THE O'NEILL CASE. Feature of the Promised Surprise to Materialize. Special to EVENING HERALD. Pottsville, Sept. 25.—Contrary to expectations the promised surprise in the O'Neill libel suit did not materialize. It was stated late yesterday afternoon that Mr. O'Neill's counsel would appear in court this morning and take steps that would probably result in overturning the verdict, or lead to an investigation in connection with the jury's deliberations. Mr. O'Neill was at Pottsville to-day in consultation with his attorney and it is believed that the matter was not brought before the court in consequence of the inability of the counsel to get it in proper shape. Reports have gained circulation that the misdemeanor charges would be dropped in consequence of the result of the libel suit, but assurances were given yesterday afternoon that the case would be pressed to trial at the November term of court.

BOLD HIGHWAYMAN. He Attacks a Young Lady on the Street and Takes East Evening. A bold attempt at assaulting a young lady was made by an unknown man on North Market street, a short distance from Coal street, at about 8:30 o'clock last evening. The young lady in question was on her way to visit a friend who lived in that thoroughfare. She had heard the footsteps of the assailant and as she turned the corner of Leitel's building she was passed by the man. He walked up the alley and stood by the post he released his hold and grabbed her by the two wrists. In her fright she made an outcry and he failed to say a word to her. When the victim made a second attempt to alarm the neighbors the man let go and took to his heels by running in the same direction he had hailed from. The victim says she would be able to identify the man should she meet him again. She was unable to state whether or not he was a stranger, but says he was not very old and dressed very shabbily. His clothes had become faded from age.

FIRE BOSS BURNED. James Brooks, the Victim, at the Shenandoah City Colliery. A burning accident, which at first was not considered to be of a serious nature but may yet result fatally, occurred at the Shenandoah City colliery. James Brooks, a fire boss, had left his home early in the morning to attend to his duties. He was carrying a mine he took off his back to take it in an abandoned shaft. The moment he entered the shaft an explosion of gas took place that was ignited by the fire boss. Before he reached the opening he was considerably burned about the neck and face. Not thinking his wounds serious he remained at work all day. Since then his injuries have assumed a more serious nature. Mr. Brooks is confined to his home on North White street.

KILLED BY HER LOVER. Suicide Follows Immediately After the Awful Crime. A TRAGIC AFFAIR AT SHAMOKIN. A Young Man Shoots the Girl Who Jilted Him and Then Sends Two Bullets Into His Own Head—Both Were Found Dead.

SPECIAL TO EVENING HERALD. SHAMOKIN, Sept. 25.—Cora Kasman, a pretty girl seventeen years of age, has died at the home of her parents here, having been murdered last night by her discarded lover, Alfred W. Mag, aged 26 years, who added suicide to the murder. Mag and the girl were lovers until recently, when the latter changed her affections to a young man named George Uhler, who is employed as a conductor on the Shamokin and Mt. Carmel Electric Railway. Uhler and the girl were to have been married in November, next. Mag became furious when the girl told him that she did not wish his attentions longer and frequently threatened to kill her and himself. His threats were treated lightly, however, and no one anticipated the tragic result of the affair. Last night Mag met the girl on the street and in some manner unknown to the authorities present got her into the left of a blacksmith's shop at the corner of Rock and Spruce street. Having accomplished this Mag shot the girl in the neck. The bullet severed the jugular vein and caused almost instant death. Mag then fired two bullets into his head. They entered behind the right ear. He, too, expired almost instantly. The reports of the shots alarmed the neighborhood and when several people went to the left they found both victims dead.

Miss Kasman was very popular and her character was excellent. Mag was a disreputable character and had been drinking heavily the past few weeks. BOSTON TAKES THE LEAD. The Champions Beaten on Their Own Grounds by the Bean Eaters. Baltimore, Sept. 25.—Nearly 15,000 people saw the Boston baseball players beat the champions yesterday and take the lead in the exciting race for this season's championship. A hundred and thirty-five of these people were Bostonians, who came over to "root" for their fellow citizens. Bearded with red badges, and armed with tin horns they made enough noise for ten times their number, and today they are in an excessively cheerful frame of mind. Not so with the rest of the crowd, for they have no excuse to make for the defeat of the victors. The game was fairly won by superior playing, timelier batting, better base running and sharper, cleaner fielding, in which Hermann, Long and Tenney played probably the most conspicuous parts, two of Long's and one of Tenney's catches being the most sensational. Score by innings: Boston.....0 0 0 1 2 0 2 1 9-6 Baltimore.....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 2-4

The Boston "rooters," headed by Congressman John F. Fitzgerald, of that city, hired a brass band last night to play the victors a serenade and reception at the Rutaw House. This afternoon they will take the band to the grounds to help "root" for the victors. The scores in other National League games were: New York-First game: Washington 7; New York 2. Second game: New York 8; Washington 4. At Brooklyn-Brooklyn, 1; Philadelphia, 2.

Hicks Gets His Commission. Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—The commission of Thomas L. Hicks as postmaster of Philadelphia arrived from Washington Thursday night. Mr. Hicks was in consultation with Postmaster Carr for a considerable time yesterday afternoon, and it was practically agreed that the transfer of the office should take place about Oct. 1. Casarets stimulate liver, kidneys and bowels. Never sicken, weaken or grip. 10c. Always Appointed. The vacancy caused by the death of Maj. James Ellis has been filled by the appointment of John F. Whalen, Esq., to be attorney for the Reading companies in Schuylkill county. Mr. Whalen has for many years been associated with Major Ellis and his acknowledged position as one of the leaders of the bar makes his selection an eminently fit one. His years of experience too add to the value of his services to the company and his appointment is generally conceded to be a fitting reward of a faithful and able employee.

Joe Skelly Nipped. About 8 o'clock this morning "Joe" Skelly, impersonator of Bowery stars, was taken to custody by Chief Tash and Night Watchman Greary. "Joe" had been imitating too freely of the cop which unbalanced his mental faculties. When arrested he was very abusive and disorderly. He is now recovering from his jamboree in the lockup. Will Not Rebuild. The breaker destroyed by fire at Beaver Meadow on Tuesday evening, will not be rebuilt, for the reason that A. Van Winkle has no use for a breaker at that point. Warner & Kennedy were fully insured, and it is not likely that they will again engage in the washery business. Breen's Halls Cafe. Delicious chicken soup, free, to-night. Cream soup, free, on Monday morning. Ushers Attended. The entire staff of ushers of Kaler's Grand opera house, Malanoy City, were in attendance at the performance of "The Fairy-master" last evening. They say the indications at Kaler's popular play house are very promising for a good week's business for the Cameron Citizens Company. Family Jars. Mrs. Ann Hampton yesterday sued William P. Seward and Edward Seward for assault and battery on her infant son. John, before Justice Shoemaker. Bail was furnished for trial. Mrs. Hampton also sued Jane and Bella Seward on a charge of assault and battery and bail was furnished for trial. Sickert's Cafe. One free lunch to-night will consist of soup, ketchup, pork and mashed potatoes.

END OF THE COAL STRIKE. Soldiers Leaving For Home—Verdict in the Coroner's Inquest Tonight. Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 25.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of the Lattimer victims met again yesterday and heard additional testimony. Nothing new was added with the exception of the statement made by Daniel Perry that after the first volley was fired Deputy Wrought shot at a man on the railroad tracks. After a half dozen witnesses had been examined Coroner McKee closed the inquest, and the jurymen retired. The jury will meet this evening to deliberate and decide upon a verdict. The Lehigh Valley Coal company's men at Jeaneville held a meeting yesterday afternoon and unanimously agreed to return to work next Tuesday. The company has made its concessions, and the men at Jeaneville now put an end to the strike.

It was the intention of General Goltz yesterday to order the withdrawal of part of the militia, but the rain interfered. Battery C, of the artillery, broke camp yesterday and returned to Pottsville, and today the Twelfth and Thirtieth regiments left. The Governor's Troop returned the region yesterday. The City Troop, of Philadelphia, will return next week. All is quiet in the region. Victims of Hydrophobia. Scranton, Pa., Sept. 25.—Willie Jordan, aged 10 years, one of 11 boys who were bitten by a mad bulldog in West Scranton last March, died last night from hydrophobia. Death was marked by intense suffering, the boy in his agony biting his mother on the arms. This is the second death. Tommie Kovin, 11 years old, died in April from the effects of bites by the same dog.

NEW STRIPPINGS. Result of Experimental Work at Barry's Junction Awaited. An experiment in mining operations is being made by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Reading Company near Barry's Junction which promises to instill activity in that vicinity. The operations are directed towards the opening of a stripping. The scene of operations is between the Mammoth and the Lehigh Valley railroad. A gang of men are now engaged in the work. They started on the slope of the mountain and are digging a cut twelve feet deep to see how much surface it will be necessary to strip. The coal lying adjacent to the top of the Mammoth vein. If it is not too far from the surface to make the work profitable active operations will be instituted. In the event of a favorable termination of the experiment a large force of men with steam shovels, derricks and mine locomotives will be on the scene by next spring. The coal will probably be sent to the Malanoy City colliery for preparation.

Hebrew New Year. With the setting of the sun Sunday evening the Hebrews all over the world will announce the celebration of Rosh Hashonah the Hebrew New Year festival, the great time of rejoicing, when all believers in that faith gather together, sing the praises of God and commune religion with festivities. It is the one time in the year when all Israelites both of the orthodox and reformed denominations, gather at the temple, unless they are out of the church absolutely and celebrate. The occasion corresponds somewhat to Christmas and, after the religious services are over, there is an exchange of presents and a justification, such as occur but once a year. One of the customs of the day being the presentation of gifts to relatives and friends. The celebration is followed on the eighth day by Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, the most solemn fast of the whole year and the one most strictly observed.

THE FEVER VICTIMS! New Orleans' Death Rate Averages Fifteen Per Cent. Efforts to Destroy a School Building Which Had Been Set Aside For Yellow Fever Patients Arrested the Ire of the Mayor.

New Orleans, Sept. 25.—Thus far there have been a few less than a hundred cases and 15 deaths from yellow fever. The death rate in the neighborhood of 15 per cent. It was in 1873 16 per cent, so that up to the present time the disease is about as violent as it was in the last great epidemic New Orleans has had. One of the sensations of the day was the announcement that the board of health had decided to prosecute Dr. Monahan for having failed to report a case of suspicious fever. Yesterday Dr. Monahan reported to the board of health the case of Miss Dreyfus, who he said was suffering with yellow fever. It was not long before the report was received of the death of Miss Dreyfus. An investigation proved that she had taken sick about six days ago, and that Dr. Monahan had failed to report the case.

Efficient work by the first department, in the face of the attacks of a mob, enabled the department to save the main portion of the Beauregard school building. Only the annexes of the structure were reduced to ashes. The school had been putting the building in a mass meeting of citizens a riotous crowd gathered around the building and openly threatened that at the first opportunity they would fire it. Sister Agnes and a number of Sisters of Charity, together with help from the hospital, had been putting the building in order for the reception of yellow fever patients. The school board in the meantime had removed from the building every desk and other article of furniture, and the hospital people had moved into the building and other active operations will be instituted. In the event of a favorable termination of the experiment a large force of men with steam shovels, derricks and mine locomotives will be on the scene by next spring. The coal will probably be sent to the Malanoy City colliery for preparation.

The school is a handsome building, entirely isolated and situated in the center of a large square. There was no danger of infection from around and people in the neighborhood are unduly alarmed. Unless, however, a company of soldiers is ordered out to protect the building, it is not improbable that a second attempt will be made to destroy it. A special squad of police guards the building at present. The burning of the school has created intense indignation here, and the outrage was bitterly denounced. A committee during the day called on Mayor Flower to protest against the burning of the building as a hospital. His honor severely denounced the incendiary outrage, saying the question has arisen whether there should be law and good order here or anarchy. So far as he was concerned he proposed to exhaust every power at his command to establish peace, and he said that if it required all of the forces of the city and state he was determined that the Beauregard school building should be used as a temporary hospital. In the meantime he said that no effort or expense would be spared in bringing to justice the men who tried the building. The mayor has the support in his course of well nigh the entire community.

The situation here is generally unchanged. Freight is moving slowly, and there is practically no passenger traffic. The theaters are still open, and amusements are not restrained. But that New Orleans is losing hundreds of thousands of dollars by foolish quarantine is not to be doubted. There were three deaths reported yesterday, and several more cases. Among the cases is that of a child in the Wood family, on Octavia street, where two cases already existed. Another case is that of Miss McCall, of Jackson street. This is one of the most prominent averages of the city. No previous case has appeared on the street.

Reports from other sections show that at the Fontainebleau camp of detention 88 persons were admitted and 11 discharged yesterday; total now in the camp, 42. At Mobile there were 3 new cases and 3 deaths; under treatment, 16. New cases at Edwards, 23; total to date, 122. Capitol Commission Again Sued. Harrisburg, Sept. 25.—Glover, Hoad & Ingersoll, of Philadelphia, and Wolf & Bailey, of this city, on behalf of Clegg & Stewardson, of Philadelphia, and Alden & Harlow, of Pittsburg, two firms of architects submitting competitive plans for the new state capitol, filed a bill in equity against the members of the state capitol building commission late yesterday afternoon. They ask for an injunction restraining the commissioners from selecting an architect in any manner other than provided in the established program. A hearing on the petition to continue the injunction was fixed for Friday next.
