DAMAGES AWARDED.

Gedusky Succeeded in Proving That An Illegal Seizure Was Made.

In the case of Martin Yedusky vs. Harris Rubinsky, Israel Rubinsky, Isadore Landenstein, Thomas Bolan and John Dando, the jury rendered a sealed verdict in Judge Albright's court, at Pottsville, on Saturday in favor of the plaintiff for $378 and costs. The case arose out of the illegal seizure of the plaintiff's store goods in Shenandoah by the defendants for a small claim. Wm. D. Selt, Jr., Esq., for plaintiff, and A. W. Schalk, Esq., for defendants.

Joseph Yedusky was in business on East Centre street, in 1893. His brother, Martin Yedusky, and Peter Wilkinsky, obtained judgment against him before Justice Denzler on January 30, '93, and at once issued execution, and levied upon the stock of goods and other property. Joseph Yedusky claimed the $300 law, and under it Constable Toth seized a large stock of groceries in the store, Harris Rubinsky was a creditor of Joseph Yedusky, and he leased attachment proceedings before the late Justice Denzler in Pottsville. Constable Bertram, on February 2nd, 1903, attached the stock of goods in the store that had been set aside, but did not take actual possession of them, but left them in the possession of Joe and allowed him to continue business as the old stand the same as before. Some three weeks after this attachment was placed in the hands of Constable Dando and upon it was endorsed a list of the goods which Bertram had attached, and which he, Dando, was directed to sell. When Constable Dando called at the store, together with Constable Roland, Martin Yedusky, a brother of Joseph's, claimed these goods, and alleged that he had bought them from Joseph since the attachment. The officers, believing that Joseph had no right after the levying of the attachment to sell and dispose of these goods, and that they were still subject to the attachment, seized the goods.

Martin Yedusky, claiming that he had purchased these goods from Joseph in good faith, and that he had known the goods ever of Constable Bertram's attachment upon the same, brought this action against the officers and against Rubinsky and his son, and one Isadore Landenstein, who was present at the time and assisted in the removal of the goods. The verdict included the value of the goods, $300, and damages to the amount of $175 and costs.

BEFORE THE JUSTICES.

The Usual Quota of Pay Day Cases Were Heard.

Justice Toomey disposed of the following cases Saturday night and yesterday: John Arawick beat his wife, Lizette, cutting her head and arm with a club. Dr. Stein attended the woman. The husband gave $300 bail for trial.

Mrs. Cherry was met in a Centre street store Saturday night by her former maid, mistress, Mrs. Bukawick, who asked payment of an old bill. Cherry attempted to strike the woman, but Mrs. Martella Lawson, the latter's companion, interfered and received the blow. Cherry gave $300 bail on Mrs. Lawson's complaint of assault and battery.

Simon Yakabitus was charged by Mrs. Mary Berinski with defrauding a boarding-house keeper out of $3. He paid the amount and costs.

Martin Baltzer was put under $300 bail for assaulting his wife, Eva.

Mrs. Cherry was put under $100 bail for throwing dirty water on the Sunday school of clothes that Anthony Musalowski had on yesterday.

Thomas Palatichak and Joe Keshella were committed in default of bail on a charge of assault and battery and are serving 48 hours for common nuisance. Both were arrested by Chief of Police Toth on charges made by Michael Pulaski, who had ordered the men from his premises on West Centre street without effect.

Justice Shoemaker put John Giza under $300 bail on a charge of assault and battery made by John Ogden.

The justice issued warrants for the arrest of Paul and Michael Sotia, on charges of assault and battery made by Joe Katranitz and his wife. The latter were invited to a christening in Bradley's row and attended. During the festivities a clock was broken and Katranitz was blamed for it. He says the Sotia brothers used fire wood on himself and wife. Dr. J. G. Church dressed Katranitz's right optic and stitched a head wound. He also bandaged one of Mrs. Katranitz's thighs.

At Kepeshnik's Arcade Cafe. Grand Army bean soup to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning.

Powder Mill Explosion. The dry house of the Shenandoah Powder Company's mill in the Catawissa Valley was blown up at about seven o'clock yesterday morning, causing damage to the amount of about $400. No person was about the place at the time and the cause of the explosion is not known. The dry house was about 30 by 60 feet and one story high. It was wrecked. About 150 keps of powder were destroyed.

Nelawender's, Cor. Main and Coal Sts. Grand Army bean soup to-night. Hot lunch to-morrow morning. Meals served at all hours.

Miss Kehler's Accident. On Saturday evening Miss Ida Kehler met with an accident at her residence on North Main street, by knocking her right arm at the elbow. The young lady was very fortunate as the accident happened at the top of the cellar stairway when she tripped on a piece of carpet. Had she fallen down the stairway the result would probably have been fatal.

Miss Morgan Complimented. At a musical given in Shamokin last Thursday evening complimentary to Mrs. Martha Griffith, of that place, on the sixty-sixth anniversary of her birthday, there were many artistic successes in which a young lady of this town figured prominently. The Shamokin News, in reporting the event, had this to say: "Miss Edith Morgan, of Shenandoah, was one of the stars of the evening, her sweet, well trained voice, exciting much interest. Miss Morgan's solos, 'O Loving Heart Trust On' and 'Dear Heart' were exquisitely given."

School Board Meeting. A regular monthly meeting of the School Board will be held on Wednesday evening, next, at 7 o'clock. It is probable that there will be an election of night school teachers. There are about three times as many applicants as there are vacancies.

THE MINE AND RAIL!

Three Fatal Accidents Have Been Added to the Record.

A MINER KILLED THIS MORNING.

Boy and a Man Died From Injuries Sustained on the P. & R. Railway Saturday Evening—A Narrow Escape in the Wm. Penn Colliery Slips This Morning.

Dimitrik Sharkov, a Hungarian 24 years of age residing at No. 12 North Bridge street, received injuries on the Indian Ridge colliery branch of the P. & R. railroad Saturday night from which he died within a few hours. It is not known just how the victim was injured. Some assert that the man was lying asleep on the track and others say he was riding on a coal train and was thrown off when the cars bumped. At about eight o'clock a trip of empty cars was run on the branch and shortly after Sharkov was found on the track badly mangled. Residents of the neighboring house picked up the victim and carried him to his home. Dr. W. N. Stein was called and after a brief examination he declared that nothing could be done for the man. Sharkov lost his left arm in the mines a few years ago, at least it was amputated at the shoulder. In the accident Saturday night this shoulder was hopelessly crushed, as well as several ribs on the right side of the chest, also sustained internal injuries. The deceased was unmarried.

KILLED IN THE MINES. At about eight o'clock this morning, a Hungarian named Alexander Gausfak, residing on West Raspberry alley, was instantly killed by a fall of coal in breast No. 3 of the East Primrose gangway, Maple Hill colliery. The deceased was engaged in drilling a hole when a large piece of coal fell upon him, crushing his head and breaking his neck. Gausfak was 30 years of age and left a wife and three small children. The wife was nursing her six weeks' old child when the ambulance containing the corpse of her husband stopped in front of the house. The distress of the unfortunate woman was pitiable.

A BOY KILLED. Daniel Cannon, aged nine years, was run over by a P. & R. coal train near Big Mine Run on Saturday evening, at about five o'clock, and both legs were cut off. He was removed to the mines' hospital, and died a few hours later. The unfortunate boy, with a number of companions, tried to board a south bound train when they discovered a north bound train approaching, and in trying to escape young Cannon was caught with the above result. The others escaped. The parents of the deceased reside at Big Mine Run.

KNOCKED OUT TIMBERS. Ten men descending the slope of the Wm. Penn colliery on a cage this morning had a narrow escape from serious injury. The cage struck and knocked out a set of timbers, all of which fortunately fell clear of the cage. Grant Detrey, of North Gilbert street, was struck on the left ankle by an end of the collar. He sustained bruises that will confine him to his home for a few days.

LEAGUE SEASON ENDED.

Both of the Leading Clubs Defeated in the Final Games.

The National League baseball season of 1897 ended on Saturday. Both of the leading clubs were defeated. Brooklyn giving the new champions a good drubbing and Washington defeating Baltimore. The scores in Saturday's games were: At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 15; Boston, 4. At Baltimore—Washington, 6; Baltimore, 3. At New York—Philadelphia, 18; New York, 5. At Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh, 7; Cleveland, 5. At Louisville—Cincinnati, 9; Louisville, 5. At St. Louis—Chicago, 8; St. Louis, 2.

The standing of the clubs at the end of the season is as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Club, W, L, P. Boston: 39-39-75; Washington: 31-49; Baltimore: 40-49-89; Pittsburgh: 50-71-47; New York: 38-48-88; Chicago: 50-73-47; Cleveland: 48-57-84; Philadelphia: 37-60-73; Louisville: 33-73-60; Brooklyn: 41-71-413; St. Louis: 20-102-221.

The Pope's Condition Serious. Rome, Oct. 4.—There is no change in the condition of the pope, as far as can be learned here. He continues very weak, and is said to have had fainting spells, but the dignitaries at the Vatican are very reticent. The fact that there is so much discussion as to his probable successor is significant of the condition of the supreme pontiff. Besides Cardinal Sottoli there are mentioned Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli and Cardinal Parocchi as likely to be the choice.

Last of the Troops Leave Manchester. Hanley, Pa., Oct. 4.—The battalion of troops still stationed here was withdrawn today. All the militia have now left. The miners are nearly all at work, and affairs here again resumed their normal condition.

Heavy Coal Shipments. The collieries controlled by the P. & R. C. & I. Co. worked six days last week, and as a consequence the railroads were kept busy. The same condition of things will prevail this week, as the collieries will again work a full week. The advance in the price of coal has created a big demand. Last week coal was rushed to market at the rate of 33 trains a day over the Reading road, or over 10,000 cars for the week. This is the heaviest shipment for many months and Mahanoy Plane and all the shipping points were kept busy. With the miners' wages 5 per cent. above the basis and a good demand for coal, the outlook for the region is bright.

Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil 75c the pint, at the CITY DAILY STORE, 107 South Main street. 9-27-97

Lost Child Found. Margaret Jones, a two-year-old child, strayed from the residence of John Fowler, on East Centre street, early this morning. She was found at about one o'clock this afternoon at the Cogrove residence at the eastern end of Centre street.

NATURALIZATION COURT.

A Number of Persons Made Application on Saturday.

Saturday was naturalization day at the county court, and Judge Bechtel had a busy day of it with the half hundred applicants, mostly Poles and Slavs. Some were after their first papers, and others for their final papers. S. M. Esterline and John O. Ulrich, Esqs., were present and rightly examined all the applicants in many instances offering objections to their being naturalized. The hearing began at 10 o'clock and was continued until 1 o'clock. Many of the applicants were refused the parchment desired.

A ballot was on the clerk's desk, which all applicants were required to explain how they would vote the different party tickets. This was one of the questions asked applicants from Shenandoah by the objectors: "Were you at the meeting at Shenandoah, on September 12th, to condemn the shooting at Lattimer by Sheriff Martin and his deputies?"

Dionis Redick, of Shenandoah, did not pass the ordeal. He could not tell where the administrative office of the President of the United States was located, or where the State laws are enacted. He said Wm. McKinley made the laws of the State. The Constitution of the State was read to him by "another fellow" from Russian print. To Mr. Esterline, who did much of the examining, he said about the national constitution: "I believe the national constitution is a church dues. This applicant, of course, was refused naturalization."

Mr. Ulrich entered objection to certain of the applicants who said they read the State Constitution in a Polish paper in Mahanoy City, adding that he is informed the constitution was not published in the paper alluded to. Each one was required to have at least one person to vouch for his good behavior and desirability as a citizen.

Two or three were refused citizenship because they desired to get rid of the three cent alien tax, while others were refused because they did not know what office the President of the United States held. In several instances, on Saturday, the applicants had a list of some of the applicants who were defendants in suits in the local courts during the past five years, and in each case entered an objection. Under the rules of court these applicants were refused papers.

Some of the applicants practically knew nothing about the National or State Government; couldn't tell where the President was. One lawyer, in disclosing that some of his clients were situated in this manner, sent them home to study. In some respects the hearing is considered a farce. The attorneys for the applicants know what questions are to be asked, and their clients are thoroughly drilled before going on the stand. In several instances, on Saturday, the applicants got a list of some of the applicants who were defendants in suits in the local courts during the past five years, and in each case entered an objection. Under the rules of court these applicants were refused papers.

Fiatterhoff Offer to Manager Hanlon. New York, Oct. 4.—The journal publishes the following: Edward Hanlon, the successful manager of the Baltimore Orioles, was recently the recipient of the most astonishing offer in the history of professional baseball. The owners of the Baltimore Orioles, who have had poor success in the pennant race for some years past, desired to secure the services of the great Baltimore manager. They invited him to a conference, and formally offered him a contract calling for $12,000 a year and a quarter interest in the club. Mr. Hanlon, however, declined to remain with Baltimore. The owners of the Philadelphia club also made an offer to engage Hanlon, but without success.

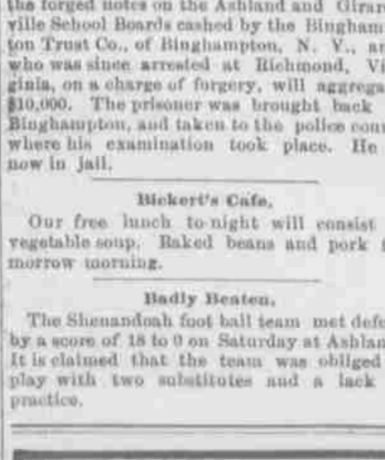

Kendrick House Free Lunch. Vegetable soup will be served, free, to all patrons to-night.

The Forger Captured. It is now believed that the fraudulent paper floated by A. J. Devereaux, who had the forged notes of the Ashland and Grandville School Bonds cashed by the Binghamville Trust Co. of Binghamton, N. Y., and who was since arrested at Richmond, Virginia, on a charge of forgery, will aggregate $10,000. The prisoner was brought back to Binghamton, and taken to the police court, where his examination took place. He is now in jail.

Bickert's Cafe. Our free lunch to-night will consist of vegetable soup, baked beans and pork to-morrow morning.

Bodly Heaten. The Shenandoah hot beam met defeat by a score of 18 to 9 on Saturday at Ashland. It is claimed that the team was obliged to play with two substitutes and a lack of practice.

CUBA FOR FREEDOM

No Compromise With Spain Except Absolute Independence.

WILLING TO PAY AN INDEMNITY!

Meantime Senator Sagasta, the New Premier, is Completing His Cabinet—Weyler May Be Recalled and May Refuse to Obey the Summons.

New York, Oct. 4.—The Herald prints a number of interviews with leading Cubans here on the situation in the island. The Cubans all declare that autonomy for the islands is out of the question, but most of them are in favor of paying Spain a reasonable indemnity, providing she evacuates the island at once.

Dr. Estrada Palma, representative of the Cuban provisional government, said: "To the Cuban patriots it makes little difference whether a Liberal or Conservative ministry directs affairs in Spain. A change in government in Spain does not alter the case of the Cubans. They are now more firmly determined than ever to push the fight until the absolute independence of Cuba is acknowledged. I believe the Cubans are willing to pay a reasonable indemnity to Spain provided she withdraws her troops from Cuba before the island is completely ruined."

Enrique J. De Varona said: "I believe autonomy would complicate, far from solving, the Cuban situation. Absolute independence is the aspiration of the immense majority of the Cuban people. Cuba needs a definite political regime. Spanish autonomy would not give it to the island. The only practical solution of the Cuban problem is absolute independence."

Dr. Henry Lincoln De Zayas said: "The Cubans are and have always been, ready to treat with Spain with a view to cessation of hostilities provided the island be free. But to avoid further shedding of blood of innocent people I would, though painfully, sign and give my consent to a compensation to Spain for the sake of getting rid of the Spanish."

E. Trujillo, editor of El Porvenir said: "The Cubans are fighting for absolute independence and will accept no other solution." Brigadier Eugenio Sanchez Aguirre, surgeon general of the Cuban army, said: "Cubans are firmly determined to fight until absolute independence is accomplished. But a few conditions must be met. First, provided the sum is reasonable, will be paid by them to Spain, in order to avoid a prolongation of the struggle."

Regarding the plan for the purchase of Cuba from the Spanish government General Emelino Nunez, who for the past ten days has been in consultation with the junta leaders in New York, said: "I cannot see how the plans for the freedom of Cuba on the basis of a guarantee to Spain by the United States of an indemnity of $200,000,000 in cash can be displeasing to any of the parties, except that the amount is greatly in excess of the true value of the relief to be afforded by the United States. The effort to back up the proposition, because it would have the revenue of Cuba to guarantee reimbursement, and would gain immediate improvements of its trade relations."

PREMIER SAGASTA'S TASK. General Weyler Might Refuse to Obey Orders if Recalled.

Madrid, Oct. 4.—Senator Sagasta, the Liberal leader, has been entrusted by the queen regent with the task of forming a new cabinet, in succession to the Sagasta cabinet which was completed and announced today. General Canales has accepted the portfolio of minister of war, and Admiral Benigno becomes minister of marine.

It is perfectly understood in Madrid that General Weyler is the cause of the ministerial crisis. The queen as well as the cabinet object to his continuation in Cuba. But a strong military party, mostly composed of officers who have obtained promotions and decorations from General Weyler during his previous military campaign, support him in Madrid. They have become insistent, and the queen has refused to recall him. Another strong military party in Cuba, composed of the same sort of men, threaten hostile demonstrations in case General Weyler is not recalled.

Weyler is entirely capable of disobeying orders if recalled. As captain general of the Canary Islands, on a previous occasion, he refused to obey orders of recall, and the government had to resort to energetic measures to compel his obedience. Weyler now declares that he has a contract with the Spanish government, and that by that contract he is given two years for ending the war in Cuba, and that the term has not expired.

The ministerial changes will not affect the instructions which United States Minister Woodford originally received from President McKinley. Both General Woodford and Senator Sagasta, the premier, maintain absolute reserve on the question of American relations to Spain. Leading Liberals, however, declare that Spain can never officially accept American mediation in Cuban affairs.

A Mighty Nice Thing for Coughs. What? Pan-Tin, etc. At Grahler Bros., drug store.

Judgment Against the Controller. In the case of Constable Andrew Gillespie, vs. Controller Severn, for refusing to countersign a bill of $25 in favor of the constable, the defendant failed to appear and Squire Daily, of McAdoo, gave judgment in favor of Gillespie. The Controller considers the bill exorbitant and very wisely refused to sign the voucher. The Controller will likely contest in court.
