Washington Oct. II.—It is stated on good authority that Mr. E. De Kotzebue, the Russian minister to the United States, who is new at St. Petersburg on a leave of absence, has decided not to return to this country. His reasons for this are said to be of a family character, It is also said that the minister's health is not so robust as when he first came to Washington. The announcement of his successor is expected within a reasonable time.
