STOCK AND PRODUCT HARKETS.

Presence by Bears Forces Prices Down One to Four Poluts.

New York New, 5—The stock market inderwent a course of very drastic liquidation today, as a result of which prices are from one to four points hower than they were last hight. That this course of things was helped along by professional bear present covering movement which developed in the final half hour of trading and which railled the prices of a great many stocks over a point from the lowest point touched, reducing by so much the bases which would otherwise be shown by the day's trading. But this recovery at the close was on a greatly diminished volume of business and was appearantly affected by the importary withholding of liquidation offerings, as was done once of twice proviously during the day, only to be succeeded by renewed liquidation and decline.
