by Joseph Burke, a town, while Miss Mary Burke, a sister of the groom, performed the duties of bridesmaid. The young couple have the best wishes of their friends.

Mootly Appointed.

Among the fourth-class postmasters appointed yesterday was that of Joseph Moody, at Tremont. The appointment was made upon recommendation of Congressman Brumm.

Transfer Refused.

Application was made to the court yesterday for the transfer of Sidney Meluskey's saloon license to John Medala, but was refused on the intervention of creditors of Meluskey & Son.

Visited by a Choir.

The choir of the Primitive Methodist church of town visited Girardville last night and spent several pleasant hours at the residence of one of its members, Edward W. Anson, a motorman on the Schuylkill Traction line.
