acting secretary Roosevelt his has instructions for the government of his movements of the torpedo boat flotilla and all is now ready for the start of this novel expedition. Heretofore single boats have practiced, but never before has there been anything in this country like the school of torpedo boats that will be grathered under Lieutenant.

This is the great secret and this is also the secret of the uniform success of Strart's that will be grathered under Lieutenant. that will be gathered under Lieutenant Dyspersia Tablets. The start will be made Oct. 1 from New York, with five boats—the Foote, the Porter, the Dupont, the Ericason and the Cushing. If any of the boats are unable to start at that date they will follow along and catch up with the flotilla at the earliest open runty.

It is fully expected that under this strain there will be breakdowns in each and all of the boats, and it is for the purallel of the boats, and it is for the purallel of the boats. all of the boats, and it is for the pur-pose of learning and curing these de-Marshall, Mich feets that the maneuvers are designed. The British government had bad luck in starting a fleet of torpedo destroyers for a fereign port, every one coming back to port on the first attempt, and it is desired that our boats be made safe against such accidents, if possible, by actual tests. Heretofore all torpedo practice has been in still water, with targets sta-tionary. Night drills will be held, and the boats will be made to rendezvous at appointed places in the darkest weather. In this work the flottila will work slowly along the coast until it reaches the gulf. It will go to Galveston, and then, when the spring tides come, as many of the boats as can make the trip will be sent up the Mississippi river as far as it is regarded safe for them to go, probably up to St. Louis, At the end it is hoped that the flotilla, composed though it is of boats not of the very latest type all around, will still, thanks to thorough drill, be as formidable a flotilla as there is affoat, and a most valuable adjunct to the navy.

Vienna, Sept. 22.-The steamer Ika with a crew of ten and carrying 50 Austrian passengers, was entering the ort at Finne, on the River Flumura ast evening, when she collided with the English steamer Tiria, which was leaving. The Ika sank in two minutes. Boats hastily put off and saved the captain and seven ofhers, but most of the passengers perished. The cries of the drowning were most distressing. The casualty took place in full view of thousand who crowded the piers in the greatest excitement and alarm.
