WORKING MEN'S MEETING.

It Was Held in the Rykowitz Building Last Night.

Fully four hundred Lithuanians assembled in the Rykowitz building last night to listen to an address made by Dr. Crispus, of Senanton, a former resident of town. The speaker spoke for over two hours and dwelt at length on the situation of the Hazleton strike and the situation of the miners at Lattimer without provocation whatever. He also spoke in favor of circulating a petition to be sent to the state authorities for the removal of Mr. Martin as Sheriff of Luzerne county, before his prosecution would take place.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Councilman Englert Had a Close Call in the Mines.

Councilman Conrad Englert had a narrow escape from very serious if not fatal injuries in a gangway of the Turkey Run colliery last evening. He had finished the day shift and turned to walk out of the gangway when a fall of rock occurred. A large piece struck him a glancing blow, inflicting three large cuts on his back. Mr. Englert was knocked out for several minutes, but recovered sufficiently to walk home. He was out walking last night, but will feel the effects of his injury for several days.

Jury's Sudden Death.

Emmanuel B. Kistler, of Minersville, died very suddenly last evening while serving as a juror at Pottsville, on the infanticide case against Rose Jacobson, of Mahanoy City. He was taken suddenly ill with cramps while at the supper table in the De Court hotel, between 6 and 7 o'clock, and died four hours later in great pain. The deceased was 46 years old, and leaves a wife and several children. He was a painter by trade, and son-in-law of Contractor Kramer, of Minersville. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death from natural causes.

STRIKERS ORDERLY!

No Signs of Violence in the Lehigh Coal Region.

WHO ISSUED THE ORDER TO FIRE?

A Traveling Agent Says Supt. Hess, and Not the Sheriff, Gave the Order to the Deputies to Fire Upon the Strikers—To Return to Work.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD.

HAZLETON, Sept. 15, 3:30 p. m.—The situation here and throughout the region is one of perfect quiet, and no further trouble is anticipated, provided the operators do their duty and meet the men on neutral grounds. The indications are the men will return to work, and it is a question of only a few days when every colliery in the region resumes operations. No deaths have occurred during the past twelve hours, and the injured are improving.

Organizer John Fahy is in great demand and is organizing many branches of the United Mine Workers Union.

Meetings at different places are being held to-day, but little importance is attached to these assemblies so far as a probable outbreak is concerned. A meeting was held at Lattimer this morning for the purpose of organizing a branch of the United Mine Workers Union. There was a large attendance. Last evening a branch was organized composed of one hundred Lithuanians. Rev. Aust, pastor of the St. Stanislaus Polish Catholic church, and of which one of the victims were members, this morning celebrated requiem mass for the repose of the souls of these unfortunate. Rev. Maylan delivered the sermon, assisted by all the priests of the region. The church was packed to the doors. The militia is still here and will likely remain for a week or ten days yet. When asked his opinion on the strike this morning, Gen. Gobin said he had none to make. The First Regiment was to-day removed from Beaver Meadow to Drifton. This was done merely as a military manoeuvre in order to give the troops a more effective situation. Brigadier General Snowden and Adjutant General Stewart, accompanied by several of the Major General's staff, arrived here this morning. The visit is simply informal, and is for no other purpose than to look over the situation.

Andrew F. Adams, a traveling salesman, says Supt. A. E. Hess, of the Lehigh Traction Co., gave the order to fire on the men at Lattimer last week, and not the Sheriff, as has been charged. Mr. Adams says that Sheriff Martin's orders were that if the men insisted on passing the deputies they were to be allowed to go ahead. In conclusion Mr. Adams said: "Yes, Hess was the man who first said fire."

SEVERAL NEW ARRIVALS.

Hugh O'Donnell, of Homestead Fame, Now at Hazleton.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 15.—Despite a variety of alarming rumors and a morning movement by a body of miners, which looked formidable, yesterday passed off without serious disturbance in the strike region. Matters still wear such an uncertain aspect, however, that General Gobin declares that the removal of the troops, or of any portion of them, has not been contemplated. The strike itself is spreading with great rapidity. Exact estimates of the number of men who have quit work are hard to obtain, but conservative figures place it at close to 10,000, with indications that within a short time every colliery of importance in the region will be idle. Although some disposition has been shown by small bodies of strikers in the outlying districts to make demonstrations, they have been of a rather feeble character, and the great majority of men are docile.

These mines are now idle: Coxe Bros. & Co., Eckley, Beaver Meadow and Oneida, about 2,000 men; Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company's Honeybrook and Auderried mines, about 2,500; Frank Pardee's Cranberry and Crystal Ridge, 1,800; Lehigh Valley Coal company's Hazle mines, Yorktown, Jessaville and Auderried, 3,000; Calve, Pardee & Co.'s, Lattimer and Harwood, 2,000. The men at Coxe's Stockton mines have expressed their intention of joining the strike. Yesterday was their pay day. Concerning the Drifton mine, of the same company, which was working yesterday, one of the men said they understood the men were going out.

The First City Troop, of Philadelphia, which was dispatched at an early hour yesterday to the scene of the reported outbreak at Eckley, found nothing for it to do when it reached that place, about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Several hundred miners from Buck mountain marched on the Eckley mines on Monday night and brought out the men there. A few of the men who showed a disposition to continue were roughly handled, and the mine superintendent, fearing trouble, went to General Gobin for troops. He also sent word to the Lehigh and 70 deputies from that place and Roan Junction were sent over on a locomotive. They kept themselves under cover at Eckley, however, awaiting developments.

Nothing further happened, the men at Eckley joining the ranks of the strikers. Meanwhile the cavalry troop was sent by General Gobin and had a wearisome march over the mountains, only to find everything at Eckley as peaceful as a New England village on Sunday.

The mountain journey of the cavalry to Eckley, although agreeably disappointed of its purpose, had a salutary effect in that it deeply impressed the miners with the extent of the military power. The original intention to send the entire City Troop was changed, and only half of that body, with an equal number from the Governor's Troop, went to Eckley. They were fully armed, each man carrying 30 rounds of ammunition and one day's rations. Passing through the main street of Hazleton, on to the Lattimer road, good speed was made to Harleigh.

Here the troop scattered about the nearby country in search of marching miners. None being found, they marched on to Lattimer, where a similar movement was executed. The presence of the cavalry in Lattimer, where the bloody event of last Friday occurred, caused much excitement. The foreigners gathered in great numbers and watched the maneuvers of the soldiers with awe and trembling. So far from there being any hostile demonstration, many of the miners respectfully saluted the troops. Drifton was reached about noon, and a stop for lunch was made here. Upon finding Eckley calm the troops returned to Hazleton, reaching camp at 5 o'clock last evening.

The day had scarcely opened before another annoying story came to brigade headquarters by telephone. It was to the effect that a gang of miners from Drifton had marched on Colliery No. 5 at Juddo with the expressed intention of bringing the men out. Upon reaching the colliery John Markle, the superintendent, met them, and after a conference with a committee of the miners succeeded in bringing them off without trouble. This was the only incident of the day which partook of the nature of a demonstration.

At Lattimer yesterday afternoon a largely attended and decisive meeting of strikers was held to receive the answer of the company to their demands. With a large body of strikers gathered in the open space before the company's store Superintendent Blake appeared at the door and gave them their answer. It was short and to the point, and was met with action equally as decisive. The demands had been formulated as follows: We desire and wish the privilege of buying our provisions where we think proper, instead of being forced to do so at the company's store; we want a 20 per cent advance on all classes of labor; we demand the dismissal of all parties who took part on last Friday, Sept. 10, in the shooting affray; we demand that all classes of labor be paid the same for rock work as for coal on idle days; we demand that no man shall be discharged for acting on this committee.

The company's answer to this was: The men are not to be dismissed, they are obliged to buy exclusively at the company's store; the advance would not be granted, because the company was paying the average rate of the region; the company absolutely refused, without assigning any reason, to discharge anybody who participated in the shooting; men suspended on idle days have the privilege of taking somebody else's place, thus making good the difference in rate between rock and coal work; no man shall be discharged for acting in the grievance committee.

Superintendent Blake made a short speech to the men, urging them to return to work, and arguing that they could gain nothing by remaining idle.

"What do you say?" he concluded, "Will you come back?" There was a moment's buzz, and then a cheer on part of the men, and the superintendent attempted further persuasion, and the men dispersed.

There were several arrivals here yesterday. One of these was Hugh O'Donnell, who gained some notoriety as a strike leader during the Homestead riots. He declared positively that he was here on private business, and had nothing whatever to do with the strike.

A. S. Ambrose and Dr. Henry Bracon, both editors of Hungarian papers in New York city, were also among the new comers. They are in close touch with the strikers, and have held conferences here on previous occasions.

Dr. Bracon said that with most of the men the company store grievance took precedence over every other complaint. At Drifton, he said, nearly all of the threatened employees are Irishmen.

There was no additional deaths yesterday. Four or five men who have been hovering between life and death ever since the shooting were unchanged, but all the others were doing well, and many already have been discharged from the hospital. The funeral of Jacob Tomashontas, the 18-year-old lad who was shot through the head and lingered until Sunday, occurred yesterday in McAdoo. It was attended by one of the largest gatherings seen since the outbreak of the trouble. There was no demonstration, and the services passed off quietly.

The only other incident in that quiet village was the failure of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre men to return to work. They had accepted the offer of 10 per cent increase made by the company last Saturday, and the understanding was that they were to resume yesterday. The men have decided to ask for a clear cut statement from Superintendent Laval before resuming work.

Austria Will Demand Satisfaction.

London, Sept. 15.—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily News says: "I learn that the imperial government will demand full satisfaction for injuries to Austro-Hungarian subjects at Lattimer, and the complete punishment of those who are culpable in the affair, according to the sentence of American tribunals."

Lost Creek Reception.

The home of Mrs. Sheridan, Lost Creek, was the scene of a gathering of young folks from that vicinity who had gathered there to tender the Misses Duddy, of Philadelphia, a reception. DOINGS AT THE COURT

An Army of Witnesses in the West Mahanoy Cases.

THEY WILL BE HEARD TO-MORROW

The Jury in the Cass Township Case Did Not Reach an Agreement Until This Morning—A New Jury Secured For the Infanticide Case.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 15.—No little surprise was occasioned in court this morning when announcement was made of the death of Emmanuel B. Kistler, of Minersville, who had been impaneled as a juror in the infanticide case against Rose Jacobson. A legal question arose as to the procedure to be followed, and was settled by Judge Savidge directing that the jury impaneled yesterday afternoon be dismissed and a new one drawn. This was accomplished by ten o'clock and the case proceeded. When court adjourned at noon the Commonwealth was still putting in its evidence and it is not likely that the case will be concluded before tonight. Former District Attorney Ryan, counsel for the accused, is trying to show that the child was dead born and not killed by the mother. In cross-examining one of the physicians called by the Commonwealth he showed that the dropping of human lungs into a vessel of water, while a test showing that there has been respiration, is not positive evidence that there was life after birth.

The jury in the Cass township case, which retired at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, remained locked up until 3:30 this morning, when a verdict was agreed upon, the defendants being found not guilty, but directed to pay the costs of the trial, while one-third was put on the presentment.

The cases attracting the most attention at the present time are those coming from the West Mahanoy township school district. All the principals and eighty-five witnesses came in to court this morning, but were compelled to return home without being heard. Only Judges Bechtel and Savidge are sitting. It has been agreed that the latter shall try the cases and he was engaged in the infanticide case. All the witnesses were ordered to report at court to-morrow morning.

King of Low Prices Talks.

We are the people for the people. The fact will never be better illustrated than on the advent of the opening of our new grocery store, on Saturday, September 18th. We are soliciting a big throng of buyers and the praise at the great values offered should be more profuse than ever. The low prices and the splendid quality of the goods we will offer will take the town by storm. Our list of bargains should be hailed with delight. Our low prices are equally as fascinating as our brilliant and complete stock of fancy and staple groceries. Fresh butter and eggs received semi-weekly.

Little Folks Surprise Party.

After a two weeks sojourn at Pottsville, Harry Eisenhower, was agreeably surprised at home on West Coal street last evening. The little boy and his friends were given full possession of his home and for several hours mirth and merriment ran high. At the departing hour refreshments were served. The little ones present were: Carrie Herr, Lillian Radloff, Annie Eisenhower, Helia Landman, Clara Hildebrand, Iva Dasto, Emma Morton, Annie Eisenhower, Jennie Bittler, Jennie Broxton, Daisy Price, Minnie Hoffman, Clara Schoppe, Clara Scheeler, Alice Taylor, of Frackville; Gertie Kerchner, of Nonesuch; Francis Phillips, Romeo Blaker, Charles Beisel, Clayton and Howard Loucks, Harry Hildebrand, Sylvester Lambert, Arthur Beacher, Elmer Hiltel, Edward Shopp, Albert James and Herbert Eisenhower. A pleasant evening was spent by the little folks.

Liveryman Sues.

The office of Justice Shoemaker was graced this afternoon by the presence of Harvey E. Kink, the pretzel baker, who appeared as a defendant in a suit brought by Owen Brennan, the liveryman. The suit arises out of a horse loaned from Brennan by an employee of Kink's, named Matt Whitaker, who said his employer wanted to drive to Mahanoy City. Instead the liveryman testifies that he drove the horse to Hazleton and return and enters prosecution for the cost of hire and also for violating the laws pertaining to the protection of liverymen. Kink entered $500 bail for his appearance at court.
