The Cases of Tabor's Creditors is Proceed-

The proceedings in the Tabor and Sayd towaki cases were resumed in the office of M. M. Burke, Esq., yesterday afternoon. The counsel for the cruditors are now bending afforts to produce evidence contradicting the testimenty of Tabor and Szydlowski. Yescommend for the creditors are now bending efforts to produce evidence contradicting the storing is sension was a short one. The creditors put William Neiswender on the stand as an expert on horses. He swore that he sold several of the borses Tabor ewood and fixed their value at a much higher figure than Tabor did in his evidence. The winces did not testify to all the horses and admitted that he had made no close examination. His judgment was based upon seeing the horses pass him ou the street. He placed the value
