London, Nov. 26.—Over three hundred American men and women and a few English personscelebrated Thanksgiving Day by a dinner at the Hotel Cocil inst night. The party included John Has, the United States ambassaide, and his wife and daughter; Henry White, secretary of the embassy; Lord Strathsons and Mountroyal, of Canada, Archedrate some some and Mountroyal, of Canada, Archedrate some and Mountroyal, of Canada, Archedrate some and Mountroyal, of Canada, Archedrate don, was ornamented with American and British flags, and over the seat of the chairman was an enormous eagle. The list of tosats was long. The health of Queen Victoria was proposed by the chairman, who read a letter, dated Windsor Castle, from Sir Arthur John Ambassador Hay responded with a bright speech. He sketched the origin of the day, which began, he said, "in that pathetic thank offering of our forefathers when they were keeping alight the spark of freedom which was destined to kindle into such a beacom blaze enlightening and admonishing the world. Some of our peculiar institutions," continued Mr. Hay, "thank Heaven we have lost. The worst passed away in the tempest of the war it cansed, but this the most unquestionably peculiar of all, we can trust to abide with us forever and forever.
