KEENAN WINS.

A Jury Gives Him Title Over Thomas H. Van Dusen.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 29.—The jury in the case of Luke Keenan against Thomas H. Van Dusen, both of Shenandoah, this morning handed down a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, giving Keenan possession of the strip of land 11 inches in width and 30 feet long, $50 more profits and the costs. In 1882 Van Dusen had a house erected on West Lloyd street, Shenandoah, and after the building was done Keenan claimed it was on his adjoining lot to the extent of 11 inches. The case was first arbitrated and Keenan won. A trial was then had before Judge Eddlish, of Reading, but sitting at Pottsville, and Keenan again won, but upon some error a new trial was granted and yesterday it came up here before Judge Lyon, of Juniata county. M. M. Burke, Esq., of Shenandoah, represented the plaintiff and W. D. Seltzer, Esq., of Pottsville, the defendant.

A fatal fall of coal in the mines at noon today claimed as its victim Richard Flynn, one of the best known men in this county, a genial, whole-souled fellow who had friends by the score and up to a few years ago was a power in politics. When the accident became known it was a shock to many and an immense crowd gathered to the place at the Lehigh Valley depot where the victim was kept until a train arrived to take him home. He lived about two hours after the accident.

AN ENJOYABLE TIME.

P. O. S. of A. Members Eat, Smoke and Have a Good Time.

After the transaction of routine business last evening the members of Washington Camp No. 119, P. O. S. of A., held a smoker and entertainment in its camp room in the Eggs building and the affair proved highly enjoyable to all who participated in it. Several visitors from other camps were in attendance, among them Rev. H. D. Schulte, formerly of town and now of Allentown. The evening was opened with the distribution of sandwiches and lemonade and was followed by a selection by Prof. E. W. Wilde's mandolin club, after which cigars were served. This was followed by recitation by John Danks, quartette by Edward Connor and party, recitations by Lewis Leba and musical selections by Prof. Wilde and party, after which fruit and cigars were served. There was also an interesting debate and general remarks by several of the gentlemen in attendance, among them Revs. H. D. Schulte and Robert O'Boyle. The affair was one of the most successful and enjoyable of the month and the camp has held and will undoubtedly lead to a delightful and interesting gathering of the organizations during the winter.

Monthly Meeting of the '47's.

A social organization recently organized under the title of the '47's, held their monthly meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. Moses Owens, on South Main street. Its object is to provide social amusement to spend the long and weary evenings of fall and winter, and is composed of many of our leading and well-to-do ladies, among them the following: Mrs. J. S. Kistler, Mrs. C. T. Stranglin, Mrs. John J. Graf, Mrs. F. E. Margale, Mrs. H. E. Dangler, Mrs. T. J. Broughall, Mrs. Jesse Davis, Mrs. George Sager, Mrs. E. W. Wilde, Mrs. Alfred Morgan, Mrs. S. L. Brown, Mrs. William Korylake, Mrs. J. H. Martin and Mrs. E. A. Anteck. The evening's pleasure was completed by Mrs. Owens inviting her guests to the dining room where a delightful repast greeted them. Those present voted their hostess an excellent entertainer.

A Serious Injury.

Peter Becker, of East Oak street, lies at his home suffering from an injury sustained while frolic on Saturday night that may result fatally. It seems that Becker and several friends, including Daniel Hesser, were engaged in playfully pushing each other about when the latter accidentally hit or kicked Becker in the groin, causing a bad rupture. Dr. J. G. Church was called and attended the patient. To-day it was reported that Becker was in a critical condition. When spoken to concerning the case to-day Dr. Church said he attended the patient the last time on Sunday and advised him to go to the hospital. The doctor also said he did not doubt that the case was a serious one, as inflammation had probably set in and the injury Becker suffered had aggravated a previous affliction of a similar character. Becker has exonerated Hesser from blame in the matter.

Ejectment Suit Settled.

POTTSVILLE, Sept. 29.—A good has been recorded here conveying for $3,000 property on West Oak street, Shenandoah, from Charles E. Titman and wife to Sarah, wife of Mine Inspector William Stein. This disposes of the ejectment suit of Charles E. Titman against Mine Inspector Stein and his wife, the latter paying the cost of suit. Mr. and Mrs. Stein refused to pay for the property because they alleged Mrs. Lizale Whalen, who purchased an adjoining property, had an easement of entry on the property Mr. Titman sold to the Steins, and that was not contemplated in the sale. The case was arbitrated in I. H. Kaecher's office in this city on the 16th inst., but the parties did not wait for an award and made an amicable settlement.
